Reference of Assembly Bills

28. When an Assembly bill has been received by the Senate, with a message announcing that it has passed the Assembly, and that it is sent the first time, it may be referred by the President to a standing committee; provided, however, that when an Assembly bill is received the text of which is found by a majority to be identical with that of a Senate bill which has already been considered and reported by a standing committee of the Senate, such Assembly bill shall be referred to that committee on Engrossment, Enrolled and Printing the committee, upon receiving shall report without delay whether or not such bill is identical with the Senate bill. If reported identical, such Assembly bill shall be substituted for the Senate bill, shall take its place on the second reading, and be considered as having received the same committee recommendations as the Senate bill, provided that the fact that the bills are identical shall be entered in the Journal. Such Senate bill shall thereupon be placed upon the file of unfinished business.

Reference of Appropriation Bills

29. All bills appropriating money from any fund shall be referred to the Committee on Finance before being read the second time. Concurrent resolutions for appropriation shall be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Notice to Author of Bill

30. The chairman or clerk of each committee of the Senate shall notify the author of any bill or resolution pending before such committee of the hour and place of hearing or acting upon such bill or proceeding.

Committee Amendments to Bills

31. When amendments to a bill are reported by a committee offered from the floor or submitted by a Special Committee of One, such amendments shall be submitted in triplicate, two copies to go to the Secretary of the Senate and one to the Minute Clerk.

Reports of Committees

32. All committees shall act upon bills referred to them as soon as practicable, and when acted upon each bill shall be reported back to the Senate forthwith, and the chairman of each committee is charged with the observance of this rule; provided, that the Senate may at any time, by a majority vote, read a bill from any committee.

Order of Considering Bills.

Order of Making Files.

33. When bills are reported from committees they shall be placed upon the General File, to be kept by the Secretary as follows. All bills when reported to the Senate by the committee shall be placed at the foot of the second reading file.

in the order in which the reports are made, and after the second reading they shall be placed at the foot of the third reading file, in the order of reading, and precedence shall be given in the consideration of bills in the following order: Second reading file and third reading file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. The bills upon third reading shall be considered in the order in which they appear upon the file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by vote of majority of the members present; such vote to be taken by roll call; provided, that if a bill is passed on file for any reason, other than absence of the author by leave of the Senate, note of the fact shall be made in the General File, and when passed on file a second time, the bill shall be ordered at the foot of the file, and notice of the fact of the bill having been passed on file prior to the order placing it at the foot of the file shall be omitted from the General File.

The General File.

34. The General File shall be the special order for each day between such hours as the Senate may determine, unless sooner disposed of; but no bill shall lose its place upon the file by expiration of the time or by adjournment of the Senate while it is under consideration.

Special Order.

35. Any subject may, by vote of a majority of those voting, be made a special order, and when the time fixed for its consideration arrives, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

Three Readings of Bills.

36. Every bill shall be read on three several days previous to its passage (unless in case of urgency, two-thirds of the membership of the Senate in which it is being considered shall by vote of the ayes and noes dispense with this provision).

Ordering Bills to Third Reading.

37. After being read the second time bills shall be ordered by the President to third reading (or, in the case of Senate bills, to engrossment and third reading). When any member makes objection to any bill thus being ordered to third reading, the final question for such bill shall be "Shall the bill be ordered to third reading?"

Bills Considered During Last Seven Days.

38. No Senate bill shall be passed by the Senate within seven days of the time set for adjournment sine die of the two houses of the Legislature unless permission to vote on such a bill be granted by a three-fourths vote of the entire membership of the Senate, voting by roll call.

Questions and Motions.

39. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but the following privileged questions, which shall have precedence in the following order:

1. To adjourn.
2. For a call of the Senate.
3. To lay on the table.
4. To postpone to a day certain.
5. To commit.
6. To amend.
7. To postpone indefinitely.

Provided, however, that during a call of the Senate, it may consider and transact any matter or business that the Senators then present shall unanimously decide to consider, but no call of the Senate shall be had, during a call of the Senate, on any matter so taken up or considered while the Senate is under call. When a call of the Senate is ordered, pending the completion of a roll call, the pending roll call shall become unfinished business, the consideration of which shall be continued until further proceedings under the call of the Senate are dispensed with, when it will forthwith become the order of business before the Senate.

Amendment or Division of Question.

40. An amendment may be laid on the table without prejudice to the bill. When an amendment proposed to any pending measure shall be laid on the table, it shall not carry with it or prejudice such measure.

If the question in debate contains several propositions, any Senator may have the same divided; except a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition, nor shall it prevent a motion to simply strike out, nor shall the rejection of a motion to strike out prevent a motion to strike out and insert; but pending a motion to strike out and insert, the part to be stricken out and the part to be inserted shall each be regarded, for the purpose of amendment, as a question. Motions to amend the part to be stricken out shall have precedence.

Restrictions as to Amendments

41. A substitute or amendment must relate to the same subject as the original bill, resolution or constitutional amendment under consideration.

Vote Required for Amendments

42. A constitutional amendment or bill requiring a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate for final adoption or passage may be passed by a majority of those voting.

Procedure of Debate.Seconding and Announcement of Motion

43. No motion shall be debated until the same be seconded and distinctly announced by the President, and it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the President or any Senator, and read by the Secretary before the same shall be debated.

Regulations as to Speaking

44. 1. When a Senator desires to address the Senate, he shall rise at his place, address the President, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak.

2. No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill, without leave; and Senators who have had spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor except for explanation, so long as one Senator who has not spoken desires to speak.

3. No Senator shall be interrupted when speaking, and no Senator shall be asked him except those through the presiding officer.

4. The author of a bill, motion, or resolution shall have the privilege of closing the debate.

Securing of the Floor.

45. When two or more Senators arise at the same time to address the Senate, the presiding officer shall designate the Senator who is entitled to the floor.

Order in Debate

46. When a Senator shall be called to order he shall sit down until the President shall have determined whether he is in order or not; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, subject to his appeal to the Senate by last Senator. If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the subsequent language shall immediately be taken down in writing by the Secretary of the Senate.

The Previous Question.

47. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the question be now put?" It shall be admitted only when requested by a majority of the Senators present upon division, and its effect shall be to put on and to all debate except that the author of the bill or the amendments shall have the right to rise, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote. On a motion for the previous question prior to a vote being taken by the Senate, a call of the Senate shall be in order.

Executive Session

48. When a motion is adopted to close the doors of the Senate, on the discussion of any business which may, in the opinion of the Senate, require an executive session, the President shall require all persons except the Senators, President of the Senate, Secretary, Minute Clerk, and Sergeant at Arms, to withdraw, and during the discussion of said business the doors shall remain closed. Every Senator and officer present shall keep secret all matters and proceedings concerning which secrecy shall be enjoined by order of the Senate.

Voting by Senate.Calling Ayes and Noes.

49. When the ayes and noes shall be called for by three members present, every member within the bar of the Senate at the time the question was put shall declare openly, and without debate, assent or dissent to the question. In taking the ayes and noes, and upon call of the Senate, the names of the Senators shall be taken alphabetically. When the ayes and noes shall be taken upon any question on pursuance of this rule, no Senator shall be permitted, under any circumstances whatever, to vote after the announcement of the vote by the presiding officer.

Excused from Voting.

50. When a Senator declines to vote on a call of his name he shall be required to assign his reasons therefor, and having assigned them, the presiding officer shall submit the question to the Senate: "Shall the Senator, for the reasons assigned by him, be excused from voting?" which shall be decided without debate. And those proceedings shall be had after the roll call and before the result is announced, and any further proceedings in reference thereto shall be after such announcement.

Reconsideration of Vote.

51. On the day succeeding that on which a final vote on any bill, concurrent or joint resolution, or constitutional amendment has been taken, said vote may be reconsidered on motion of any Senator; provided, notice of intention to move such reconsideration shall have been given on the day on which such final vote was taken, by a Senator voting with the prevailing side; and it shall not be in order to reconsider on the day on which such final vote was taken. Said motion for reconsideration shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn. It shall require twenty-one votes to carry any motion to reconsider the vote by which any bill, concurrent or joint resolution, has been passed or defeated, fourteen votes to reconsider the vote by which any constitutional amendment has been passed, and twenty-seven votes to carry any motion to reconsider the vote by which any constitutional amendment has been defeated. Notice of reconsideration of the vote by which a Senate bill was passed, or a Senate joint resolution, Senate concurrent resolution or Senate constitutional amendment adopted, shall not be in order on or after the eighth day preceding the last day of the session. No notice of reconsideration shall be in order on the day preceding the last day of the session.

When Bill Is Held for Reconsideration.

52. If a Senator gives notice that he intends to move a reconsideration, the Secretary shall not transmit the bill, concurrent or joint resolution, or constitutional amendment to the Assembly till the reconsideration is disposed of, or the time for moving the same has expired, unless the bill or resolution has already been transmitted to the Assembly.

When a Bill Is Recalled for Reconsideration.

53. When a bill, resolution, amendment, order or message upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate and been communicated to the Assembly, a motion to reconsider shall be preceded by a motion to request the Assembly to return the same, which last-named motion shall be acted upon immediately and without debate, and if determined in the negative shall be a final disposition of the motion to reconsider.

Debate on Motion to Reconsider.

54. A Senator, after a notice to reconsider is given, as provided in Rule 53, shall, at the reconsideration thereof, present the main question in his argument thereon, and the same shall be debated by the Senate, provided that the subject matter is debatable, and the vote on reconsideration shall be on the merits of the main question.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate

At this time I would like to have an official note inscribed on the minutes of the Senate in the nature of a token of appreciation of the 22 years of faithful and steadfast service rendered this Senate by John T. "Casey" Young, whom so many of you know and esteem.

Owing to ill health, Mr. Young was not able to again undertake the duties he so splendidly performed in the office of the Sergeant at Arms. Through me he has sent his good wishes to each of you with the recollection of the many courtesies shown him and in turn shown you by him. I know you all regret he is not with us by reason of indisposition, and with me you will wish him a bright and happy New Year and a speedy return to his usual health.

I feel the recording of our appreciation in the Senate Journal of this day is a slight token which most certainly should be given a place in the official record of our proceedings. "Casey" and his connection are indelibly inscribed in the book of memory as a colorful and enduring picture.

Of the Constitution:

Section 5. The returns of every election for Governor shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government directed to the Speaker of the Assembly, who shall, during the first week of the session, open and publish them in the presence of both houses of the Legislature. The person having the highest number of votes shall be Governor; but in case any two or more have an equal and highest number of votes, the Legislature shall, by joint vote of both houses, choose one of such persons so having an equal and the highest number of votes for Governor.

Section 15. A Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the same time and place and in the same manner, as the Governor, and his term of office and his qualifications shall be the same. He shall be President of the Senate, but shall have only a casting vote therein.

Of the Political Code:

Section 1292. When an election has been held to fill the office of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, the clerk of each county, in addition to the abstract made for transmission to the Secretary of State, must as soon as the statement of the vote of his county is made out and entered upon the returns of the board of supervisors make two certified abstracts of so much thereof as relates to the vote given for each officer.

Section 1293. The clerk must seal up each abstract separately, and indorse thereon "Election Returns for Governor and Lieutenant Governor."

Section 1294. He must at once deliver one copy to the Speaker of the Assembly, next to meet, address it to Sacramento, California, and deposit it, postpaid, in the post office.

Section 1295. The other copy he must direct and address, in the same manner, and at once deliver it to a member-elect of the Legislature, or to a Senator who holds over; and the person to whom it is so delivered must deliver it to the Speaker on or before the second day next after his election.

Section 1296. The returns of election for Governor and Lieutenant Governor must, during the first week of the session, be opened, canvassed, and the result declared by the Speaker of the Assembly, in presence of both houses.

Section 1297. No declaration of the result, canvassing or otherwise, must be withheld on account of any defect or informality in the return of any election if it can with reasonable certainty be ascertained from such return what office is intended, and who is elected thereto.

Introduction of Governor Frank F. Merriam

Hon. W. P. Rich, President pro tempore of the Senate, addressed the Joint Convention as follows:

Fellow Members of the Legislature and Fellow Citizens of California:

It is extremely difficult for me to tell you with words weight and distinction that I appear before you as your representative in executing your wishes and governing to the Governor of the State of California. Our Governor needs no introduction. The members of this Legislature know him as well as I. He was a member of the Assembly for several years. He has been a member of the Senate and he has served one term as Lieutenant Governor of the State of California. No man in the State is better qualified by experience than he is for the position he holds.

As members of the Legislature, we know that there is ahead of us for this coming session some of the greatest problems that ever faced the Legislature of the State of California.

In such trying times the Legislature and the people of the State of California are extremely fortunate in having as their Governor a man of so much experience and of such outstanding ability.

The people of the State of California are looking to this Legislature for some help and for a constructive program which will grant relief to its citizens. With such a great leader to guide us, I know we can do this.

Governor Merriam, on behalf of the members of the Legislature of California sitting here today in Joint Convention, I welcome you and greet you as Governor of the State of California and I pledge to you their hearty cooperation and support to make your administration one of progress and of justice.

Inaugural Address of Governor Frank F. Merriam

Governor Frank F. Merriam proceeded to address the Joint Convention as follows:

Inaugural Address of Governor Frank F. Merriam

Delivered to the Senate and Assembly in Joint Session Tuesday, January 8, 1935.
Members of the California Senate and Assembly:

As the representatives of the people in the legislative branch of the State government, I welcome you to Sacramento for the opening session of the State Legislature. We meet here under conditions that rob this session of our common advantages of every influence and issue not vitally concerned with the public welfare and the exceedingly grave problems immediately ahead.

The people of California expect from you and from me at this time the fullest exercise of intelligent, devoted, energetic and unselfish attention to the critical problems confronting this commonwealth.

Confidence and Cooperation Necessary.

And if you perceive a disposition on my part in the remarks I shall make to you today, or in later messages I may submit to you, to stress the imperative need for cooperation and confidence between the executive and the legislative agencies of the government, let me say now with all the emphasis at my command that only by the widest application of such cooperation and confidence can essential results be obtained.

In no perfunctory or formal manner, but wholeheartedly and earnestly, I assure you that you may rely at all times upon my readiness to give sympathetic attention to your views and to confer with you individually or collectively upon any and all matters having your attention.

We must not come here as Republicans or as Democrats, or as the representatives of any political party, but as Californians—charged with the responsibility and inspired by the opportunity to serve our people and our State.

If there is any one among us who has come to the State Capital seeking merely to accomplish personal ends, or to further the selfish interests of any class or faction or section, that individual is not only misguided, but is blind to the nature of the trust which all of us share in common.

Public Service Only Issue.

Public necessity, the security of our people, the employment of our citizens, the protection of our homes, the relief of destitution and suffering, the restoration of our constructive economic processes, and the wider and greater enjoyment of the full range of social justice and basic human rights should have, and must have, our undivided, unremitting, and unselfish care.

The next three or four months will mark an epoch in California's history. It is your opportunity, and mine, to labor so diligently, to attain results so effectively, to serve so faithfully, that this epochal period shall hereafter be regarded as a milestone in the progress and in the development of good government.

For if we fail to measure up to the requirements of the emergency with which we are faced; if we do not expeditiously and ably discharge our several duties; if we complicate and increase rather than eliminate and solve the problems of our people—then it shall be said of us that we lacked the capacity and the vision required to render the valuable public service which the people entrusted to us.

Future Outlook Is Promising.

I fear no such misfortune; rather I am filled with optimism and with confidence. We shall succeed, and our success will be interpreted in terms of greater security, happiness, and prosperity for the people of California.

We are entering upon a year of promise and of hope. Our courage is high; and if we soberly recognize the need for renewed effort and for continued service and sacrifice in the interests of our fellow citizens needing and meriting our consideration and care, we are prepared to carry our burdens uncomplainingly and with stout hearts.

With respect to all the methods to be employed or all the steps to be taken in attempting a solution of our many perplexing problems, we may not always see alike, but in the main we are in accord as to the ends to be attained; we have a common goal—service to the people.

With such an understanding, and in such a spirit, I earnestly pray we may proceed.

Government Alone Can Not Indefinitely Meet Emergency.

In this era of unprecedented dislocation of ordinary economic forces, the people have been required by necessity to look to National, State and local government for a coordination and the effective use of all their resources.

This condition has prevailed, and to an increasing extent, for almost five years.

Now, hope is revived that the normal activities of industry, agriculture, business, and commerce will steadily improve to a point where the initiative and enterprise of our citizens will once again afford full opportunity for the employment of all our able-bodied citizens and for the proper and useful expansion of our productive enterprises.

But as fondly as some may believe, and as earnestly as others may hope, government itself can not indefinitely assume the responsibility for meeting all the demands of this depression and this emergency.

People Themselves Are Masters of Their Destiny.

Government, if it be intelligent, efficient, and devoted, can aid in the solution of these problems. Government can be the medium through which an enlightened people can express their ideals and their aspirations, but government can not permanently assume responsibilities which the private citizen and private business must eventually discharge if our people are to remain free and independent.

Before we shall attain complete economic balance, however, we must eliminate the evils which aggravated, and which, in fact, contributed to the collapse of the old economic order from which we now are emerging.

Furthermore, as much as the necessity is to be regretted, we must for some time to come continue to pay the price of some of our mistakes, of our wastefulness, our extravagance, our disregard, as a people, of many of the ordinary safeguards which we should have placed around our activities both in private enterprises and in governmental policies and functions.

Sound Financial Basis Essential to Security.

Of primary importance at this time, from the standpoint of an efficient administration of State functions, is the need for placing the government of California on a sound financial basis.

This we must do without imposing intolerable taxes upon the people and without undertaking obligations not absolutely essential to the public service.

As the first step in such a direction, we must adopt a program that will enable us to keep our expenditures below our income.

The mere accomplishment of a balanced State budget is in itself unimportant unless it definitely reflects an intelligent management of the people's business.

In the efforts of myself and those working under my direction to gain a full understanding of the State's financial needs and of measures that must be taken to meet those needs, we have kept in mind the two important facts that no tax is popular, and that no tax system can be permanent and supported unless it is equitable and in no sense discriminatory.

Need for Tax Revision and Adjustments Recognized.

I have been deeply impressed with the general feeling upon the part of citizens everywhere in the State that taxes must be temporarily increased and that the so-called tax base must be broadened to get revenues from new sources, but I have been equally struck by the fact that both individuals and groups are desirous to feel that "the other fellow" should be called upon to bear the added burden.

This is natural, and particularly so at a time when the national scene upon the income and resources of individuals and business organizations represents a genuine hardship.

Yet it is obvious that if government is to survive and if the needs of the people in this emergency are to be properly served, public funds must be raised and disbursed.

Ours is the difficult and perhaps thankless task to see to it that no one citizen, nor dollar be sought from the taxpayers, that no injustice be worked, that the individual or the corporation, or the business institution, pay all their equity and necessary demand.

Within a short time I shall submit to you a biennial budget for 1935-1937 together with a tax program designed to meet budget requirements. We will compare the current biennium with a deficit of approximately $30,000,000. If we do not adjust our tax needs and our tax program to the emergency conditions now confronting us, we shall have a further deficit of approximately $100,000,000 during the next biennial period.

Such conditions prevail despite a determined and widespread policy of retrenchment and economy in the administration of State functions subject to the jurisdiction and direction of the Legislature and of the Governor.

Human Needs Come First.

Human needs demand and should receive first consideration; they must be served as long as society exists and government is maintained.

To such a service we must bring not alone the words of our mouths and the wishes of our hearts, we must contribute the labor of our hands and the intelligent and practical attention of our minds.

It is impossible at this time to estimate either the extent or the exact nature of the unemployment relief program which California, in cooperation with the Federal government, will be called upon to carry out. This is a continuing obligation, however, which we neither can nor desire to shirk.

Cooperation with Federal Relief Program Assured.

The State and Federal governments are in accord on the general aspects of the relief program. The $24,000,000 relief bond issue approved by the Legislature in special session last September and ratified by the voters of California in November, soon will be available for use.

While it is my purpose to administer State relief policies according to my best judgment as to local needs, I am likewise determined to maintain close contact with Federal relief authorities and to carry on relief activities in California in close harmony with the policies and wishes of the National administration.

Upon this phase of our State affairs I shall have more to say when officers of the National government have indicated their views of certain steps already taken by me to carry out further development of our relief program.

President's Work Program Approved.

I am in hearty accord with the announcement of President Roosevelt that every needy unemployed man and woman who is able to work should be required to do so in exchange for compensation from employment either by private business or upon some governmental or public project.

To the care of the disabled, the aged, and the sick, every consideration should be given. There is an obligation here which as a people we have never fully understood or assumed. In the future, society will meet this responsibility not only in justice to the individual, but as a protection to society itself.

The hazards and the hardships encountered by the common man have been immeasurably increased and complicated during the last five years. Ours is the duty, so far as we are able, to overcome and remove such handicaps as they are imposed upon the citizenship of our own State.

California is a fertile and a fruitful land. Our natural resources are abundant, and sufficient for many generations to come if wisely utilized and properly conserved. As a people, we are industrious, progressive, and enlightened. Our public and private institutions are sound. Our wellbeing is assured as long as we act for the common good and with an understanding of our common needs.

Biennial Message to Present State's Problems.

In the regular biennial message of the Governor, which I am preparing, and which I shall present to you without unnecessary delay, I shall discuss in detail all of the various subjects and public issues which you and I will be expected to consider and upon which we must act during this legislative session.

While it is not in any sense my purpose to ask you to accept and approve, without mature consideration and discussion, such proposals as I may make to you in the furtherance of my administrative program, it is my earnest hope and expectation that your deliberations will result in expeditious handling of the business I shall place before you.

Furthermore, from my own years of experience as a legislator, I feel I may say that your success as a legislative body will be determined more by the quality, the clarity, the justice, and the effectiveness of the laws you enact than by their multiplicity and complexity.

Legislature Responsible to the People Alone.

Here in this historic State Capitol you are the independent representatives of the people, to whom alone you owe your allegiance and your duty.

Let no special interest, no selfish pleader, no secret influence intrude.

You have my best wishes and throughout the session to come you shall at all times have my assistance and support in evolving a workable program which, in its broad aspects, will encompass efficient and economic administration of government, relief of distress, and eventual reconstruction, recovery and stability.

Very promptly I shall lay before you such information and recommendations as I feel merit your consideration and official action.

Administration of Oath of Office.

Hon. George J. Hatfield took and subscribed to the following oath of office, administered by Hon. A. F. St. Sure, United States District Judge:

I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the State of California, and I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of Lieutenant Governor of the State of California to the best of my ability, so help me God.

Introduction of Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield.

Hon. Edward Craig, Speaker of the Assembly, addressed the Joint Convention as follows:

It is my pleasure and privilege to present to the members of this Joint Convention, Hon. George J. Hatfield, the Lieutenant Governor-elect of the State of California.

I deem this a personal pleasure, for George Hatfield has been a friend of mine of long years' standing, and we have worked together in the American Legion during the many years of our association.

George Hatfield is a member of a pioneer family; he received his education in the public schools of California and is a graduate of Stanford University. He is a veteran, having answered the call of the President during the World War.

For seven and one-half years George Hatfield was the United States District Attorney for northern California, which is a record, no other person having served for that length of time in this position.

One and one-half million people in California expressed their confidence in the ability of George J. Hatfield to perform the duties of the office of Lieutenant Governor. I know that all of the people of California will be well, sincerely and faithfully served by Mr. Hatfield as Lieutenant Governor.

Members of the Senate and Assembly in Joint Convention, I now present to you George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor-elect.

Address by Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield.

Inaugural Address of Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield

California, during the four years just passed, passed a period of tremendous importance, an era of tremendous confusion and rebelling about several years of distress and upheaval which have shaken the very foundations of our social and economic order.

Both to California and the entire Nation it is the most significant period since the critical years of reconstruction which came in the aftermath of the Civil War.

And the course which California, nation and humanity, a course which must be determined in large measure during the next few years just mentioned, was undoubtedly have a vital bearing on the future of California government and the welfare of California citizens for generations to come.

More than that, it is of National and international consequence, for California has been made the first major battleground of the changing order.

What we do here, in the months just passed we will determine, in large degree, whether we can have social justice within California. It will determine whether we can have a liberal and progressive idealism, with a proper regard for human rights and human needs, without compromise.

And in all honesty, we must recognize the fact that unless the impact of capitalism are removed, unless we put our hands to the wheel and restore faith in the economic fairness and in those of our governmental and business and industrial institutions—we shall reap the whirlwind of our own culture, ignorance and immaturity.

The recent revolt against the established order in California was not without cause. And we need not be in sympathy with many of the persons concerned during that revolt to have a quick sympathy for the masses suffering and distress which gave it birth.

So long as we have widespread unemployment and want and need in California, we shall have the seeds of revolution in California. So long as we have a thing of "special privilege" in California which permits tax evasion by a favored few, at the expense of the average taxpayer, we shall have public distrust of our public institutions.

I am not, in this address today, making commitments or engaging in a program of fault-finding. In fact, I believe that California, since, in a whole, we are at least equally responsible with California officials for the limitations of our tax system and the many other shortcomings of government. None of us, or at least very few of us—had taken our responsibilities as citizens very seriously during the last years of prosperity. And public government, after all, is meant to better our lives, not to harm them, but the populace behind it.

During the depression if we learned no other lesson, we learned that SELFISHNESS AND GREED ARE BAD PUBLIC POLICY. We had our wars with a reckless abandon, we had about come to have a contempt for such things about in early American as equity and justice, honesty and humanity. We had engaged our and loose with our government and carelessly "Mailed in politicians" for governmental abuses.

And finally LIFE CAUGHT UP WITH US. Finally we came to the inevitable reckoning for our belief of gambling and plunging.

Today, after four years of depression, which has touched virtually every home and every family, I think we are all a little tired of insecurity. I think—and I sincerely hope—that we are all ready to admit that there can be no true love of country without consideration for the rights and welfare of our neighbors who comprise the country.

I believe, as Americans, that we are fast acquiring a new concept of loyalty to our own fellow Americans. And in that new spring of an old season, I believe, lies the real hope of rebuilding our business and industrial structure, providing our idle workers and securing for every worker a fairer share of his production.

If we are entirely honest, we must recognize that many of the virtues of the depression—given the same open gates, the same natural equipment, preparation and environment, as we have been given—would not today be begging for bread and pleading for work but would be enjoying the comforts now denied them.

We might even admit, if we are thoroughly candid with ourselves, that much of our good fortune in not being numbered among the unemployed and destitute is, in fact, JUST GOOD FORTUNE—the whim of circumstances which gave us a certain parentage, a certain native ability, a certain resourcefulness and a fair measure of preparation to equip us for the battle with life.

I am not, today, discounting individual initiative, which has been the mainspring in the upbuilding of California and America, but I am appealing for a new spirit of cooperation in solving common problems; a new appreciation of the other fellow's problems and a recognition that human need must come first in the new scheme of things, regardless of the cost and regardless even of a balanced or an unbalanced budget.

Many of us, as candidates, made pledges during the recent campaign—pledges that we would work for a 30-hour week in private and public business, for unemployment insurance and old age pensions, for a more equitable distribution of the tax load—and, in short, for a new order of social justice!

I believe we meant those pledges. I believe we owe it to ourselves, as well as to the voters of California, to do everything humanly possible to make them realities.

Governor Merriam, I am confident, will do all in his power to keep faith with the voters—and, as Lieutenant Governor, I will give him every possible assistance in making his program of reconstruction and recovery a success.

The immediate problem before us is to care for the unemployed and destitute until they can be returned to gainful employment. And regardless of every other consideration, the hungry MUST be fed; the needy MUST be cared for. But beyond this immediate task, there is the greater task of maintaining the advantage already gained in the battle for recovery and in restoring our people to a normal degree of security and independence.

I believe we can all cooperate in the solution of these problems—and the many other critical problems before us—without regard to narrow partisanship.

Whether we are Republicans or Democrats, we can and should honestly support President Roosevelt in his earnest and untiring efforts to help the American people through a period of crisis. And we owe the same unselfish, nonpartisan support to Governor Merriam and his administration in their efforts to chart a course to better and happier days in California.

I am not appealing, however, for blind acceptance of any program which may be suggested, or for unquestioning, unthinking loyalty to any leadership. The President of the United States and the Governor of California are entitled to our vigorous support and help when we believe they are right, and they are also entitled to intelligent and helpful criticism when we believe they are wrong. But in this period of emergency, above all else they both deserve complete freedom from petty partisan heckling and the selfish interference of political obstructionists.

There are both Republicans and Democrats in the army of the unemployed. And both Republicans and Democrats should join whole-heartedly in putting them back to work!

The task of caring for the thousands of jobless and destitute in California is made doubly difficult by the fact that our tax sources have run dry—by the fact that we must raise approximately $130,000,000 to wipe out the present general fund deficit and effect a balance between normal income and normal outgo for the coming two years.

It is of primary importance in maintaining California's credit as a State that we balance the State budget. But it is also of primary importance that California's fine reputation for progressive and humanitarian legislation—for splendid educational facilities and for agencies which safeguard the rights and welfare of our workers—be maintained.

We have a regard for the humanities in California more priceless than the excellent credit rating of our securities. If it requires additional taxation to care for California men, women and children during a period of distress, we must find new tax sources. But we must, I believe, recognize that new taxes must be levied on ability to pay, rather than merely on the old theory of services rendered, or benefits obtained.

Those who HAVE must pay toward the support of those who HAVE NOT. And any refusal on the part of our great corporations and more wealthy taxpayers to accept their just share of the burden will inevitably fan the flames of radicalism and threaten the overthrow of our whole business and industrial structure.

We can and will achieve reconstruction in California without revolution. But we can not, in my opinion, achieve it without adopting a new policy of "live and let live"—a policy which places human rights above property rights and man above the dollar!

Benediction.

Most Rev. Robert Armstrong, D.D., Bishop of Sacramento.

Hon. William P. Rich, President pro tempore of the Senate, in the chair.

Lieutenant Governor Escorted to Chair.

President pro tempore William P. Rich presented Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield to the Senate.

Address by Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield.

Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield then addressed the Senate as follows:

Senators:

The proprieties of this occasion probably require a few words from me who is grateful to the people for the honor heretofore done him and that now conferred.

In my first day in the chair in this historic Senate Chamber, I can think of no better way to greet you than to cite the inaugural remarks made to the United States Senate by the Honorable Chester A. Arthur in assuming the office of Vice President in 1880. The thoughts expressed by the Vice President over one-half century ago are in my opinion, very apposite today on my part. And so I beg your indulgence for just a moment to read them to you.

In taking his seat for the first time, Vice President Arthur (a Republican) said:

Senators:

I come as your presiding officer with genuine solicitude, remembering my inexperience in parliamentary proceedings. I can not forget how important, intricate, and often embarrassing are the duties of the Chair. On the threshold of our official association, I invoke that courtesy and kindness with which you have been wont to aid your presiding officer. I shall need your constant encouragement and support, and I rely with confidence upon your lenient judgment of any errors into which I may fall. In return, be assured of my earnest purpose to administer your rules in a spirit of absolute fairness, to treat every Senator at all times with that courtesy and just consideration due him, and to do my part, as assuredly each of you will do yours, to maintain the order, decorum and dignity of the Senate. I trust that the official and personal relations upon which we are now entering will be marked with mutual confidence and regard, and that all our obligations will be so fulfilled as to redound to our own honor, to the glory of our commonwealth, and the prosperity of all its people.

An act relative to memorializing Congress to enact proposed legislation directing immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates of sailors and soldiers of the World War.

WHEREAS, A period of depression exists in the State of California, throughout the United States, and the world; and

WHEREAS, The immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates of the sailors and soldiers of the World War, some of whom are in dire need owing to the present economic conditions, will alleviate suffering, and increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation, and lighten immeasurably the burden which States, counties, and cities are now required to carry for relief; and

WHEREAS, The payment of such certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the government; and

WHEREAS, The government of the United States is now definitely committed to a policy of spending large sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and Senate of the State of California, jointly. That the Legislature of the State of California most respectfully urges and petitions the President and the Congress of the United States to enact legislation for the immediate payment, at face value, of the adjusted service certificates; and be it further Report of the Joint Legislative Committee on Unemployment Insurance in Accordance with Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 2, Adopted at the Fiftieth Extraordinary Session of the Legislature.

The following report was received, and on motion of Senator Donel, ordered printed in the Journal; and that 500 extra copies of the report be printed for the use of the Senate.

Motion carried.

To the Members of the Fifty-first Session of the Legislature of the State of California

SIRS: In accordance with Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 2 adopted at the fiftieth (extraordinary) session of the California Legislature, the Joint Legislative Committee on Unemployment Insurance, appointed pursuant thereto, submits to you this, its report. As a result of our study of the matter embraced within Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 2, the committee recommends the adoption of legislation establishing a compulsory plan of unemployment reserves and benefits for the State of California. A suggested measure accompanies this report.

General Discussion.

In 1911 the State of California adopted the first Workman's Compensation Insurance and Safety Act, the purpose of which was to protect workmen and their families against loss of earnings through injury or death by spreading this loss over industry as a whole, on the ground that it should be considered as one of the costs of doing business. The purpose of unemployment reserves is to protect the workman and his dependents, so far as possible, against a similar loss of earnings arising (again through no fault of his own) out of another type of industrial accident just as serious for the worker and his dependents—the loss of his job. Through a system of compulsory reserves this loss is to be considered as a part of the expense of doing business and spread over all industry. We do not deem it necessary to stress the effect of irregular employment on the workman and his family and the resultant excessive drain on relief agencies; nor to urge that mention that the decreased purchasing power of wage earners caused by irregular employment creates a vicious circle. Unemployment is an ever-existing social cost, but we believe that in the future a larger part of the cost must be contributed by industry and business. It is perhaps pertinent that at the present year-end we find many of the larger corporations in the country stressing the size of their respective surpluses which sums are generally accumulated in order to make certain that at least a limited return can be paid on capital through bad times as well as good. The purpose of unemployment reserves is to create a similar fund under the supervision of the State so that at least a limited return may continue to be paid to labor during the same dull periods.

It must be pointed out that the creation of a system of unemployment reserves is not a cure-all. It insures a job to no one and does not mean the end of the present economic depression. When the act has been in effect sufficiently long to have caused the accumulation of a reserve fund large enough to pay unemployment benefits the cost of unemployment will not thereafter fall entirely upon the worker and his family. The reserve plan should likewise be able to take care of ordinary fluctuations in the demand for labor and to soften the blow of a devastating economic depression, although it definitely can not prevent it.

History.

The first stage in the evolution of employment insurance consisted of the unemployment benefit plans of trade unions. In England as early as 1824 payments were distributed by the Journeymen Steam Engine Makers Society to men out of work. The first public plan was instituted in 1893 by the public authorities of Berne, Switzerland. Numerous plans were subsequently adopted in many continental cities but the first bold step of any real importance was the adoption of the National Insurance Act in Great Britain in 1911 covering six industries which normally employed about two and one-half million workers. Since that date the British act has been extended so that it now covers approximately 13,000,000 persons constituting practically the entire wage earning population of Great Britain other than farm workers and domestic servants. It perhaps is advisable to digress a moment at this point to call attention to the difficulties experienced in the administration of the British act and the reasons therefor. Unemployment reserves are made up of contributions from employers, employees and the State, or from any one or more of them. The amount which can be paid out in benefits to unemployed persons coming within the purview of the act are necessarily limited by the size of the reserve fund. It must thus be seen that no workers are paid so much more than their share that nothing remains for the casualties later occurring. It must therefore be understood that if a worker does not secure employment within the limited period of time during which benefits can be paid, he must thereafter be taken care of through actual relief rather than through the payment of unemployment benefits. In Great Britain it was attempted to continue unemployment benefits during a major depression after the reserve fund could no longer meet the drain, having already paid out to the workers the full amount to which they were entitled under the British act. For this purpose, large sums were borrowed from the British treasury. It is submitted that this should not be done and that if reemployment is not obtained by workers within the period provided in the proposed act, the situation should be promptly and properly faced as one for relief rather than for unemployment benefits.

Compulsory insurance laws have further been enacted in Australia, Austria, Bulgaria, Germany, Irish Free State, Italy, Poland and Switzerland, and in the State of Wisconsin. As a matter of fact, 147 bills have been introduced in the various States from 1916 down through 1933 (not to mention numerous amendments and proposed constitutional amendments and enabling acts). As already mentioned, however, the only act adopted to date is the Wisconsin Unemployment Reserves and Compensation Act which although it became a law on January 29, 1932, did not become generally operative until June 27, 1934. The Wisconsin plan, however, provides for a separate reserve fund for each separate employer and is not approved by economists or students of social legislation as it fails to in any way spread the risk.

The members of your committee have communicated with the United States Department of Labor and with the Committee on Economic Security appointed by the President of the United States. It is understood that Federal legislation on the subject under consideration will be proposed and probably adopted. Due to constitutional limitations, however, it is anticipated that the Federal plan will merely impose a pay roll tax for the purpose of raising unemployment reserve funds, permitting a credit as against this tax to employers in States which have adopted a satisfactory plan of unemployment reserves. Although your committee suggests the introduction of the appended bill, it is of the belief that no measure should be actually adopted until late in the fifty-first session so that such amendments may be made as may be necessary to conform the State legislation to the requirements of any Federal legislation. It is believed by your committee that the essential points of the appended bill will satisfy any Federal requirements.

Essentials of Proposed Bill.

1. Organization of Fund. Your committee recommends that one reserve fund be established for all industry. It further recommends, however, that the administrators of the act be required to segregate all employers by industries and that all statistics be kept on an industry basis so that after five years a basis of merit rating can be adopted for the benefit of industries which have more stable employment. The British act is based on one fund for all industries; the proposed Minnesota plan suggests the segregation into industries after the fund is satisfactorily established.

2. Coverage. Your committee recommends that coverage be made as broad as possible, excluding only the smaller firms and certain industries necessarily excluded because of administrative or legal difficulties. It is thus recommended that the plan cover all employers employing an average of more than six employees, excluding entirely, however, certain agricultural and cannery workers, personal or domestic servants in homes, teachers, and public officials, certain employees engaged in interstate commerce, and casual and part-time employees. The committee further recommends that the administrators be directed to report to the Legislature after the act has been in force for a period of five years the scheme for the inclusion within the act of employers employing less than six employees.

3. Contributions. Your committee recommends that contributions be made by the employer and employee, the former in an amount equal to 3 per cent of wages paid to employees subject to the act and the latter in an amount equal to 1 per cent of the wage received, the same to be deducted from his wage by his employer. Employees receiving in excess of $50 per week ($2,600 per year) are considered, for the purpose of determining contributions and benefits, as receiving $50 per week, their (and their employer's) contributions and their benefits being based on that amount. Based upon the expert opinions which your committee has received, it is of the belief that for the plan outlined to succeed, contributions to the fund must equal at least 4 per cent of the pay roll. Your committee believes that the employee should contribute to the fund in that he is the direct beneficiary thereof, and that he will have more control over it, be more interested in its success and more helpful in the prevention of malingering if he contributes to it. Your committee believes that the proportions suggested are proper in view of the employee's lesser ability to pay together with the fact that he makes a further contribution through the waiting period provided for. Your committee is firmly of the opinion that no limitation should be placed upon the number of contributions to be made inasmuch as to place any such limitation would prevent the creation of a fund able to be of substantial benefit when most needed at the time of economic depressions.

Your committee recommends that contributions commence January 1, 1935.

4. Benefits. Your committee recommends a waiting period of four weeks before the payment of benefits, this period to run from the date of the registration of the employee with a State employment exchange after the cessation of employment. Your committee further recommends that this waiting period be shortened to three weeks after contributions have been made to the fund for a period of two years. It is felt that the longer waiting period is essential in the beginning in order to build up the reserve fund. It is believed that the waiting period should ultimately be made as short as possible inasmuch as the workers sought to be protected by this plan have little or no resources to fall back on when their employment ceases and every effort must be made to have the plan effective without the need of the worker first applying for public relief. The period, however, must be sufficiently long to permit of a proper check of the applicant's case as well as his payment of a new employment. It must likewise be sufficiently long to discourage malingering.

The amount of the benefit must necessarily depend upon the amount of the contributions. It must be, however, sufficiently large to permit the worker to support himself and his family during the period it is given, but for obvious reasons must not, as well as can not, be as great as his wage. Your committee recommends that the benefit be 65 per cent of his average weekly wage, in no event to exceed, however, a maximum of $15 per week. Your committee likewise believes that a minimum of $7 per week should be provided in the act.

Benefits can only be paid to an unemployed worker for a limited time without exhausting the fund for the first cases. It is deemed advisable, instead of providing an arbitrary number of benefits for any year, that a worker be entitled to one week of benefits for every four weeks of contributions which he has paid. Thus if a worker has contributed to the reserve fund for a year he may receive a maximum of thirteen weeks of benefits, if he remains unemployed that long. The employee helping to build up the reserve can thus draw benefits in proportion to his number of contributions with certain stipulated maximums. Inasmuch as all of the contributions are pooled he is able to draw benefits several times as large as his contributions to the reserve.

Your committee recommends that benefits commence to be paid January 1, 1937.

5. Conditions for Receipt of Benefits. Your committee recommends that it be required that a certain number of payments be made before an employee be entitled to receive benefits. This is necessary in order to protect the fund in its infancy. It is further necessary that the worker seeking benefit payments present a true case of unemployment, that is that he be physically able to work, that he register at the State Employment Exchange, and that he accept suitable employment when offered. In the event his employment is terminated without just cause or because of his misconduct your committee believes that sufficient penalty is imposed upon the worker if the waiting period is lengthened, particularly in view of the fact that he, too, has contributed to the reserve.

6. Administration. Your committee strongly recommends the creation of a new department to administer the proposed Unemployment Reserve Act. This should be created in order to make certain that the Board of Directors may be as free from politics as possible. It is recommended that a board of five members be appointed by the Governor with standard terms similar to the Railroad Commission in order that control of the board will not be obtained by any one State administration. It is believed that the board should have the right to select its executive officer, who should be the actual director, the board to act in an advisory capacity. It is likewise believed that all employees below the directors should be subject to civil service. In this connection it is recommended that the control of the present State employment agencies be transferred to the administrators of the act inasmuch as functioning of these agencies is one of the most important features of a proper administration of an Unemployment Reserve Plan.

In closing, your committee wishes to express its debt to Miss Emily Huntington, assistant professor of economics, Charles A. Gulick, Jr., associate professor of economics, and Albert H. Mowbray, professor of insurance, all of the University of California; John B. Canning, professor of economics, Leland Stanford University; Paul Scharrenberg, executive secretary, California State Federation of Labor; Miss Dorothy Williams, of the California League of Women Voters, and Dr. Louis Bloch, of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Our appreciation must likewise be expressed for the help given us by Mr. H. E. McClellan, vice president of the Maryland Casualty Company, who furnished to the members of the committee a great amount of data on the general subject in the form of the reports of the commissions of all of the States which have attempted a study of this subject.

Dated: January 10, 1935.

Respectfully submitted.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency: Cities in this State have taken proceedings to incur bonded indebtedness for proper city purposes. Furthermore, bonds have been voted for the construction of public buildings to replace public buildings destroyed by earthquake and the public business is now being carried on in temporary quarters which are entirely inadequate for that purpose. Large numbers of persons are unemployed and in dire need. Real or purported irregularities in such proceedings have or will delay the issuance of the bonds voted and will delay the cities in getting necessary funds. The immediate validation of such bonds will permit the sale thereof at once or in the near future and such public works will relieve unemployment and preserve the public peace, health and safety, and the construction of such public buildings will provide safe housing conditions for the public officials and employees and a safe repository for important public records.

Statement by Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield.

The Senate standing committees, while made up by the Lieutenant Governor, represent the mass judgment of this house of the Legislature, except for three important committees whose personnel was named in response to recommendations of Governor Frank F. Merriam.

The mass judgment of the Senate is represented in the committee assignments because, in so far as was possible, Senators were named to committees of their own choice. This, I believe, has been the custom in the past and I have followed precedent because I am convinced that it is well to capture the natural interest of committee members and to harness it for the benefit of the State of California.

Naturally it has not been possible to meet all the requests from all Senators for committee assignments or chairmanships. I wish to acknowledge and express my appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation displayed by those whose every desire could not be met. I am convinced that there is a general disposition to pull together and that we shall have harmonious team work.

The three committees whose chairmen and members have been named upon recommendations from Governor Merriam are the Committee on Finance, the Committee on Revenue and Taxation, and the Committee on Governmental Efficiency. To these committees will fall the responsibility of acting on the major proposals of the administration. I believe this will facilitate determination of the Senate's attitude toward the Governor's program, which he has assured me will redeem the progressive planks in the Republican party platform so emphatically endorsed by the people last November.

Consideration of Application for Press Credentials.

The President of the Senate, Hon. George J. Hatfield, presented the following communication:

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, January 10, 1935.

Hon. George J. Hatfield,

State House, Sacramento, California.

SIR: We beg to inform you that D. Dutton Craig and Maurice Quin are the accredited representatives of the "Western Worker" covering the sessions of the State Legislature in Sacramento.

We would appreciate your extending to them the courtesies usually accorded to press representatives.

WESTERN WORKER.

L. CAMPBELL, Editor.

Ruling by the President of the Senate.

While I believe in the principles of free speech and a free press, I do not think they extend to granting the privileges of the floor in the Senate to representatives of publications which advocate the overthrow of our form of government by violence. Therefore I have refused to grant press credentials to the representatives of the Western Worker.

Motion by Senator Sharkey.

Senator Sharkey moved that the ruling by the President, refusing to grant press credentials to the Western Worker, be sustained by the Senate.

The motion was seconded by Senator Seellan.

Motion carried.

Explanation of Motion by Senator Sharkey.

Senator Sharkey submitted the following explanation of his motion.

In moving to sustain the order of the President denying admission to representatives of the Western Worker, I was prompted by my duty as a State official and my sense of obligation to our institutions. The Western Worker is the western organ of the Communist party section of the Communist International. This organization strikes at the very foundation of our National government and no self-respecting patriotic citizen can subscribe to its doctrines.

WILL R. SHARKEY.

Message from the Governor.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, January 15, 1935.

Members of the Senate, Sacramento, California.

Herewith attached find copy of letter received from His Excellency, President Roosevelt, regarding the need for legislation to make the National Housing Act more effective in California. Copy of the letter from Mr. James A. Moffett, Administrator of the Federal Housing Act, and copy of the New York Law, to both of which reference is made, are also enclosed.

President Roosevelt has been assured of the cooperation of California along the line suggested, and I am sending the enclosed to the Senate and Assembly for such consideration and action as may be deemed desirable.

Very sincerely yours,

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

(COPY.)

THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, December 17, 1934.

MY DEAR GOVERNOR: I am enclosing a copy of a letter to me from Mr. James A. Moffett, the Administrator of the Federal Housing Administration. This letter calls my attention to the need for certain legislation to make Title II and III of the National Housing Act more effective.

Amendments to existing State laws seem to be called for in practically every State—44 of them—in which State Legislatures are meeting this winter.

Mr. Moffett tells me that the bill passed by the Legislature of the State of New York, in special session last August, seems to meet the general needs. I am enclosing a copy of this bill.

It would give me great satisfaction if you would give this matter your most careful consideration with the object, if you approve, of obtaining legislation in your State in 1935.

If you would care to have any further information in regard to the details or objects relating to this subject, I shall be glad to have you call on Mr. Moffett at any time.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed)

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION, WASHINGTON, December 11, 1934.

MY DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: In order that the Federal Housing Administration may attain a full measure of success throughout the country, it is essential that banks, insurance companies, building and loan associations, trust companies, fiduciaries, and other investors be able legally to make insured mortgage loans, and to invest in insured mortgages and in National mortgage association obligations, as provided by the National Housing Act.

You may recall that Title II of the National Housing Act, in order to create a sound mortgage market and induce mortgage money to finance new construction, provided for the insurance of long term, low interest bearing, fully amortized home mortgage loans, by authorizing the creation of a Federal mutual insurance fund. Title III of the act authorizes the creation of National Mortgage associations subject to the supervision and control of the Federal Housing Administrator. The object of these associations is to provide a liquid market for home mortgages and thus to aid in establishing a more sound National credit system.

At the present time there are in the States various statutory limitations upon loans and investments by the aforementioned investing institutions, which restrict their ability to benefit fully from the National Housing program. A similar limitation upon the lending power of National banks has already been removed by the Congress.

The Legislatures of many States will convene during the next few months. Could you not, with propriety, suggest to the Governors of those States that their statutes shall be amended as soon as possible so that banks, insurance companies, building and loan associations, trust companies, title companies and all other investors under statutory restrictions might be permitted to make insured mortgage loans and to invest in insured mortgages and in National mortgage association obligations as provided by the National Housing Act?

Respectfully yours,

J. A. MOFFETT, Administrator

The President, The White House, Washington, D. C.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

SACRAMENTO, JANUARY 16, 1935.

Members of the California Senate, Sacramento.

Herewith enclosed find copy of communication received from His Excellency, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and my reply thereto.

I am submitting this correspondence to the members of the Senate and Assembly that they may be fully informed regarding the President's generous offer of aid and my assurance of the appreciation and cooperation of the State of California.

Yours very sincerely,

(COPY.)

THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, December 22, 1934.

MY DEAR GOVERNOR MERRIAM: In the event that an additional public works program is authorized at the coming session of the Congress, I should like to see the municipalities of your State legally able to take full advantage of such a program. With this in mind, I have instructed Administrator Ickes to place at your disposal the Legal Division of the Public Works Administration for the purpose of suggesting bills which, if enacted into law, would enable municipalities of your State to secure the benefits of this phase of the recovery program.

Our experience in the past 18 months has brought to light the difficulty of gauging the legal machinery which has served municipalities of your State adequately for decades to the speed with which the Federal government must extend credit to achieve desired results. It has been found that revision of the procedure relative to municipal financing is essential, at least for the duration of the existing emergency. I wish to submit for your consideration in formulating your legislative program, the following general suggestions:

1. Simplification of the procedure for the authorization and financing by municipalities of public works projects, for example, by shortening the periods of notices before elections on bond issues.

2. Creation of municipal improvement authorities without power to tax, but with power to issue bonds payable solely from the income of revenue-producing improvements, such as water, sewer, and electric light and power systems.

3. Authorizing municipalities to engage in slum clearance, including condemnation of necessary lands, and the construction, operation and maintenance of low-cost housing, to make contributions therefor, and to enter into contracts with the Federal government in connection therewith.

4. Providing for the creation of nonprofit public benefit corporations or agencies to provide for the electrification of rural communities with the assistance of the Federal government.

5. Validation of bonds and other obligations heretofore issued by municipalities for public works projects and sold to the Federal government.

If you will write me how you feel about these suggestions, I will request Administrator Ickes to have prepared such bills as may be deemed advisable.

Quite apart from the above suggestions, I think it would be helpful if arrangements could be made whereby the Public Works Administration is furnished with copies of all laws enacted at the forthcoming legislative session. This will materially aid the administration in advancing funds on approved projects.

Very sincerely,

(Signed)

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Hon. Frank F. Merriam, Governor of California, Sacramento, California.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,

SACRAMENTO, January 16, 1935.

His Excellency, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

President of the United States, Washington, D. C.

MY DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: This will acknowledge your favor of December 22d, last, regarding enactment of any legislation necessary to enable the municipalities of California to secure benefits of any additional public works program which may be authorized by Congress at the present session.

The suggestions are most welcome, and copies of such bills as Administrator Ickes may prepare and forward will be appreciated. It will be a pleasure to forward to Public Administrator Ickes copies of such laws as may be enacted by the Legislature during the current session.

Because it is a matter of deep concern to our people and to the welfare of the State, may I call attention to the great Central Valley Water Project of California. This project is pending for approval before the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works.

The project seems to fulfill completely and in detail the requirements of that part of your recovery program relative to the granting of Federal assistance in financing the construction by States of meritorious public works. I heartily recommend the Central Valley Water Project for your favorable consideration.

Perhaps, I am going somewhat afield, but it would be most helpful if Administrator Harold L. Ickes would present to me any suggestions or recommendations regarding legislation deemed desirable, in order to expedite the approval of this project.

Allow me, Mr. President, to thank you for your offer of assistance and to assure you that such offer is accepted by me, on behalf of the State which I represent, in the full measure in which it is made. California wishes to cooperate with you to the utmost in your great and constructive recovery program.

With highest assurances of regard, I am

Yours very sincerely,

(Signed)

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

Consideration of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8.

Memorializing Congress to grant consent to taxation by the several States of certain interstate sales.

WHEREAS, Necessity for property tax relief is imperative in California as well as in other States throughout the Union; and,

WHEREAS, Twenty six States in an effort to afford property tax relief and to provide revenue for essential functions of government have enacted laws imposing taxes based upon or measured by sales of tangible personal property purchased and delivered in such States; and,

WHEREAS, No less than 65 per cent of the population of the United States now resides in States with such laws; and,

WHEREAS, By virtue of judicial interpretation of the Federal Constitution, the States may not levy without the consent of Congress taxes based upon or measured by sales moving in interstate commerce; and,

WHEREAS, As a result of such an interpretation there is a discrimination in favor of interstate sales as against intrastate sales; and,

WHEREAS, Such discrimination if permitted to continue will tend to divert business from normal channels in California and elsewhere throughout the Union, thus subjecting local merchants to unfair competition; and,

WHEREAS, It is of vital importance to the welfare of the people of the United States that all things be done to promote the stability of local business in order that the financial structure of California and other States throughout the Union may be preserved; and,

WHEREAS, It rests within the power of Congress to permit the States to levy nondiscriminatory taxes upon sales in interstate commerce; and,

WHEREAS, The Honorable Pat Harrison, Senator from Mississippi, introduced a measure at the second session of the Seventy-third Congress designed to afford the States relief in this matter, and reading as follows:

S. 2897

An act to regulate interstate commerce by granting the consent of Congress to taxation by the several States of certain interstate sales.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all taxes or excises levied by any State upon sales of tangible personal property, or measured by sales of tangible personal property, may be levied upon, or measured by, sales of like property in interstate commerce, by the State into which the property is moved for use or consumption therein, in the same manner, and to the same extent, that said taxes or excises are levied upon or measured by sales of like property not in interstate commerce and no such property shall be exempt from such taxation by reason of being introduced into any State or Territory in original packages, or containers, or otherwise: Provided, That no State shall discriminate against sales of tangible personal property in interstate commerce, nor shall any State discriminate against the sale of products of any other States: Provided further, That no State shall levy any tax or excise upon, or measured by, the sales in interstate commerce of tangible personal property transported for the purpose of resale by the consignee: Provided further, That no political subdivision of any State shall levy a tax or excise upon, or measured by, sales of tangible personal property in interstate commerce. For the purposes of this act a sale of tangible personal property transported, or to be transported, in interstate commerce shall be considered as made within the State into which such property is to be transported for use or consumption therein, whenever such sale is made, solicited, or negotiated in whole or in part within that State.

Sec. 2. Receivers, liquidators, referees, and other officers of any court of the United States are required to pay all taxes and licenses levied by any State or subdivision thereof the same as corporations, partnerships, concerns, persons, or association of persons are required to pay the same.

And,

WHEREAS, Said measure was passed by the Senate on March 15, 1934, but was not voted upon by the House of Representatives and hence did not become law; and,

WHEREAS, Need for such legislation is imperative in order to correct grave injustice in California and in all other States throughout the Union where taxes are based upon or measured by sales of tangible personal property; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, the Assembly thereof concurring, That the Congress of the United States be, and it is hereby memorialized, to give relief to the State of California and all other States imposing taxes based upon or measured by sales of tangible personal property by immediately providing for the regulation of interstate commerce through granting consent to taxation by the several States of certain interstate sales as provided by the measure (S. 2897) introduced by Senator Harrison during the second session of the Seventy-third Congress; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the presiding officers of the legislative bodies of all other States of the United States, with the request that they transmit similar memorials to Congress, and that copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, to each of the members from California of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States, and to the Honorable Pat Harrison, United States Senator from Mississippi, author of the measure which would afford the States relief in this important matter.

Resolution read.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution.

The roll was called, and Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8 adopted by the following vote:

AYES—Senators Biggar, Crittenden, Deuel, Difani, Fletcher, Garrison, Gordon, Hays, Jespersen, Keough, King, Knowland, McColl, McCormack, McGovern, Metzger, Mixter, Olson, Parkman, Perry, Reindollar, Rich, Schottky, Scollan, Sharkey, Slater, Snyder, Tickle, Waggy, and Young—30.

NOES—None.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8 ordered transmitted to the Assembly.

Request to Print.

The request of Senator Sharkey to print in the Journal the following statement of Hon. Fred E. Stewart was granted.

STATEMENT OF THE HONORABLE FRED E. STEWART, PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF TAX ADMINISTRATORS, RELATING TO STATE SALES TAX ON CERTAIN INTERSTATE TRANSACTIONS.

Subject. The act which Congress is urged to pass provides for regulation of interstate commerce by granting the consent of Congress to taxation by the several States of certain interstate sales. The measure would allow States to tax such sales on the same basis as like local transactions are taxed. A bill to do this was introduced by Senator Harrison of Mississippi at the last session of Congress. It passed the Senate but was not reported from the House Interstate Commerce Committee.

Need for Measure. California, like other States with retail sales taxes, has vital need for some protection of its local merchants who pay such taxes. Although the sales tax is in ultimate effect on the user or consumer of the goods, for efficient administration it is universally collected from the seller. California merchants as well as merchants in other States have cooperated with tax administrators in securing enforcement of sales tax laws and are entitled to reasonable protection in their business which is affected by the tax.

Experience here and elsewhere has proved that interstate sales come into substantial competition with local transactions which are subject to sales tax. This results in unnatural diversion of business from local merchants and avoidance of sales tax by those consumers who resort to interstate commerce for that purpose. The condition is particularly acute with respect to goods sold in quantities or property of substantial value where the sales tax is of considerable consequence.

Dealers in lumber, plumbing supplies, structural steel, hardware, motor vehicles and numerous other articles of personal property are finding that their trade is being lost through the competition of out-of-State dealers who ship across our State line in interstate commerce so as to avoid the tax. Millions of dollars are being diverted from California trade in this way. The results to our local industries will be disastrous.

What the Measure Does. Without imposing any undue burden on interstate commerce, this Federal bill will allow the States to protect their merchants from unfair outside competition. It will permit taxation of retail sales of tangible personal property both for use or consumption on exactly the same basis regardless of whether the transactions are of interstate or intrastate character. Certain justice demands that this should be done and the California Legislature owes it to our local merchants to make every effort to relieve them from the ruthless competition of sales across State lines made in avoidance of our 24 per cent tax.

Not only will this bill save California merchants and merchants in other sales tax States from huge losses of trade but it will also result in substantially increased sales tax collections. The State Board of Equalization estimates that in California alone at least $2,500,000 annually has been lost in sales tax revenue due to non-taxable sales made through interstate commerce.

Measure Strongly Endorsed. This measure has the unanimous endorsement of the National Association of State Tax Administrators, of which Fred E. Stewart, member of the State Board of Equalization, is president. Following the annual conference of that association in Indiana last month, Mr. Stewart went on to Washington, D. C., to urge prompt action on the bill. There he received assurances from Senator Harrison and from Congressman Clarence Lea, both of the California delegation, that the measure would receive their strong backing. It has already been endorsed by the Los Angeles and San Francisco Chambers of Commerce and many other civic bodies, in recognition of the need for such protection for local merchants in sales tax States. The California Legislature should add its endorsement in order to assure prompt passage of the measure.

Legitimate Business Not Harmed By Measure. This measure would not impose any burden whatever on interstate commerce and does not compel sales taxes in any form. It merely allows States which have such taxes to protect their merchants from unfair competition by requiring all users or consumers of tangible personal property to contribute equally to the public revenue. No sale could be taxed more than once, and then only at the point of ultimate use or consumption. There is no conflict between this bill and any move for or against sales taxes, either National or State. The only persons opposed to the measure would be those who are profiting through exemption of interstate sales to the detriment of our local merchants. Obviously they are not entitled to this preference, and Congress should be urged to withdraw it from them through passage of the Harrison Bill. It is submitted that this memorial should have unanimous endorsement of both houses of the California Legislature.

(Signed)

FRED E. STEWART.

Consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 13.

Senator Edwards asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent for the consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 13, without reference to committee, for purpose of adoption.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 13.

Relating to the relief of overcrowded conditions in the State prisons and the construction of additional prison facilities.

WHEREAS, The present State prisons located at San Quentin and Folsom are now the most congested in the United States, and are insufficient in size and inadequate in equipment properly to care for the prisoners confined therein; and

WHEREAS, The population of said prisons is annually increasing; and

WHEREAS, The transportation of prisoners sentenced from the southern counties in this State to and from the prisons is difficult and hazardous and involves a very considerable expense to the State of California; and

WHEREAS, The overcrowded condition of said prisons greatly increases the problems of discipline and the hazards of riots and escapes; and

WHEREAS, Said overcrowded condition makes it impossible properly to segregate the prisoners, or to separate youthful first offenders from hard and degenerate types of criminals, and greatly hinders the work of rehabilitation of the prisoners confined in said prisons; and

WHEREAS, Lack of space and lack of sufficient modern equipment makes it impossible to keep the prisoners adequately and healthfully employed; and

WHEREAS, It is imperative that the conditions now existing in said prisons be alleviated; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, the Assembly thereof concurring. That the Governor of the State of California be and he is requested and authorized to conduct an investigation to determine the advisability of locating a State prison in one of the southern counties of the State, and to estimate the cost of construction thereof and other related matters; and for that purpose to consult with any State agency and to require and receive from such State agencies any information or data he may require; and be it further

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgent measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: Many school districts within the State of California are without sufficient money with which to purchase school lots, for building or purchasing one or more school buildings or making alterations or additions to same or repairing or rebuilding school buildings damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other calamity, for insuring school buildings, for supplying school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus, for improving school grounds, for liquidating and satisfaction already incurred for said purposes or repaying any valid outstanding indebtedness of such district evidenced by bonds or mortgages thereof. Many school districts have within the last two years voted bonds for raising money for such purposes and the proceedings in many of such local elections were irregular but complying with all the provisions of this act, and by reason of such irregularities and defects in such proceedings, not immediately such bonds can now be sold. The population of many of these districts has increased so rapidly that the present school facilities of such districts are unable to meet the needs of the great increase of pupils in such districts and it is necessary and urgent that such bonds and the proceedings thereunder be validated at an early date in order that said school buildings, lots, equipment and facilities may be purchased or built before the opening of the next school year which in many instances would be impossible if this act did not go into effect immediately but was required to await until 90 days after adjournment of this Legislature.

Pursuant to the report of the Committee on Building and Loan Associations, the following amendments to Senate Bill No. 89 were read:

Amendment No. 1.

On page 3 of the printed bill, strike out lines 27 and 28, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Sec. 6.02. Limitation on Withdrawals. The term "matured withdrawal claims," as used in this article, shall include each and all of the following, to wit: (1) the value of all shares or investment certificates or parts thereof, in respect of which valid notices of intention to withdraw shall be on file, matured and unpaid, including notices of intention to withdraw by defaulting shareholders pursuant to section 3.05 of this act, as well as notices of withdrawal generally pursuant to section 6.01 of this act; (2) the value of all shares which shall have matured pursuant to section 3.03 of this act and which shall be unpaid; (3) the value of all investment certificates in respect of which the holders, pursuant to section 5.07 of this act but subject to section 6.02 of this act, shall be entitled to receive the redemption price, but which shall be unpaid; and (4) the value of all debenture or investment certificates which shall have reached the expressed date of their maturity but which shall be unpaid.

Regardless of whether or not an association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, its obligation to pay matured withdrawal claims, and the right of shareholders and certificate holders to receive payment of matured withdrawal claims, shall be secondary and subsequent to the right of such association to pay, and to provide reasonable reserves for the payment of, the following: taxes, assessments, insurance, repairs, alterations and other sums necessary to protect and preserve or to furnish or equip its properties and its interest in properties (including those on the security of which it holds loans); principal and interest on borrowings by such association, otherwise than through the issuance of investment certificates; interest on investment certificates and dividends on shares; rent, compensation of officers, agents, subagents and other employees, and other usual and ordinary operating expenses of such association; and commitments on its incomplete loans or investments; provided, however, that an association on notice or on a pro rata basis shall not pay any dividends on its stock or distribute any profits to its stockholders or make any loans or investments, except loans or investments pursuant to its obligations incurred before it became an association on notice, and except loans expressly permitted by section 9.01 of this act, provided further, that an association on notice and not on a pro rata basis may with the prior consent of the commissioner, and an association not on notice and not on a pro rata basis may without the necessity of obtaining the consent of the commissioner, in lieu of paying matured withdrawal claims, make or purchase loans or investments not exceeding the principal amount of moneys borrowed by such association from a Federal home loan bank, or other similar Federal agency, and not theretofore repaid; and provided further, that an association which is either on notice or on a pro rata basis may with the prior consent of the commissioner, and an association which is neither on notice nor on a pro rata basis may without the necessity of obtaining the consent of the commissioner, in lieu of paying matured withdrawal claims, invest in stock issued by any Federal home loan bank or other Federal agency of which such association may be eligible to be a member. Moreover, regardless of whether or not an association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, its obligation to pay matured withdrawal claims, and the right of shareholders and certificate holders to receive payment of matured withdrawal claims, shall be limited to payments from its cash on hand or in bank, proceeds from sale of investments and loans and other cash receipts of such association; and shall be further limited to payments pursuant to the subsequent provisions of this section. The cash, proceeds and other receipts aforesaid which shall remain after deducting therefrom all payments, reserves, loans and investments above mentioned in this paragraph, are hereafter in this section 6.02 called the "available funds."

The term "free money" as hereafter used in this section 6.02, is hereby defined as that part of the available funds which may be used at the option of the association to pay any or all withdrawals without requiring notice of intention to withdraw or before the maturity of a notice of intention to withdraw and regardless of the non-payment of any or all matured withdrawal claims; or to pay any or all definite term investment certificates before the expressed date of maturity subject to such adjustment of interest, if any, as may be provided in such certificates, or for the purpose of making loans or investments, or for any other purpose not prohibited by law.

If the association is neither on notice nor on a pro rata basis, and if there are no matured withdrawal claims (excepting claims for the payment of which funds have been set aside by the association), then all of the available funds shall be free money.

If there are matured withdrawal claims (for the payment of any of which funds have not been set aside by the association), then not to exceed twenty-five per cent of the available funds shall be free money (but in such case no part of such free money shall be used to pay dividends on stock or be distributed as profits to stockholders), and all the remainder shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals. The commissioner is hereby authorized, in the case of any or all associations, to reduce the amount of such free money from twenty-five per cent of the available funds to such smaller per cent of the available funds as he may from time to time prescribe, and in such case all the remainder shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals. Whether or not the commissioner shall have reduced such amount of free money such remainder of the available funds shall be applied (regardless of whether or not the association is on notice or on a pro rata basis) at such times as the commissioner shall prescribe to the payment of matured withdrawal claims as follows:

First: To all matured withdrawal claims in respect of investment certificates until all sums payable thereon are paid, and, as between several holders thereof, pro rata according to the unpaid principal thereof at the time of each such payment.

Second: To all matured withdrawal claims in respect of shares until all sums payable thereon are paid, and, as between the several holders thereof, pro rata according to the unpaid value thereof at the time of each such payment.

Every association (whether or not it is on notice or on a pro rata basis) shall, from available funds exclusive of free money, and subject to such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, pay in each month, with or without requiring notice of intention to withdraw, and regardless of the nonpayment of any or all matured withdrawal claims, to any one or more of its shareholders or certificate holders, who shall request such payment, not to exceed whichever of the two following amounts shall be the greater (1) twenty-five dollars per person, or (2) one per cent of the value of such person's shares or investment certificates (in addition to any free money which may be applied to the payment of withdrawals); and withdrawals may be made at any time from pledged shares and investment certificates, whether or not the association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, and without notice; provided, the full amounts of such withdrawals shall be used to pay the indebtedness for which such shares or investment certificates are pledged, or any part thereof; and provided further, that in the case of loans upon the mutual plan, such withdrawals without notice shall be permitted only at the option of the association unless the entire indebtedness shall be simultaneously paid.

If in any accounting period an association has not used as free money the full amounts which such association is permitted by this section 6.02 to use for such purposes, then (unless the commissioner shall otherwise order in the case of such association) the amounts not so used shall be available to the association in any subsequent period for such purpose until such amounts shall have been so used, in addition to the amounts which would otherwise be available for such purpose in such subsequent period.

No association shall make any contract waiving in any manner any of the provisions of this section and, if any such contract shall be so made, such contract shall be void.

The provisions of this act shall govern, during the existence of the emergency period as hereinafter defined and only during such period, the withdrawal and other rights of the holders of all shares and investment certificates whether heretofore or hereafter issued, and whether or not withdrawal claims shall have heretofore been filed or shall have heretofore matured."

Amendment No. 2.

On page 6, line 49, of the printed bill, strike out period after the word "stock," and add the following: " ; provided, however, that, with the prior written approval of the commissioner in each case, any association may pay dividends on stock from that part of such net profits as shall not have resulted from the reduction, pursuant to the provisions of this section, of interest on its investment certificates or dividends on its shares, below the contractual rate or rates thereof. In no case shall the commissioner approve the payment of dividends from such net profits unless he shall have caused a notice of such intended action to be published, at least five days before such intended action is taken, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or city and county in which such association's principal office in this State is located."

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, JANUARY 19, 1935.

Senate, State Capital, Sacramento, California.

As president of an organization representing the interests of thousands of distressed property owners in Los Angeles County, I respectfully request the immediate enactment, as an emergency measure, of the Trust Deed and Mortgage Moratorium Bill sponsored by the Realty Interests Nonpartisan League of Los Angeles County, now pending in the Senate and Assembly. We believe a renewal or extension of the present moratorium will be ineffective as additional protection is needed by the distressed property owners which they do not receive under the present law. We know the immediate enactment of our bill with its broader features than the present expiring moratorium is a matter of public necessity and respectfully request your hearty support of same.

M. W. TAGGART.

President Realty Interests Nonpartisan League.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, JANUARY 16, 1935.

We shall watch with interest for the State's action on this resolution.

Yours for 100 per cent acceptance and passage of this resolution.

18. The Secretary of the Senate shall not permit any records or papers to be taken from the desk, or out of his custody, by any person except a chairman of a committee; but he shall deliver any bill or paper to be printed to the Superintendent of State Printing, and all bills ordered engrossed or enrolled to the Committee on Engrossment, Enrollment and Printing and take receipts therefor.

Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

19. A Sergeant-at-Arms shall be elected, to hold his office during the pleasure of the Senate, whose duty it shall be to attend the Senate during all of its sittings, to execute the commands of the Senate from time to time, together with all such process issued by authority thereof, as shall be directed to him by the President. The Sergeant-at-Arms is authorized to arrest for contempt all persons outside the bar, or in the gallery, found in loud conversation, or otherwise making a noise to the disturbance of the Senate. The actual expenses of the Sergeant-at-Arms for every arrest, for each day's custody and release, and the traveling expenses for himself and special messenger going and returning shall be paid out of the contingent fund, and no other fees shall be paid him beyond his per diem. It shall also be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to keep the accounts for pay and mileage of Senators.

Distribution of Printed Matter.

20. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall place copies of all bills, joint and concurrent resolutions, constitutional amendments, and journals and histories, when printed, on the desks of Senators, at least one hour previous to the opening of session.

Preparation and Introduction of Bills.Introduction and First Reading.

21. Any Senator desiring to introduce a bill shall rise in his seat and address the President, and upon being recognized shall present the same. The title shall be announced by the Secretary, the bill shall be read the first time and thereupon referred by the President to a standing committee.

Joint and Concurrent Resolutions and Constitutional Amendments.

22. Joint and concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall be treated the same as bills; provided, that they shall have but one reading, which reading shall occur after they have been reported by committee.

Constitutional amendments, when introduced, shall be referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, and when reported back by the committee shall, with its recommendations, be re-referred to the standing committee considering the subject dealt with in such constitutional amendments.

Introduction of Bills by a Committee.

23. Any committee may introduce a bill germane to any subject within the proper consideration of such committee, whereupon the bill shall immediately be read the first time, ordered to print and placed upon the second-reading file.

Introduction of Bills After the Constitutional Recess.

24. The Committee on Rules shall constitute a standing committee on introduction of bills to serve after the constitutional recess. All motions for leave to introduce bills after the constitutional recess shall be sent to the desk in writing, under the order of "Introduction of Bills." The motion shall give the title of the bill and shall be accompanied by the bill. The bill shall thereupon be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills.

The committee shall examine bills referred to it with particular reference to the question as to whether there is already any bill in either house of the same character which might be amended to effect the result sought and generally as to the advisability of introducing the measure.

No bill shall be introduced without the consent of three-fourths of the members after report thereupon by the Committee on Introduction of Bills; nor shall more than two bills be introduced by any one member after the constitutional recess.

Joint and concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall not be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills, and shall not require a vote to authorize their introduction, nor shall the number to be introduced by any one member be limited.

Bills in Committee.Reference of Senate Bills.

25. At the time of introduction the President shall first indicate to what committee a bill or resolution ought to be referred, and it shall be so referred, unless upon a motion, without debate, the Senate by a majority vote order it to some other committee. No debate shall be allowed on any motion to refer a bill or resolution to a committee.

Order of Reference.

26. When a resolution shall be offered, or a motion made to refer any subject and a different committee shall be proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order:

1. The Committee of the Whole Senate.
2. A Standing Committee.
3. A Select Committee.

Reference with Special Instructions.

27. No amendment shall be received for discussion at the third reading of any bill; but it shall at all times be in order, before the final passage of such bill, to move its reference to a select committee under special instructions to amend. Adoption of amendments to any bill by the Senate prior to third reading, other than by roll call, shall not preclude subsequent consideration in committee or on the third reading of the bill, of such amendments or any part thereof, by the Senate.

Reference of Assembly Bills.

28. When an Assembly bill has been received by the Senate, with a message announcing that it has passed the Assembly, such bill shall be read the first time and be referred by the President to a standing committee; provided, however, that when an Assembly bill is received, the text of which is stated by a message to be identical with that of a Senate bill which has already been considered and reported by a standing committee of the Senate, such Assembly bill shall be referred to the Committee on Engrossment, Enrollment and Printing for comparison, which committee shall report without delay whether or not such bill is identical with the Senate bill. If reported identical, such Assembly bill shall be substituted for the Senate bill, shall take its place on the second reading file and be considered as having received the same committee recommendation as the Senate bill; provided, that the fact that the bills are identical shall be entered in the Journal. Such Senate bill shall thereupon be placed upon the file of unfinished business.

Reference of Appropriation Bills.

29. All bills appropriating money from any fund shall be referred to the Committee on Finance before being read the second time. Concurrent resolutions for adjournment sine die shall in all cases whether originating in the Senate or coming from the Assembly be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Notice to Author of Bill.

30. The chairman or clerk of each committee of the Senate shall notify the author of any bill or resolution pending before such committee of the hour and place of hearing or acting upon such bill or proceeding.

Committee Amendments to Bills.

31. When amendments to a bill are reported by a committee, offered from the floor or submitted by a Special Committee of One, such amendments shall be submitted in triplicate, two copies to go to the Secretary of the Senate and one to the Minute Clerk.

Reports of Committees.

32. All committees shall act upon bills referred to them as soon as practicable, and when acted upon each bill shall be reported back to the Senate forthwith, and the chairman of each committee is charged with the observance of this rule; provided, that the Senate may at any time, by a majority vote, recall a bill from any committee.

Order of Considering Bills.Order of Making Files.

33. When bills are reported from committees they shall be placed upon the General File, to be kept by the Secretary as follows: All bills when reported to the Senate by the committee shall be placed at the foot of the second-reading file, in the order in which the reports are made, and after the second reading they shall be placed at the foot of the third-reading file, in the order of reading, and precedence shall be given in the consideration of bills in the following order: Second-reading file and third-reading file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. The bills upon third reading shall be considered in the order in which they appear upon the file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by vote of majority of the members present; such vote to be taken by roll call; provided, that if a bill is passed on file for any reason, other than absence of the author by leave of the Senate, note of the fact shall be made in the General File, and when passed on file a second time, the bill shall be ordered at the foot of the file, and notice of the fact of the bill having been passed on file prior to the order placing it at the foot of the file shall be omitted from the General File.

The General File.

34. The General File shall be the special order for each day between such hours as the Senate may determine, unless sooner disposed of; but no bill shall lose its place upon the file by expiration of the time or by adjournment of the Senate while it is under consideration.

Special Order.

35. Any subject may, by vote of a majority of those voting, be made a special order, and when the time fixed for its consideration arrives, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

Three Readings of Bills.

36. Every bill shall be read on three several days previous to its passage (unless in case of urgency, two-thirds of the membership of the Senate in which it is being considered shall by vote of the ayes and noes dispense with this provision).

Ordering Bills to Third Reading.

37. After being read the second time bills shall be ordered by the President to third reading (or, in the case of Senate bills, to engrossment and third reading). When any member makes objection to any bill thus being ordered to third reading, the final question for such bill shall be "Shall the bill be ordered to third reading?"

Bills Considered During Last Seven Days.

38. No Senate bill shall be passed by the Senate within seven days of the time set for adjournment sine die of the two houses of the Legislature unless permission to vote on such a bill be granted by a three-fourths vote of the entire membership of the Senate, voting by roll call.

39. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but the following privileged questions, which shall have precedence in the following order:

1. To adjourn.
2. For a call of the Senate.
3. To lay on the table.
4. To postpone to a day certain.
5. To commit.
6. To amend.
7. To postpone indefinitely.

Provided, however, that during a call of the Senate, it may consider and transact any matter or business that the Senators then present shall unanimously decide to consider, but no call of the Senate shall be had, during a call of the Senate, on any matter so taken up or considered while the Senate is under call. When a call of the Senate is ordered, pending the completion of a roll call, the pending roll call shall become unfinished business, the consideration of which shall be continued until further proceedings under the call of the Senate are dispensed with, when it will forthwith become the order of business before the Senate.

Amendment or Division of Question.

40. An amendment may be laid on the table without prejudice to the bill. When an amendment proposed to any pending measure shall be laid on the table it shall not carry with it or prejudice such measure.

If the question in debate contains several propositions, any Senator may have the same divided; except a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition, nor shall it prevent a motion to simply strike out, nor shall the rejection of a motion to strike out prevent a motion to strike out and insert, but pending a motion to strike out and insert, the part to be stricken out and the part to be inserted shall each be regarded for the purpose of amendment, as a question. Motions to amend the part to be stricken out shall have precedence.

Restrictions as to Amendments.

41. A substitute or amendment must relate to the same subject as the original bill, resolution or constitutional amendment under consideration.

Vote Required for Amendments.

42. A constitutional amendment or bill requiring a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate for final adoption or passage may be amended by a majority of those voting.

Procedure of Debate.

Seconding and Announcement of Motion.

43. No motion shall be debated until the same be seconded and distinctly announced by the President, and it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the President or any Senator, and read by the Secretary, before the same shall be debated.

Regulations as to Speaking.

44. 1. When a Senator desires to address the Senate, he shall rise in his place, address the President, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak.

2. No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill, without leave, and Senators who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor except for explanation, so long as any Senator who has not spoken desires to speak.

3. No Senator shall be interrupted when speaking, and no question shall be asked him except those through the presiding officer.

4. The author of a bill, motion, or resolution shall have the privilege of closing the debate.

Seating of the Floor.

45. When two or more Senators arise at the same time to address the Senate, the presiding officer shall designate the Senator who is entitled to the floor.

Order in Debate.

46. When a Senator shall be called to order he shall sit down until the President shall have determined whether he is in order or not, and every question of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any Senator. If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the objectionable language shall immediately be taken down in writing by the Secretary of the Senate.

The Previous Question.

47. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the question be now put?" It shall be admitted only when demanded by a majority of the Senators present upon division; and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate except that the author of the bill or the amendments shall have the right to close, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote. On a motion for the previous question prior to a vote being taken by the Senate, a call of the Senate shall be in order.

Executive Session.

48. When a motion is adopted to close the doors of the Senate, on the discussion of any business which may, in the opinion of the Senate, require an executive session, the President shall require all persons, except the Senators, President of the Senate, Secretary, Minute Clerk, and Sergeant-at-Arms, to withdraw, and during the discussion of said business the doors shall remain closed. Every Senator and officer present shall keep secret all matters and proceedings concerning which secrecy shall be enjoined by order of the Senate.

Voting by Senate.Calling Ayes and Noes.

49. When the ayes and noes shall be called for by three members present, every member within the bar of the Senate at the time the question was put shall declare openly, and without debate, assent or dissent to the question. In taking the ayes and noes, and upon call of the Senate, the names of the Senators shall be taken alphabetically. When the ayes and noes shall be taken upon any question in pursuance of this rule, no Senator shall be permitted, under any circumstances whatever, to vote after the announcement of the vote by the presiding officer.

Excused from Voting.

50. When a Senator declines to vote on a call of his name he shall be required to assign his reasons therefor, and having assigned them, the presiding officer shall submit the question to the Senate: "Shall the Senator, for the reasons assigned by him, be excused from voting?" which shall be decided without debate. And these proceedings shall be had after the roll call and before the result is announced, and any further proceedings in reference thereto shall be after such announcement.

Reconsideration of Vote.

51. On the day succeeding that on which a final vote on any bill, concurrent or joint resolution, or constitutional amendment has been taken, said vote may be reconsidered on motion of any Senator: provided, notice of intention to move such reconsideration shall have been given on the day on which such final vote was taken, by a Senator voting with the prevailing side; and it shall not be in order to reconsider on the day on which such final vote was taken. Said motion for reconsideration shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn. It shall require twenty-one votes to carry any motion to reconsider the vote by which any bill, concurrent or joint resolution, has been passed or defeated, fourteen votes to reconsider the vote by which any constitutional amendment has been passed, and twenty-seven votes to carry any motion to reconsider the vote by which any constitutional amendment has been defeated. Notice of reconsideration of the vote by which a Senate bill was passed, or a Senate joint resolution, Senate concurrent resolution or Senate constitutional amendment adopted, shall not be in order on or after the eighth day preceding the last day of the session. No notice of reconsideration shall be in order on the day preceding the last day of the session.

When Bill Is Held for Reconsideration.

52. If a Senator gives notice that he intends to move a reconsideration, the Secretary shall not transmit the bill, concurrent or joint resolution, or constitutional amendment to the Assembly till the reconsideration is disposed of, or the time for moving the same has expired, unless the bill or resolution has already been transmitted to the Assembly.

When a Bill Is Recalled for Reconsideration.

53. When a bill, resolution, amendment, order or message upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate and been communicated to the Assembly, a motion to reconsider shall be preceded by a motion to request the Assembly to return the same, which last-named motion shall be acted upon immediately and without debate, and if determined in the negative shall be a final disposition of the motion to reconsider.

Debate on Motion to Reconsider.

54. A Senator, after a notice to reconsider is given, as provided in Rule 53, shall, at the reconsideration thereof, present the main question in his argument thereon, and the same shall be debated by the Senate, provided that the subject matter is debatable, and the vote on reconsideration shall be on the merits of the main question.

Messengers and Other Papers.Messengers from the Governor.

55. Messengers from the Governor may be introduced at any stage of business except while a question is being put, while the ayes and noes are being called, while ballots are being counted, or while a Senator is addressing the Senate.

Motion.

Senator Stow moved the enforcement of Rule 70.

Motion carried, and such was the order.

Resolution.

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Tickle:

WHEREAS, There are many questions of procedure and rules of order which may at any time arise before the Senate, which are not covered by the Senate Rules; and WHEREAS, Robert's Rules of Order has heretofore been referred to as the authority to refer to in such cases as are not covered by the Senate Rules or the Joint Rules; and

WHEREAS, Robert's Rules of Order were primarily designed for State debating societies and the like, and are not well adapted to the use of legislative bodies; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Paul Mason, for many years an officer of the Senate, has, at the cost of a great deal of time and painstaking labor prepared a compilation of rules of legislative procedure, which compilation contains all the information contained in Robert's Rules of Order, plus a great deal of valuable material not embodied in Robert's Rules, and has placed the same at the disposal of the Senate; and

WHEREAS, There can be printed at the present time a sufficient number of Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure to supply the Legislature at a very nominal cost by virtue of the fact that the State Printing Department is obliged to carry a large force for the purpose of handling legislative printing, which force is necessarily standing by between the peak loads of legislative printing; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate adopt Mason's compilation hereabove referred to for its use, and the Secretary of the Senate is hereby instructed to have printed a sufficient number to meet the requirements of members and officers of the Legislature.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Tickle, adopted.

3. Whenever any bill has been referred by the Senate to one of its committees, and the same or a like bill has been referred by the Assembly to one of its committees, the chairman of the respective committees, when in their judgment the interests of legislation or the expedition of business will be better served thereby, shall arrange for a joint meeting of their committees for the consideration of such bill.

Bills and Resolutions.Scope of Word "Bill."

4. Whenever the word "bill" is used in these rules it shall include constitutional amendments, joint and concurrent resolutions.

Joint and Concurrent Resolutions.

5. Joint resolutions are those which relate to matters connected with the Federal government. All other resolutions relating to matters to be treated by both houses of the Legislature are concurrent resolutions.

Resolutions Treated as Bills.

6. Joint resolutions, concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall be treated in all respects as bills, except that they shall be read but not passed in each house and that they shall not be deemed bills within the meaning of section 2 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall not be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills, and shall not require a vote to authorize their introduction. As in the case of bills, they shall be engrossed in the house in which they originate before being voted upon.

Preparation and Introduction of Bills.Title of Bill.

7. The title of every bill introduced shall convey an accurate idea of the contents of the bill and shall be indicative of the scope of the act and the subject to be accomplished. In amending a code section, the mere reference to the section by number shall not be deemed sufficient.

Division of Bill Into Sections.

8. Bills amending more than one section of existing laws shall contain a separate section for each section amended.

Bills which are not amendatory of existing laws shall be divided into short sections, where this can be done without destroying the sense of any particular section, to the end that future amendments may be made without the necessity of setting forth and repeating sections of unnecessary length.

Restrictions as to Amendments.

9. A substitute or amendment must relate to the same subject as the original bill, resolution or constitutional amendment under consideration. It shall be the duty of the Legislative Counsel to note all bills upon the third reading file of the Senate and Assembly to determine whether or not such bills have been amended, and if so, whether or not a bill which has been amended affects the same subject matter as that expressed in the title of the original bill. In the event that it does not, he shall immediately notify the Secretary of the Senate in writing if the bill be upon the third reading file of the Senate, or the Chief Clerk of the Assembly if the bill be upon the third reading file of the Assembly, and shall state wherein this rule has been violated.

Changes in Existing Law to Be Marked by Author.

10. In case of a bill amending a code section or a general law, any new matter shall be underlined and any matter to be omitted shall have a single horizontal line through the center. When printed the new matter shall be printed in italics and the matter to be omitted shall be printed in canceled or "strikeout" type.

Indorsement of Date of Introduction.

11. Bills introduced in either house shall be indorsed with the date of introduction.

Printing and Distribution of Bills.Manner of Printing Bills, Etc.

12. The State Printer shall observe the following directions in printing all bills, constitutional amendments, joint and concurrent resolutions:

(a) The body of such bills and resolutions shall be printed in solid unspaced form so that the same type shall be used both before and after enrollment.

(b) All titles of bills, resolutions, etc., shall be set in italics, statute form, and the length of the lines used in the titles shall not exceed that of the body of the bill.

(c) The lines of all printed bills shall be numbered by page and not by sections, and amendments shall be identified by reference to title, page and line only; provided, however, that concurrent resolutions approving city or county or city and county charters or amendments thereto may be set in smaller type and without line numbers.

(d) Enrolled bills may be inclosed in stock cover.

Printing of Amendments.

13. All bills amended by either house shall be immediately reprinted; in the case new matter is added by the amendment such new matter shall be printed in italics in the printed bill, and in the case of matter being omitted, the matter to be omitted shall be printed in type bearing a horizontal line through the center and commonly known as "strikeout" type. When a bill is amended in either house, the first or previous markings shall be omitted. When a bill amendatory of a code section or general law is engrossed, all figures or symbols shall be removed.

Distribution of Legislative Publications.

14. All requests for mailing or distribution of bills, resolutions, Histories, etc., shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly, who shall compile the same with the elimination of duplication as a general mailing list. Each member of the Senate and Assembly shall be permitted to submit a list of ten libraries, chambers of commerce or individuals who shall be placed upon such general mailing list. The Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall order sufficient number of bills, constitutional amendments, joint and concurrent resolutions, Histories, etc., to supply this list, together with such number as may be necessary to supply members and legislative officers, accredited newspaper representatives, law libraries, Legislative Counsel, Attorney General, and one copy to each elective officer or board, together with such requests for individual bills as may be filed with either of the houses of the Legislature or the Legislative Bill Room. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, when it shall appear that there is an insufficient number of any particular legislative publication on hand to supply public demand, to immediately order a reprint of such publication in a number sufficient to meet such demand as may reasonably be anticipated. Except as hereinabove provided, no complete list of bills, resolutions, etc., shall be delivered except upon payment thereof of the sum of $35, which amount after deducting the cost of handling and mailing, shall be by the State Printer remitted one-half each to the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly for credit to legislative printing. Except in the event of unusual demand, as hereinabove provided for, the total number of each bill, constitutional amendment, joint or concurrent resolution to be printed, shall be not more than 2,500.

Distribution of Bills After Constitutional Recess.

15. Following the recess, new bills introduced shall be forwarded to the public libraries and law libraries only, and one copy each of amended bills as may be requested. Weekly Histories shall be distributed generally, following the recess, upon such schedule as the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly may designate.

Journals shall not be distributed to the entire mailing list, but only to State officers, libraries and such persons as may specially request copies of the Journal covering the proceedings of a certain day or covering specific legislative action.

Other Legislative Printing.Printing of the Daily Journal.

16. The State Printer shall print 1,000 copies of the Journal of each day's proceedings of each house; at the end of the session he shall also print a sufficient number of copies, properly paged after being corrected and indexed by the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly, to bind in book form as the Journal of the respective houses of the Legislature as required by law.

What Shall Be Printed in the Journal.

17. The following shall always be printed in the Journal of each house:

(a) Messages from the Governor and messages from the other house, and the titles of all bills, joint and concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments when introduced in, offered to, or acted upon by the house, and the title and text of joint and concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments when adopted by the house; provided, that in the case of a concurrent resolution approving the adoption of a charter or charter amendments of any kind, the text of such charter or charter amendments need not be printed in the Journal.

(b) Every vote taken in the house, and a statement of the contents of each petition, memorial or paper presented to the house.

(c) A true and accurate account of the proceedings of the house, when not acting as a committee of the whole.

Printing of the Daily File.

18. A daily file of bills ready for consideration shall be printed each day for each house, and copies of the file of each house shall be distributed each day to all of the members of both houses.

Printing of History.

19. Each house shall cause to be printed on Monday of each week, during the session, a complete History of all bills, joint or concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments originating in or acted upon by the respective houses.

Such History shall show the action taken upon each measure up to and including the legislative day preceding its issuance.

For each legislative day intervening there shall be printed a Supplementary History showing the action taken upon any measure since the issuance of the complete History. A regular form shall be prescribed and no other form shall be used.

Immediately following the adjournment for the constitutional recess the History shall be compiled and printed to date of recess.

Authority for Printing Orders.

20. The Superintendent of State Printing shall not print for use of either house any matter other than provided by law or by these rules, except upon a written order signed by the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the Assembly. The Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly may also, when necessity requires it, order certain matter printed in advance of the regular order, by the issuance of a rush order.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly to see that the supply of legislative publications for which there is a demand shall not be exhausted between sessions, and that any books authorized and directed to order from the Printing Department and to approve bills covering necessary legislative printing, between sessions of the Legislature.

23. When a Senate bill has been received by the Assembly or an Assembly bill by the Senate, with a message announcing that the same has passed the Senate or Assembly, such bill shall be read the first time by the Secretary or the Chief Clerk and referred to a standing committee by the presiding officer, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

After a Bill Has Been Passed by the Senate or Assembly.

24. When a bill (if it be a Senate bill) has been received from the Senate by the Assembly, after its passage, or (if it be an Assembly bill) has been received from the Assembly by the Senate after its passage, it shall be taken up by the Senate or Assembly, as the case may be, under the regular order of business ("Senate messages" or "Assembly messages"), read the first time, unless otherwise ordered by the house, and shall then be assigned to the proper committee, unless otherwise ordered, who shall act upon the same as soon as practicable, and report the same back to the Senate or Assembly forthwith, and the chairman of each committee is charged with observance of this rule.

25. On the second day after the close of the recess provided for in Section 2, Article IV of the Constitution, the Senate and Assembly shall each adopt and provide a special file upon which shall be placed, in the Senate, only Assembly bills that have passed the Assembly; and in the Assembly, only Senate bills that have passed the Senate. 31. Each house shall act in the usual course upon all bills that may be made to take effect immediately, under the provisions of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution.

Passage of Urgency Provisions in Bills.

32. Upon the third reading of an act which is an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the State Constitution, the presiding officer shall direct that the section of said act setting forth the facts constituting the necessity for such urgency (which shall be known as the urgency section) be then read and put to vote. The question shall be thus stated: "Shall this section, setting forth the urgency features of this bill, be passed?" If upon such final vote two-thirds of all the members elected to the house in which the vote is being taken shall not vote in the affirmative, no further action shall be taken on the bill; but, in case an identical bill without such an emergency clause be again introduced into such house, such bill shall be placed on file without reference to any committee.

When Conference Committee Report Is in Order.

41. The presentation of the report of a Committee on Free Conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read or a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending, or during roll call, and, when raised, the question of proceeding to the consideration of the report, if raised, shall be immediately passed upon, and shall be determined without debate.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 21, 1935.

*Hon. Will R. Sharkey, Senate Chamber,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.*

Request: No. 1397.

DEAR SENATOR: The matter contained in this letter is an analysis of the bill which you introduced today which amends the laws of California so as to provide for the acceptance of the provisions of the National Housing Act. We will analyze the bill section by section in order to see what each section actually does.

In regard to section 1. That section allows the following institutions:

- (1) Savings banks
- (2) Commercial banks
- (3) Insurance companies
- (4) Personal finance companies
- (5) Mortgage companies
- (6) Mortgage insurance companies
- (7) Building and loan associations
- (8) Trust companies

to invest or purchase with their funds or funds in their custody and possession, first liens such as are commonly given to secure advances and to secure the unpaid purchase price of real estate, which have been accepted for insurance by the Federal Housing Administrator in accordance with the provisions of Title II of the National Housing Act.

Title II of the National Housing Act provides for the creation of a mutual mortgage insurance fund. This fund provides for the insurance, upon application of the mortgagee, for a mortgage which conforms to the following qualifications:

- (1) That the principal obligation must not exceed $16,000 and also must not exceed 80 per cent of the appraised value of the property as of the date the mortgage is executed.
- (2) The maturity of the mortgage must not exceed 20 years.
- (3) It must provide for complete amortization provisions satisfactory to the administrator, requiring periodic payments by the mortgagor not in excess of his reasonable ability to pay as determined by the administrator.
- (4) It must bear interest exclusive of premium charges for insurance, not to exceed 5 per cent per year on account of the principal obligation and not to exceed 6 per cent if the administrator finds that in certain cases the mortgage market demands it.

Section 2 of the above mentioned bill provides that the following institutions:

- (1) Savings banks
- (2) Commercial banks
- (3) Insurance companies
- (4) Personal finance companies
- (5) Mortgage companies
- (6) Mortgage insurance companies
- (7) Building and loan associations
- (8) Trust companies
- (9) Fiduciaries
- (10) Fiduciary institutions or agencies, either public or private to invest in or purchase obligations of National mortgage associations and similar credit institutions which are now organized or may be organized under the provisions of Title III of the National Housing Act. The above named institutions may also use the bonds of the National loan associations or similar credit institutions as security for any depository bonds or obligation when such is required or may be by law deposited as security.

Title III of the National Housing Act provides for the establishment of National mortgage associations which shall be authorized to purchase and sell first mortgages and such other first liens as are commonly given to secure advances on real estate held in fee simple or under a lease for not less than 99 years, under the laws of the State in which the real estate is located, together with the credit instruments, if any, secured thereby, such mortgages not to exceed 80 per cent of the appraised value of the property as of the date the mortgage is purchased, and to borrow money for such purposes through the issuance of notes, bonds, debentures or other such obligations as hereinafter provided. So under the California Law as set out in this bill the above named institutions shall be able to invest in or to buy the bonds or debentures of such National mortgage associations, and also use such bonds for deposit as security when such security is required.

Section 3 of the bill allows:

- (1) Savings banks
- (2) Commercial banks
- (3) Insurance companies
- (4) Personal finance companies
- (5) Mortgage companies
- (6) Mortgage insurance companies to make or to invest in or to purchase loans or advances of credit issued under Title I of the National Housing Act.

Title I of the National Housing Act provides that the administrator is authorized, under whatever conditions he may prescribe, to insure the above named institutions against losses which they may sustain as a result of loans and advances of credit, and purchase of obligations representing loans and advances of credit, made by them subsequent to the date of enactment of this act and prior to January 1, 1936, or such earlier date as the President may fix by proclamation, for the purpose of financing alterations, repairs, and improvements upon real property. In no case shall the insurance granted by the administrator under this section to any financial institutions, exceed 20 per cent of the total amount of the loans, advances of credit, and purchases made by such financial institutions for such purposes, and the total liability incurred by the administrator for such insurance shall in no case exceed the aggregate $20,000,000. No insurance shall be granted under this section to any such financial institution with respect to any obligation representing any such loan, advance of credit, or purchase, but at the face amount of which exceeds $2,000; nor unless the obligation bears such interest, has such maturity, and contains such other terms, conditions, and restrictions as the administrator shall prescribe.

Title I also provides that the administrator is empowered to make loans to institutions which are insured under Title I and to enter into loan agreements with such institutions, upon the security of obligations which meet the requirements prescribed under this title. These loans or agreements may be made for the full face value of the obligations offered as security and shall be at such rates as the administrator shall determine.

Under section 4 of the bill, the following institutions:

- (1) Savings banks
- (2) Commercial banks
- (3) Insurance companies
- (4) Personal finance companies
- (5) Mortgage companies
- (6) Mortgage insurance companies
- (7) Building and loan companies
- (8) Trust companies to make such loans, secured by real property or leasehold, as the Federal Housing Administrator insures, under the provisions of the above mentioned Title II of the National Housing Act and to obtain such insurance upon the above mentioned loans.

We have already indicated above the substance of the provisions of Title II, so it will not be necessary to repeat them at this point.

This concludes the analysis of the proposed California Law as introduced in your bill.

The New York Law as enacted in 1934 and set forth in the accompanying draft¹ provides only that corporations and private bankers subject to the banking law, are authorized to make loans and advances of credit and purchases of obligations representing loans and advances of credit as are eligible for insurance under Title I, section 2, of the National Housing Act. Those corporations and private bankers are not allowed under the New York Law to enter into loan agreements or to obtain loans from the National Housing Administrator as is allowed by the proposed California Law.

The New York Law provides that building and loan associations and savings and loan associations are authorized to secure insurance from the Federal savings and loan insurance corporations pursuant to Title IV of such National Housing Act.

Title IV of the National Housing Act provides for the creation of a Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, which shall insure the accounts of institutions eligible for insurance. The institutions eligible for such insurance are all Federal savings and loan associations and the building and loan, savings and loan, and homestead associations and cooperative banks, organized and operated according to the laws of the State, district or territory in which they are chartered or organized. Such Federal Insurance Corporation as above mentioned shall insure the accounts of the above named institutions upon application by those institutions to the said corporation.

Also, the New York Law provides that the State Banking Board shall govern the acceptance by such institutions of the benefits provided in the National Housing Act.

It seems, therefore, that the proposed California Law as set forth in the accompanying draft is far more liberal and far broader than the New York Law on the same subject. This is so especially in regard to the allowance by the California Law of the institutions named in that law to accept the benefits set out in Title II of the National Housing Act. The New York Law excludes this title entirely and also restricts the number of institutions which shall take part in the benefits provided by the National Housing Act. Also, the California Law is far more liberal in regard to building and loan associations by allowing such institutions to accept the benefits of Titles II and III which the New York Law does not provide.

In the time limited for the making of this analysis, it has not been possible to include a study of the existing limitations of California Law as to legal investments of banks, building and loan associations, insurance companies, trust companies, trustees and other agencies that hold and invest the funds of others. We believe you would want such a study prosecuted to completion by someone before you take final action on the bill.

In addition, we would suggest for your consideration the desirability of obtaining from the State Divisions of Banking, of Building and Loan, and of Insurance, and from such other State regulatory and supervisory authorities as may be concerned with the administration of the statutes affected, analyses and recommendations in relation to the financial and economic as well as the legal aspects of this bill.

Yours very truly,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 2: This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

A disastrous forest fire occurred in November, 1933, completely denuding approximately seven square miles of the mountainous watershed above the towns of La Crescenta, Montrose and La Canada, in Los Angeles County, thereby permitting boulders, debris and dirt to wash down upon the populous communities lying below said watershed. The immediate construction of debris dams at the mouths of various canyons below said burned-over watershed and the construction of channels below said debris basins are necessary in order to protect the lives of persons living in said communities and to protect the homes and other property from destruction. The Sixty-third Congress of the United States adopted an act known as "H. R. 7590," appropriating $5,000,000 to be loaned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the repair or reconstruction of flood control systems and other property damaged or destroyed by floods or other catastrophes in the year 1933 and in the months of January and February, 1934, and said corporation has indicated its willingness to loan a portion of said funds to the Los Angeles County Flood Control District for the construction of said debris basins and channels in said area, provided the said district is given the authority to borrow said funds and to repay the same over a period of twenty years. Said act provides the only available means whereby funds may be procured immediately for said work.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 6.

Relative to memorializing the President and Congress to carefully consider what is known as the Townsend Plan of Old Age Revolving Pension.

WHEREAS, The care of the dependent aged has become so great a financial burden to some States that the economic welfare and stability of such States are seriously affected and even threatened; and

WHEREAS, The problem of the care of the dependent aged has recently attained major proportions throughout the Nation, owing largely to the increasing mechanization of our industrial system and to the fact that the economic depression has destroyed the financial independence of a large number of our people, including even those who had prudently prepared for the time when they could no longer earn a livelihood; and

WHEREAS, It seems wise to retire from industry and business those whose efficiency is declining because of advancing old age, thus giving more opportunity for employment and advancement to younger workers; and

WHEREAS, Experience has shown that when ownership of property disqualifies the owner for receipt of an old age pension, a serious injustice is effected and a penalty imposed upon those whose prudence and thrift has led them to prepare for old age by investment in a home or other small holdings, but who have no income with which to support themselves and to preserve their property, particularly since there is often no market for the property; and

WHEREAS, Doctor F. E. Townsend, of Long Beach, California, has devised a plan commonly known as the "Townsend Plan of Old Age Revolving Pension"; and

WHEREAS, The President of the United States has recognized the responsibility of the Federal government in this matter, and has indicated that he will recommend to the Congress of the United States, at its next session, that there be legislation bearing on this problem; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly. That the President and the Congress of the United States is hereby respectfully urged to carefully consider the enactment of an old age pension law and to study the "Townsend Plan of Old Age Revolving Pension"; and be it further

Resolved. That the Governor of the State of California is hereby requested to transmit copies of this resolution to the President and Vice President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each Senator and member of the House of Representatives from California in the Congress of the United States, and that such Senators and members from California are hereby respectfully urged to study such legislation.

Senator Difani asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent for the consideration of Senate Joint Resolution No. 2, for purpose of adoption.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 2.

WHEREAS, F. E. Townsend, M.D., has proposed a plan whereby the personal health and happiness of the aged may become more secure in their declining years; and

WHEREAS, Adequate relief must be provided to those aged who have lost their life's savings because of economic difficulties in the past few years and are now unable to sustain themselves with gainful occupations in commerce and industry, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California, jointly: That the President and Congress be memorialized to investigate and enact legislation as proposed under the principles of the Townsend Plan for security and happiness of the aged; and be it further Budget Message of Governor Frank F. Merriam as Delivered to the Senate and Assembly of California in Joint Assembly at Sacramento, Tuesday, January 22, 1935.

To the State Legislature.

Fulfilling the requirements of the State Constitution, I am submitting herewith a proposed budget for the State of California for the eighty-seventh and eighty-eighth fiscal years, in which will be presented in detail recommended expenditures and a tax program for meeting the budgetary needs of the State government.

Also, observing the commitments contained in the party platforms adopted last September, and in keeping with certain plans and policies of my own which are neither partisan nor political in their inspiration or objective, I am presenting a discussion of general issues and problems of importance to the State.

The State's Fiscal Problem.

Members of the Senate and Assembly are familiar with the unprecedented financial condition of the State government, and, hence, I feel it is unnecessary for me to dwell at length upon the fact that our situation with respect to State finances is a critical one.

Let me impress upon you, however, the fundamental fact that unless drastic remedies are applied in this emergency, the State government soon will be unable to function in many of its essential activities, and a condition closely approximating bankruptcy will develop.

There is no precedent in this State for the financial difficulties in which we find ourselves. State revenues have decreased markedly during the last few years. At the same time, due in part to emergency demands arising from the extended economic depression, it has not been possible to accomplish any great reduction in governmental costs.

We now come face to face with the fact that the disparity between the income of the State and the expenditures of the State has reached a point of real danger.

This danger is strikingly exemplified by the sharp decline of the State's income from various important sources, some of which have been eliminated, as in the case of the gross receipts tax on the utility corporations, and others which now produce less than half the total moneys collected four years ago.

Shrinking Revenue and Increasing Expenses.

While this shrinkage in revenue has been in progress, requirements for our public schools, for aid to the needy, and for interest and redemption of bonds have more than doubled.

Our revenue situation has been complicated by the loss of the gross receipts tax on utility corporations, a biennial item of approximately $78,000,000. This adjustment in our tax structure, and the transfer of the utility properties to the tax rolls of the several counties, was approved by the people more than eighteen months ago and became effective on the first day of this calendar year.

Through this change, also, practically the entire support of the public schools has devolved upon the State.

Because of such losses, the total mandatory expenses of the State government for the coming biennium will exceed the total revenues which existing law will provide. In fact, present rates and schedules will not furnish the State with revenues sufficient to meet payments required by the Constitution for the support of the public schools.

Such conditions must be faced with courage. They must be met with intelligence. Political considerations are not involved, parties must have no place, personal interests are entirely subordinate. We must work harmoniously and unselfishly together in a common cause for the common good.

At a time when so many hundreds of thousands of men, women and children are suffering undeserved hardships—when the very salvation of society and civilization depends upon our willingness to sacrifice and personal or social interests in the service of the people—we must meet extraordinary ills with extraordinary remedies.

And while moving with energy and determination to solve the difficulties and handicaps of this emergency, we must likewise begin in earnest and on an effective way to provide means and adopt policies that will enable the State itself to advance the ordinary precautions of the prudent citizen, who does not spend more than he may reasonably expect to earn, and who does not incur more than he will ultimately be able to repay.

Savings to be effected by reductions in expenditures readily subject to the authority and discretion of the Legislature and the Governor will not materially bring down the cost of State government.

In fact, we could not balance the budget of the State by wholly eliminating the cost of all agencies supported from the general fund, including appropriations for the Legislature, the State courts, the Governor's office, all constitutional officers, the administrative and regulatory departments, State hospitals, prisons, teachers' colleges, and the State university.

Strict Economy Necessary.

The people, who expect no such impossible action nevertheless demand that we, as their chosen representatives, shall cut out all needless costs; that we shall place the government on a sound footing of economy and efficiency, and that we shall obtain maximum returns from the expenditure of public funds.

To such an end we must unreservedly dedicate our common endeavors.

The State government, acting either under mandate of a direct vote of the people, or through legislative enactments that have the approval of the people, has followed certain well defined policies and has incurred certain specific and continuing obligations.

It must be assumed, and in fact there is no question at all, that the people want these broad policies continued and advanced and expect those obligations to be fully carried out. In my administrative program, and in the budget and tax recommendations presented herein, I am proceeding on such an assumption.

Thus we come to the question of obtaining sufficient revenues to carry out the necessary functions of the government—a question that involves both a necessity for meeting the emergency immediately before us and also for the development of a tax program that will impose no undue hardship and no inequitable or unjust burden upon any individual, class or organization.

In simple terms, our problem from a taxation and revenue standpoint may be readily summarized thus:

The minimum budget requirements from the general fund for the biennium of 1935-37, including $69,800,000 for the general operating costs of the State government, and $158,400,000 for disbursements to the counties, will exceed $228,200,000. This is exclusive of the anticipated deficit for the current biennium of approximately $29,000,000.

Estimated revenues from present sources will total $132,600,000.

General Fund Requirements.

The following table sets forth the general outlines of the State's financial situation with respect to the general fund:

PAYMENTS TO THE COUNTIES:
Support of public schools; aid to the needy blind, aged, orphans; tuberculosis, and other subsidies	$158,433,892 82
OPERATING COSTS FOR 1935-37:
Legislative, executive, judicial, and general administrative	$4,920,532 80
Regulative, protective, and developmental	7,671,922 45
Charities and corrections, hospitals, prisons, correctional schools, social welfare	17,195,545 78
State educational establishments, including the teachers colleges and the University of California	17,723,570 00
TOTAL OPERATING COSTS	47,511,571 03
PRICES AND EMERGENCIES	$1,500,000 00
NECESSARY CONSTRUCTION AND IMPROVEMENTS	4,349,300 00
INTEREST AND REDEMPTION OF BONDS	16,472,074 64
TOTAL	22,321,374 64
TOTAL GENERAL FUND REQUIREMENTS	$228,266,838 49
ESTIMATED REVENUE UNDER EXISTING LAW, 1935-37	132,643,656 33
REVENUE NEEDED FROM NEW SOURCES TO BALANCE BUDGET	$ 95,623,182 16

The Deficit Problem.

It will be noted that I have not included in the foregoing table the estimated deficit of approximately $29,000,000 for the current biennium. In all probability the Legislature will find it feasible and advisable to retire this deficit over a period of years. I have, however, made tentative provision for assimilating this debt in the tax program contained in this message.

As a temporary solution of the deficit problem I suggest the possibility of adopting a plan calling for the payment of a greatly reduced rate of interest on the accumulated deficit items.

During the current biennium it will be possible to determine whether the deficit may be gradually absorbed through increased revenues, or through an amortization plan to be submitted to the people for their approval.

Notwithstanding the elimination of this large item from immediate revenue needs, it is apparent that we still must obtain approximately $95,600,000 through new revenue sources if the State's budget is to be brought into balance for the ensuing biennial period.

To such an end I invite your assistance and cooperation in order that the State's business may be efficiently conducted and the State's credit be maintained.

In spite of rigid restrictions in budget recommendations for the operating expenses of the various State departments and agencies, I find that the total appropriations required from the general fund for the ensuing biennium will exceed the 5 per cent limitation on increases provided in section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution.

As will be shown by the analysis below, the budget increase, exclusive of that for public school system (which is exempt from the limitation by the constitutional provision), is taken up by fixed charges and mandatory items over which the budget-maker has practically no control.

Increase in General Fund Appropriations and Comparison with 5 Per Cent Limitation as Provided by Constitution, Art. IV, Sec. 34a.

Total appropriations	$214,524,747 76	$228,296,848 49
Less appropriations for public school system	143,148,286 46	146,592,683 82
(Including State teachers colleges and special schools)
Appropriations exclusive of public school system	$71,376,461 30	$81,674,154 67
Increase	14.43%	10,297,693 37
5 per cent increase would be	3,568,823 06

The foregoing increase of $10,296,693.37 is composed of the following items:

1. Increased requirements for payment to the counties as the State's share of and to the aged, orphans, blind, and patients in tuberculosis sanitarium	$3,211,810 41
2. For increased requirements for interest and redemption on State bonds, the increase being very largely occasioned by the two recent relief bond issues	3,096,767 67
3. For increased operating expenses of our State institutions and prisons due to an increase in the number of the State's wards and higher prices of staple commodities	1,156,141 69
4. For necessary new construction at the State hospitals for insane	2,376,388 00
5. For reserves for emergencies and contingencies	1,398,019 56

These increases total.....$12,129,127 33

Offset against this sum the recommendations for all other purposes show a net reduction of.....1,832,433 96

Making a total net increase in appropriations from the general fund other than for public schools.....$10,296,693 37

Items 1 and 2 above are fixed charges over which the executive budget officer has no control whatever.

Item 3 is in a certain sense likewise a fixed charge since there is no means of controlling the number of individuals committed to our State institutions. There is a certain requirement for care and subsistence which must be met. Higher prices for provisions and other supplies have increased these budget requirements.

Item 4: Our State institutions are badly overcrowded. The amount of construction provided for in the budget will not relieve present overcrowded conditions to any great degree, but will provide merely for the anticipated increased numbers.

Item 5 is in reality not an expenditure item. It is a safety factor demanded in proper budget construction. With the budgets for all State departments and agencies reduced as they are, there remains no margin in the individual budget allotments to provide for emergency conditions.

It is essential to the welfare of the State as a whole that these adjustments in our revenue-producing program be accomplished by the imposition of new or modified taxes only upon those best able to pay. To follow any other course or principle would involve either outright confiscation or invite further dislocation of our economic situation.

New Sources of Revenue Recommended.

The following new sources of revenue are herewith recommended as being levied either upon profits or luxuries, or upon so-called nonessentials, and are thus most likely to be least burdensome upon our workers and all citizens of small means:

1. Personal Income Tax at one-third Federal normal and surtax rates-----	$17,500,000 00
2. Real Estate Transfer Tax 1 per cent on value of sales-----	10,000,000 00
3. Increase Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Increase rate from 2 per cent to 4 per cent-----	11,000,000 00
4. Alcoholic Beverage Tax (Beer) Increase rate from 2 cents per gallon to 3 cents per gallon-----	1,000,000 00
5. Tax on Intoxicating Liquors (Hard Liquors) Stamp Tax on sales in State at 40 cents per proof gallon-----	2,400,000 00
6. Insurance Gross Premium Tax-Increase Increase rate from 2.6 per cent to 4 per cent-----	6,000,000 00
7. Two per cent Severance Tax and Processing Tax-----	12,000,000 00
8. Tax on Admissions: Theatres, Games, etc. 1 cent on each 10 cents (first 20 cents exempt)-----	4,000,000 00
9. Motor Transportation Tax Increase from 3 per cent to 6 per cent and eliminate personal property tax-----	1,400,000 00
These nine items total-----	$65,300,000 00
In addition to the above items, to provide funds required for support of public schools, I recommend that the Retail Sales Tax be increased from the 2 per cent rate to 3 per cent-----	42,000,000 00
Total-----	$107,300,000 00

This proposed program for obtaining new revenue is not advanced on any basis other than necessity, nor is it imposed with any thought other than that it will fall upon those best able to support it.

In compiling the facts and figures upon which each new revenue item is based, we have sought to limit the tax to a minimum. It is axiomatic that no tax, new or old, meets with the approval of those who pay it. Furthermore, because of the economic disturbances of the last few years, with consequent loss of employment to thousands of our citizens, and great reduction in income to other individuals and to industries, we have two general opposing influences with which to contend.

The first, because of its specific needs, would approve a program of taxation that might result in confiscation, and, hence in the destruction of those productive activities to which we must look for revenue at this time. The second, yielding to the human and wholly understandable impulse of self-protection, will look with disfavor upon any further demands upon its resources.

It is my belief the program as outlined to you strikes a just balance between two such extremes, and that your approval of the recommendations herewith presented to you will result in benefits which the State as a whole will enjoy.

In Lieu Tax.

It is my recommendation that you give consideration to the advisability of eliminating personal property taxes on motor vehicles and levy fees in lieu thereof for State purposes based on weight and value. It is estimated that $25,000,000 can be secured by this arrangement without increasing the tax load on the individual automobile owner. This would in some measure compensate the State for the loss of revenue occasioned by the transfer of the public utility property to the counties. Should you desire to substitute this source of revenue for others above recommended or use it in providing funds for additional buildings at the institutions, it will meet with my approval.

This system will also save the automobile owner the inconvenience of having his certificate stamped by the assessor or tax collector before securing the automobile license plates and will prove much more efficient.

Unemployment Relief.

For the purpose of financing unemployment relief for the coming biennium, it is recommended that certain taxes be levied, with provision for their abrogation at the discretion of the Governor when it shall appear that the present emergency has ceased to exist. In any event, I suggest that such emergency unemployment relief taxes be definitely limited to the two-year period beginning July 1, 1935.

It is recommended that a sum totaling $47,300,000 be provided for unemployment relief for the biennium of 1935-37, to be expended under State supervision and used exclusively in a public works program, and not exceeding 50 per cent of this amount to be used for the construction of State buildings.

The following tax plan to carry out the emergency program of unemployment relief is recommended:

1. 1 cent additional tax on gasoline.....	$23,300,000 00
2. 3 per cent consumers' tax on gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph, and other utility services.....	16,000,000 00
3. Tobacco tax: 2 cents per package of twenty cigarettes, and 10 per cent on other products.....	8,000,000 00

Total.....$47,300,000 00

Taxes for Support of the Public Schools.

Contributions to be made by the State, as required by the Constitution, to the public schools of California for the coming biennium will exceed $142,500,000. The major portion of this sum will be provided by a school tax levied on retail sales.

Two years ago, under provisions of the Sales Tax Law the Legislature enacted this tax for the support of our schools. The terms of the act provided for a rate of 2½ per cent on retail sales, to be reduced to 2 per cent after June 30, 1935.

At the lower rate, it is estimated this tax will produce approximately $84,000,000, or $58,500,000 less than the indicated school requirements.

Because of the unsatisfactory condition of our finances, and the obvious necessity for maintaining our schools at their present high standard of efficiency, I am convinced that during a continuance of our present emergency conditions this type of tax can carry, without severe hardship to our people, an even greater share of the school costs.

Such a tax reaches a large group which otherwise makes a relatively small contribution toward the support of government; and that is the group which derives the most benefit from the public schools. The increased revenue from a 3 per cent school tax will produce approximately $126,000,000—still short of the total required for public school purposes and exclusive of the appropriations needed for the operation of the State university, the teachers' colleges, and other educational institutions of the State.

Operation of the tax on retail sales has indicated the desirability of certain minor adjustments in the method of collecting the tax. It is recommended that section 8 and section 8½ of the Retail Sales Act be repealed, and that the act be amended so as to authorize the merchant to allocate and collect this tax on the basis of his gross sales, thus enabling him to assess the tax on whatever items he may select. To a modified extent this practice has already been followed with success in certain retail establishments.

Cost of Governmental Operations Restricted.

Owing to decreased revenues, and also to the lessened ability of our citizens to carry their financial burdens, I have felt it necessary to adopt a policy calling for the strictest limitation of expenditures for the maintenance and operation of various State boards, departments, commissions and other agencies.

Operating costs have been greatly reduced. Reductions have been made in the higher salaries and further pruning may be necessary if our total income falls short of the basic needs of the government. I have been compelled—in many instances with great reluctance—to make sweeping reductions in the budget requests submitted by department heads.

It is only just to say that under this policy of rigid economy, many State agencies will be unable to operate as heretofore or, possibly, to the extent which the people may expect. In this regard the taxpayer, in his own interest, must be content with less service in some instances until increased revenues permit the government to more fully serve the public.

This much is certain, that every State official and employee will be expected to do his or her best, without complaint in a spirit of public service.

With few exceptions the restricted program of expenditures adopted by the Legislature two years ago has been adhered to and continued in effect. It has been found necessary to provide increased supply allotments for institutions charged with the custody and care of the State's wards. This is due to additional population in these institutions, and to an increase in commodity prices.

While some elasticity has been provided in the budget recommendations for such establishments, any general price increases will involve costs in excess of the budget estimates herewith submitted.

As a measure of safety and protection, I recommend establishment of an emergency reserve fund of not less than $1,500,000 to meet contingencies that may arise.

Institutions and Prisons Overcrowded.

The recent prison break at San Quentin has served to focus public attention on deplorable conditions, due to overcrowding and inadequate facilities, existing in our great penal institutions.

Recurrences of such unfortunate episodes, more terrible and far more disastrous than the temporary escape of four desperate men, more menacing to the lives of prison authorities and of peaceful citizens generally, are inevitable if immediate and vigorous steps are not taken to remedy conditions that have been too long neglected.

On this issue we can not temporize, we can not delay. In the ordinary sense of the term, I feel we can not economize. There is nothing to be gained by the State in saving dollars at the expense of public security and public decency.

The enforced idleness caused by the overcrowding of a prison is a curse which breeds despair, viciousness and corruption. From such consequences society itself is the chief sufferer.

California is an enlightened State, and in this commonwealth have germinated and developed some of the most forward looking and inspiring humanitarian laws and practices. What a splendid service would be the prompt development here of a prison system that would prevent, rather than create and encourage, the spread of criminal activities and the inculcation of criminal tendencies.

The mere inadequacy of prison facilities falls like a poisonous blight upon the first offender, or those convicted of lesser crimes, who must be herded day and night—month after month—with the vicious, antisocial or degenerate criminal.

It is my prayerful hope that with the aid of the Legislature we may immediately begin the work of sensible prison reform to the end that a modern penal system may be established here, providing for the segregation not only of first offenders, but of different types of offenders.

A junior prison and reformatory should be constructed in southern California as soon as a proper site can be acquired. Such an institution should be located where soil and climatic conditions are favorable to a work program which will combine healthful activity with useful and productive occupation.

I recommend prompt action looking to appropriations from State revenues, or to the acquisition of funds from the public works program of President Roosevelt, for the purchase of lands and the construction of buildings adequate to meet the requirements of this menacing problem.

At the same time we should adopt laws which will guarantee not only proper corrective procedure in our prisons, but will assure the application of policies definitely seeking the reformation of the individual prisoner. Work, which the individual is equipped by training and experience to perform, or which can be adapted to his physical needs and aptitudes, should be provided for each able-bodied prison inmate. Of course care must be taken that the products of prison labor shall not come into competition with those of free labor.

This practice should be followed as a requisite of prison routine both as a measure of economy in prison operation and in furtherance of the far more important task of rehabilitation of those whose offenses against society have brought about their incarceration.

The lessons so sharply brought home by the San Quentin escapes will have the further effect of drawing attention to our parole laws and their application. In this regard, I hope we may proceed alertly and intelligently; for no individual or public good will be accomplished by any arbitrary or hasty action on this question. Obviously, our parole procedure needs overhauling to the end that society may be more adequately protected and the case of the individual prisoner may be more carefully studied before a parole is granted.

Notwithstanding that we have, possibly, made some mistakes on the side of excessive optimism concerning the likelihood of reforming certain types of prisoners, we shall gain nothing by a sudden zeal for severity toward those who may deserve our thoughtful consideration.

The Women's Reformatory.

Operation of the Women's Reformatory at Tehachapi has been conducted on an unsatisfactory basis because of contradictions and inadequacies of existing law. This reformatory was established as a result of perseverance and unselfish devotion of leaders in the various women's organizations of California. The institution was authorized, land was purchased and buildings were erected under the directions of a State Board, the majority of whom were women.

An oversight in drafting appropriate legislation for the creation and administration of the reformatory has brought about a situation under which the management of the institution itself is under the women's board, while the prisoners are subject to control by the State Prison Board and the Board of Prison Terms and Parole.

In order that this important corrective institution be permitted to function efficiently, and in accordance with the purposes for which it was founded, I recommend the enactment of certain clarifying amendments designed to remedy the existing situation.

It is recommended that full control of the reformatory and its inmates be placed under the women's board, and that such board be authorized to fix the length of prison terms and also exercise all powers conferred under our parole laws.

Other Institutions Crowded.

Our prisons are not the only State institutions where overcrowding and inadequate facilities and equipment work severe hardships upon the inmates. Many wooden structures, constructed more than 27 years ago as temporary housing facilities, continue to house the insane. These buildings are sheathed with larch pine boards with neither lath nor plaster to protect against heat or cold. This condition presents a serious fire hazard and a constant menace to the lives of patients and attendants.

In many of our State hospitals patients are quartered in basements and in attics. Beds in many wards are so close together that care and treatment of patients is seriously impaired.

To remedy this condition a building program calculated to relieve the situation as rapidly as funds may be made available should be adopted. If the State had been able to maintain such a program through the years, the present intolerable conditions would not exist.

In this budget only such recommendations as will meet the minimum immediate requirements for permanent construction have been included. This is illustrated by the fact that items recommended by me total $3,700,000 for such purposes, while the requirements as estimated by department heads approximate $46,000,000.

Your attention is also directed to the message of President Roosevelt to the present Congress in which he recommended that an augmented program of public works be undertaken without delay through and from the Federal Government.

Agencies Supported from "Special" Funds.

This message has thus far dealt solely with financial problems relating to the proposed expenditures from the State's general fund. We are not confronted with any serious difficulty in maintaining and operating State agencies supported by special funds collected specifically for their exclusive use.

Of course, most of these agencies have found it necessary to adjust their activities and expenditures to the diminished revenues which they have collected, but in the main they have suffered no restrictions in keeping with the severe hardships encountered by activities supported from general fund appropriations.

A Department of Public Safety.

The many separate agencies of the State government directly or indirectly concerned with the protection and safety of our citizens can be rendered the most efficient in their services and much more economical in their maintenance and operation through a coordination of authority and effort.

To this end the creation of a Department of Public Safety, into which department should be transferred the California Highway Patrol, the Division of Motor Vehicle Registration, the Bureau of Criminal Identification, the Detective License Division, the Division of Narcotic Enforcement, Board of Prison Terms and Pardons, the State Parole Department, the State Board of Prison Directors, and the State Capitol Police, is recommended.

The members of the California Highway Patrol should be given general police powers, subject to certain restrictions, to be exercised at the discretion of the Governor.

The prevention, detection, suppression and punishment of crime has become difficult and complex. Each political subdivision possesses its own police power and its machinery for fighting crime. The State, however, which is in a position to render effective aid in this matter, and through its widespread activities and facilities to coordinate and expedite the war on criminal activities, has been handicapped through an absence of specifically delegated police authority.

The cost of maintaining and administering a State Department of Public Safety will be more than justified by the results to be obtained.

Your approval of these suggestions will enable California to take a decisive part, within its own borders, in the constant and unrelenting war which goes on between the forces of law and order and the members of the criminal element.

Representatives from certain western States have been invited to come to California to meet with representatives from this State for a conference designed to improve, strengthen and extend crime suppression activities. This conference should result in many very definite benefits, among which can be listed more uniform laws, improvement in general police procedure, and greater cooperation between the law enforcement agencies of the several State governments.

It is my earnest determination not only to make California unpopular with the gangster, the criminal, and the thug, but to develop conditions here that will render more difficult if not impossible the operations of organized crime.

Commission to Investigate State Water and Power Program.

I now come to a matter which must be treated with absolute candor and impartiality if any ultimate public benefit is to be derived from a discussion of all of its aspects and possibilities. A mere repetition and relash of all the controversial contentions, and to some extent highly prejudiced arguments surrounding this subject will serve only to add to popular confusion.

It is a subject upon which honest opinion differs sharply and concerning which experts and other competent authorities are in disagreement. It has become an issue, frequently misunderstood and misrepresented, in politics and political campaigns. Basically, however, it is vitally related to the economic welfare of all the people.

Hence, the suggestions I am advancing herewith must be considered as an attempt to create a basis for intelligent and just consideration of a problem which ultimately must be solved equitably and sensibly.

The appointment of a Commission to Investigate the State's Water and Power Program is recommended, to be composed of citizens of California appointed by the Governor, and to be authorized to investigate the feasibility and desirability, from the standpoint of public interest, of the acquisition by the State of California of the electric power generating and distributing facilities now under both private and public ownership within the State.

We have this situation before us in California: Developing side by side, serving a similar purpose, and utilizing the same resources for the production, distribution, and sale of an identical product, there are two great electrical power groups, one actually owned by hundreds of thousands of investors and operated under private management, and the other owned by the people and managed by public authority.

No wide difference exists in the general rates charged by these respective, and to an increasing extent competitive, groups. The privately-owned utilities, subject to government regulation, are required to pay various kinds of taxes; the publicly-owned utilities have not been subject to taxation. There are many other conditions involved in this situation which embrace either actual or potential contradictions, inequalities, and opportunities for conflict.

This problem should not be approached from the standpoint of the partisans either of public or private ownership, but solely from that of the economic well-being of the State as a whole.

Entrance of the Federal Government into gigantic power development projects, and the vast resources thus made available from the public treasury for virtually unlimited extension of publicly-owned undertakings of this nature, have greatly added to the uncertain status of privately-owned power utilities.

The Commission which I ask you to authorize, and which should have a membership of not less than nine nor to exceed fifteen persons, should be empowered to discuss the possible purchase, and to obtain independent estimates of the sale value, of such privately- and publicly-owned generating and distributing systems, which the State might determine to acquire.

It must be kept in mind that there are more than 250,000 men and women in California whose savings are invested in the privately-owned electrical industry, and that this very large group of our population is entitled to fair treatment in any negotiations looking to the acquisition, by purchase, of the properties whose securities are held by the investing public.

Whether electric power is to be supplied under private or under public ownership, it is manifest that it should be supplied by a widespread and interconnected system having a diversity of load, serving agriculture and industry as well as residences, so that all classes of consumers may continue to enjoy low rates and the continuity of service that only such a system can afford.

In its broader aspects, this whole question necessarily involves the vital problem of the development and conservation of our water resources in the State, because power development can not be dissociated from that greatest of all natural resources.

State's Water Problem.

Our water problems are complicated by unequal geographical and seasonal distribution and supply. Such inequalities occur from year to year, and from season to season. In some parts of our State, the water supply is in excess of ultimate needs of the area chiefly affected, while in other sections there is a deficiency even for present necessities.

This vital natural resource must be controlled, distributed and utilized for the benefit and the welfare of the people. So far as practicable, and equitable, the inequalities due to natural conditions must be adjusted by conservation and development.

Floods from our streams must be impounded and their destructive and wasteful forces brought under control. To this end we must plan with energy, foresight, and vision. The future progress and prosperity of California are in large degree dependent upon the economic development of our water resources.

Some of our most acute water problems involve a large area of the State. These pressing questions can not here be treated in detail, although the conditions have been the subject of legislative concern for many years and a comprehensive plan for their solution has, over a long course of time, been evolved for a large portion of the State.

These plans propose the coordination of all efforts, both public and private, for the complete development, conservation and utilization of all the water resources of California. Portions of the plans are now in course of being realized.

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California is actively engaged in constructing works to convey and distribute water from the Colorado River, made available by the Boulder Dam Project. The Imperial Valley will benefit largely from the All-American Canal, upon which work is already commenced. Our west coast counties, as well as others in the interior, all have their water problems which must be solved at the proper time.

The two great valleys of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers present an exceedingly acute and complex problem, including impairment of irrigation on the Sacramento River, salt water intrusion into the fertile delta lands of the Sacramento and San Joaquin, lack of sufficient fresh water supply for the industries in the San Francisco Bay region, and an entirely inadequate water supply in the San Joaquin Valley.

The Central Valley Project has been carefully planned to embrace the solution of these problems and will confer lasting benefits upon the State and Nation.

Unemployment Relief.

The most serious problem confronting us today is the need for relief of unemployment. The situation demands perfect coordination of action between State and Nation. The President in a recent message to Congress has announced that this emergency must be solved by providing employment for those in need, but that the result of that work must be useful in that it raise official permanent unemployment in living conditions, or that it shall create future new needs for the Nation. The Central Valley Project fulfills in all its aspects these practical principles declared by the President to be the necessary foundation for a successful program of work relief.

For many years I have been in complete sympathy with this project, and I am wholeheartedly in favor of its early construction. I have done, and I propose to do, everything in my power to make the project a reality. The Legislature has passed an act, which has been approved by vote of the people, authorizing and directing the project to be constructed immediately upon funds being made available. The administrative agency created by that act has filed with the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works an application for a grant and loan of funds for that purpose. Should Congress approve the broad program of the administration for unemployment relief, it is believed the Central Valley Project is in a favorable position to receive Federal aid. In such event we shall be privileged to participate in the erection of a conspicuous and permanent landmark in California history. It may well be placed in the class of the other four great projects now under construction in California, namely, the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, the Golden Gate Bridge, the Metropolitan Water District and the All-American Canal. These five projects involve the expenditure of $536,000,000.

I am in receipt of a letter from the President offering the advice and assistance of the legal division of the Public Works Administration in the preparation and drafting of legislation necessary to facilitate and expedite the National Public Works Program as it may be extended to the State of California. On behalf of the people of the State of California, I have accepted that offer and given assurance that you will stand ready to cooperate with the President and Congress by enacting such legislation as may be necessary to enable our State to go forward with the President and Congress in a National Recovery Program.

Federal Cooperation with States for Social Security.

In a special message to Congress, President Roosevelt has outlined a comprehensive program for social security, including unemployment insurance, old age benefits, Federal aid to dependent children, and Federal aid to State and local governmental health agencies.

From a careful reading of the President's comments, and from a study of the plan he has urged Congress to approve, I find myself in full accord with practically all of the suggestions contained in his message.

He has submitted to Congress a report from those appointed by him to investigate the subjects which he discusses, and has asked the Congress to enact proper legislation without delay.

The success of the general social security plan depends entirely on the degree of cooperation that may be developed and maintained between the Federal Government and the governments of the several States, and as no single State at this time can undertake upon its own account a program that does not harmonize with the policies of the National Government, I recommend that we hold ourselves in readiness for prompt action following enactment of legislation by Congress.

Regardless of any differences of opinion and policy that may arise, I believe there is little opportunity for disagreeing with the principles as laid down by the President for the care of the aged and for the protection of workers thrown out of employment during periods of economic depression.

I quote herewith from his message:

"Federal action is necessary to and conditioned upon the actions of States. Forty-four legislatures are meeting or will meet soon. In order that the necessary State action may be taken promptly it is important that the Federal Government proceed speedily.

"It is overwhelmingly important to avoid any danger of permanently discrediting the sound and necessary policy of Federal legislation for economic security by attempting to apply it on too ambitious a scale before actual experience has provided guidance for the permanently safe direction of such efforts.

"The place of such a fundamental in our future civilization is too precious to be jeopardized now by extravagant action. It is a sound idea—a sound ideal. Most of the other advanced countries of the world have already adopted it and their experiment affords the knowledge that social insurance can be made a sound and workable project.

"Three principles should be observed in legislation on this subject. In the first place, the system adopted, except for the money necessary to initiate it, should be self-sustaining in the sense that funds for the payment of insurance benefits should not come from the proceeds of general taxation. Second, excepting in old age insurance, actual management should be left to the States subject to standards established by the Federal Government. Third, sound financial management of the funds and the reserves, and protection of the credit structure of the Nation should be assured by retaining Federal control over all funds through trustees in the treasury of the United States.

"At this time I recommend the following types of legislation looking to economic security:

"1—Unemployment compensation.

"2—Old age benefits, including compulsory and voluntary annuities.

"3—Federal aid to dependent children through grants to State for the support of existing mothers' pension systems and for services for the protection and care of homeless, neglected, dependent and crippled children.

"4—Additional Federal aid to State and local public health agencies and the strengthening of the Federal public health service. I am not at this time recommending the adoption of so-called health insurance, although groups representing the medical profession are cooperating with the Federal Government in the further study of the subject and definite progress is being made.

"With respect to unemployment compensation, I have concluded that the most practical proposal is the levy of a uniform Federal pay roll tax, 90 per cent of which should be allowed as an offset to employers contributing under a compulsory State unemployment compensation act. The purpose of this is to afford a requirement of a reasonably uniform character for all States cooperating with the Federal Government and to promote and encourage the passage of unemployment compensation laws in the States.

"Moreover, in order to encourage the stabilization of private employment Federal legislation should not foreclose the States from establishing means for inducing industries to afford an even greater stabilization of employment.

"In the important field of security for our old people, it seems necessary to adopt three principles—first, noncontributory old age pensions for those who are now too old to build up their own insurance; it is, of course, clear that for perhaps 30 years to come funds will have to be provided by the States and the Federal Government to meet these pensions.

"Second, compulsory contributory annuities which in time will establish a self-supporting system for those now young and for future generations. Third, voluntary contributory annuities by which individual initiative can increase the annual amounts received in old age.

"It is proposed that the Federal Government assume one-half of the cost of the old age pension plan, which ought ultimately to be supplanted by self-supporting annuity plans.

"The amount necessary at this time for the initiation of unemployment compensation, old age security, children's aid and the promotion of public health, as outlined in the report of the committee on economic security, is approximately $100,000,000.

"The establishment of sound means toward a greater future economic security of the American people is dictated by a prudent consideration of the hazards involved in our National life. No one can guarantee this country against the dangers of future depressions but we can reduce these dangers."

I shall ask California's Representatives in the United States Congress to inform me promptly of the adoption of legislation requested by the President in this matter, and upon receipt of the necessary information, I shall transmit a further message to you, with such recommendations as may be deemed necessary to place California in harmony and cooperation with the Federal Government's social security program.

Unemployment Insurance.

The problem of the industrious, law-abiding man or woman who wants work and is unable to get it, is one of the gravest and most perplexing problems confronting and challenging our modern, highly organized, minutely specialized, industrial civilization.

The inherent difficulties of the problem are suggested when we try to differentiate between the industrious, good citizen, who is willing to work, but can not find employment, and the habitual and incurable waster, drifter, and unemployable, who thinks the world, by which he means the industrious and frugal portion of the population, owes him a living.

Nevertheless, the time has come when society, represented by government, can no longer shirk or postpone a vigorous, continued, determined effort to solve the problem of unemployment. To that task California, in common with the other States and the Federal Government, must devote itself, undisturbed by its difficulties.

Numerous unemployment insurance bills have been introduced in the Legislatures of the various States in the past year or two, and 125 such bills were introduced in the last session of Congress.

Thus far, Wisconsin is the only State in which unemployment insurance legislation has been enacted, and as the Wisconsin statute has been in effect only since July 1, 1934, that State is not in a position to aid other States through her experience. Many informed persons question whether the Wisconsin Plan of Unemployment Insurance will accomplish what every well devised plan of unemployment insurance should accomplish. The Wisconsin Plan provides for the creation of a reserve by contributions from a single employer, a group of employers, or an entire industry, but the liability of the group contributing to the fund is limited to the amount of money in the reserve. When the fund is exhausted, the liability ceases. Thus the fund can not become insolvent, but it avoids insolvency by the simple expedient of shutting off liability to support the unemployed.

England has had an insurance act since 1911 and Germany since 1927. Both were swamped by the exigencies of the depression, which upset all calculations, and both have had to seek special subsidies from tax money and have therefore become systems of unemployment relief rather than unemployment insurance based on insurance principles.

In the United States, in addition to the Wisconsin experiment, several large private corporations have adopted plans of unemployment insurance for their own employees. Other and untried plans are being advocated. It is not necessary here to discuss those various plans. My purpose in this statement is to emphasize the urgent need of some practicable plan of relief.

The Townsend Old Age Pension Plan.

Formulation of an old age pension law, generally applicable throughout the Nation and representing the joint responsibility of the Federal Government and the several States, will remove the menace of want and destitution from the lives of hundreds of thousands of men and women.

There are many plans for accomplishing this highly desirable result, among them the so-called Townsend Plan, originated by a citizen of California and now formally brought before the Congress of the United States in the form of proposed legislation introduced in the House of Representatives.

The Townsend Plan has attracted the attention and inspired the eager hopes of many thousands of our citizens throughout the Nation. Old age pensions have been recommended by the major political parties of California to the careful attention of the Federal Government.

It is my recommendation that the California Legislature memorialize the Congress, urging a full investigation and study of this plan with a view to its possible adaptation to the Federal old age benefits plan.

Shorter Work Week.

No permanent and satisfactory adjustment of our long-range unemployment problem can be accomplished until we discover an equitable and economic plan for reducing the total number of hours the average worker shall be required to labor in any one day or any one week in return for a living wage.

On this subject, the Republican Party Platform adopted in State convention at Sacramento on September 20, 1934, said:

"That as an aid to and in assistance of the greater dissemination of work among the greatest number of people, thereby relieving unemployment and aiding economic recovery, the Congress of the United States is respectfully and earnestly requested and urged to enact laws providing for a shorter working week and day, namely, a thirty-hour week and a six-hour day."

The Democratic Party's State Platform, adopted in State convention on September 20, 1934, announced:

"We declare in favor of the five-day week and six-hour day without corresponding reduction in wages."

The two major political parties are thus shown to be in close harmony on this vitally important subject, which is in no sense political, but is related to the basic influences of our economic future.

It is improbable that absolute uniformity of working hours in all lines of business and industry can readily be achieved, but this should be our goal and the thirty-hour week should be the basis for which we should strive. The accomplishment of such a result should enlist the active cooperation of the State, the employers and the workers.

All Highways in State System.

Since 1912, when the State of California began its highway-building program, good roads have played an increasingly important part in the progress and development of the State. Many millions of dollars have been expended on our highways by the State and county governments and our great highway system is described by the United States Bureau of Public Roads at this time as second to none in the Nation.

It should be our purpose, therefore, not only to maintain the high road-building and maintenance standards of the past, but to seek every avenue for greater efficiency and improvement.

To this end I recommend abandonment of the existing dual system of State and county roads, and the inclusion of all highways into a single State system, whereby greater economy in construction and maintenance may be assured.

The present sources of revenue for construction and maintenance of highways include the gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration fees, augmented in many counties by taxes on real property.

Under provisions of a program calling for exclusive construction and maintenance of highways by the State, counties will be relieved of the necessity for levying property taxes for road purposes and, through the elimination of 58 separate county road departments, millions of dollars annually will be saved to the taxpayers.

There is no economic justification of this vast duplicating system operated by the counties, and from a service standpoint, the benefits to be obtained from the centralized and coordinated control of the State are almost incalculable.

The actual savings to the taxpayers in the various counties will represent a large sum, as is indicated by the fact that for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934, such road taxes collected in the counties reached a total of approximately $3,000,000.00.

Furthermore, it is evident that a larger percentage of State highway revenues must be expended in the cities and towns of the State in the interest of the people as a whole and of the traveling public.

It is, therefore, recommended that legislation be enacted whereby, first, all county roads shall be constituted State highways, and, second, that the amount now required by law to be expended in cities by the Department of Public Works, out of the State highway fund, shall be doubled.

If approved, this would mean that the cities, instead of receiving $\frac{1}{2}$ -cent from the gasoline tax fund, will be allocated $\frac{3}{4}$ -cent from this fund.

The policy of opposition to any diversion of highway revenues to any use other than that for which such funds are raised should be continued and protected. This principle, which has received indorsement by vote of the people of California, also is upheld by the Congress of the United States, which has provided, in an act approved by the President on June 18, 1934, that any State which shall divert such taxes to uses other than construction and maintenance of highways shall be deprived of not less than one-third of its apportionment of Federal road-aid funds.

The State's Mineral Resources.

Wherever California's agricultural land stops, her mineral resources begin. Our deserts are rich in chemicals, our arid hills and plains are underlain with oil, and the foothills of our Sierras define the greatest established gold-bearing zone in the world. Every encouragement should be given to the exploration and conservation of these mineral resources, of benefit to no one so long as they lie buried, but which, upon development, furnish employment, and stimulate demand for power, transportation, supplies, machinery, and farm products.

In this connection I wish especially to mention our gold industry. Owing to international concern in the metal, the basis of finance and credit in times of peace, and often the determining factor in war, California's increased gold production is of world-wide interest.

Gold mining, which has played so large a part in the history of the State, merits all the encouragement that the State government can give it.

The Oil Industry.

Hundreds of thousands of our people are dependent on the oil industry for employment, for income from investments, or royalties from lands. Virtually everybody is a consumer of the products of this industry. The importance of petroleum and its derivatives to our modern civilization, their value as a safeguard to the Nation in time of war, and as a means of holding our commercial supremacy cannot be exaggerated.

It is estimated that approximately 9,000,000,000 barrels or three-fourths of our recoverable oil reserves, must be produced from some 300,000 small wells by pumping, and that this three-fourths of our proven reserve is in danger on account of the inability of the owners of these small wells to market their oil in competition with that produced from flowing wells.

Low-cost flowing oil can be brought to the surface and dumped on the market, thereby forcing the shut-down and abandonment of the small wells with higher production costs, with a resultant loss of employment, loss to the owners of the land, loss of revenue to the various units of government, and loss to the Nation of an irreplaceable resource of enormous economic value.

The taxes paid by the oil industry in California to the Federal State and local governments exceed $5,000,000 per month.

Regulation of crude oil production by governmental authority is necessary to prevent waste of our oil reserves. For several years we have had comparatively successful regulation of oil production in this State by voluntary agreement with the industry. But this is not sufficient. We should cooperate with the other oil producing States and the Federal Government in means to protect California oil industry from the evils attendant upon excessive production and ruinous competition.

Agriculture.

The last two years have shown some improvement in prices received by producers of California crops, but prices are still below a fair normal return for most of our agricultural products. Restoration of normal prices for such products should be reflected in the increased purchasing power of farmers with a consequent spending in of many other forms of industry.

Everything possible should be done by the Legislature and the State government to encourage producing farmers and to restore the normal income of this basic industry. Laws having a practical application to the farmers' problems should be enacted in aid of the more efficient and profitable production, transportation and marketing of crops.

At the same time there should be no impairment of the valuable and multitudinous services rendered to the farmer, the dairyman, and the horticulturist, such as quarantine service, pest control, the program for wiping out bovine tuberculosis, and other governmental activities administered in the farmers' interest.

It is recommended that the Senate and Assembly consider among their next session the problems and needs of the State's agricultural activities. Federal legislation enacted by Congress in aid of the farmer and basic agricultural or supplementary State laws on the Federal enactments.

This will assure cooperation between the National and State governments and enable California to benefit from any special advantages offered by the Federal Government.

Extension of Debt Relief Legislation.

It is recommended that the temporary relief to taxpayers and certain classes of debtors afforded by the Special Legislative Session last September be extended as a further measure of protection for those unable to meet their financial obligations at this time.

Conditions which prompted such relief measures have not improved to the extent that would justify suspension of such emergency enactments as those providing for the extension of periods of redemption, reduction of penalties and postponement of times of sale, resale, and execution of deeds in respect to delinquent State, county and irrigation district taxes and assessments on real property.

Necessity also demands an extension of various emergency legislative acts adopted for the purpose of aiding other hard pressed debtors, including a moratorium on defaults on contracts of purchase and on the foreclosure of mortgages and deeds of trust, and on the sale under power of sale contained in mortgages or deeds of trust executed upon real property.

The Legislature will have ample time to give these important problems such consideration and attention as may be requisite to the adoption of a more comprehensive plan for the relief of those individuals and groups in our citizenship requiring the solicitous and helpful care of the State government.

California Pacific International Exposition.

In keeping with the ability of the State of California to participate, it is recommended that the Legislature cooperate with and aid those in charge of the California Pacific International Exposition, which is scheduled to open in San Diego on May 29 of this year.

Sponsored by the civic and business leaders of the State, and actively supported by the enterprising citizens of San Diego, this nonprofit undertaking will seek to stimulate recovery in the west by attracting to its exhibits residents from all sections of the country and from abroad.

California joins with the people of San Diego in inviting a host of visitors to this exhibit of modern invention, art, and industry.

Conclusion.

This budget is offered with no pride of opinion concerning any item. Neither have I advanced my views on other subjects relating to the State government and the welfare of the people with any arbitrary thought or purpose. Our difficulties are great, and there is no simple or easy way to meet them. There may be better solutions of some of our fiscal and social problems than I have been able to present. But I have given to the task long and anxious days, and I feel that the budget recommendations are fair and practical, and, if approved, will enable the State government to carry on through the next biennium on a business basis.

In formulating the budget I have adhered to certain principles which seem to me not only sound, but in present circumstances, imperative. Severe economy must be practiced to the point where further economy would be injurious to the public interest. But the necessary appropriations and expenditures should be balanced by income.

Taxes from new sources should be distributed so that all shall bear some portion of the burden, but those best able to pay should carry a greater portion of the load.

If you disagree with me respecting any revenue item, I shall be glad to discuss its merits with you, but if the Legislature should decide to eliminate or modify any revenue item, then the responsibility will be on you to provide an equal amount of revenue from another source or to eliminate an equal item of expense.

If you should add expense items, it will be necessary for the Legislature to provide the money, wherewith they shall be met.

The task of solving these questions is yours as well as mine and I certainly claim no monopoly of knowledge or wisdom. In this spirit, and with this reminder of the restrictions imposed by the simple arithmetic of the situation I confide this budget to your consideration.

Case of Urgency.

Recommendation of the Governor.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,

SACRAMENTO, JANUARY 23, 1935.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate:

Senate Bill No. 73—An act authorizing the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works to prosecute efforts to secure Federal aid and assistance in financing the construction of the Central Valley Project, as said project is authorized and defined in the Central Valley Project Act of 1933, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take immediate effect.

In my opinion said Senate Bill No. 73 constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

I therefore recommend the consideration of this bill as such an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

The Water Project Authority of the State of California, created in and by Chapter 1042 of the Statutes of 1933 and designated the Central Valley Project Act of 1933, has heretofore submitted to the Federal Public Works Administration, created by and functioning under the National Industrial Recovery Act, approved June 16, 1933 (Public No. 67, 73d Congress, H. R. 5755), an application for Federal aid and assistance in financing the construction of the Central Valley Project, as said project is authorized and defined in said Central Valley Project Act of 1933, and information at hand indicates that the Congress of the United States at its forthcoming session will have under consideration the matter of extending such financial aid and assistance, and in order to secure such Federal aid and assistance it is necessary that immediate steps be taken to further present the merits of said project to the appropriate Federal agencies; and it is further necessary, in order to secure such Federal aid and assistance, that contracts be obtained by the Water Project Authority with responsible public districts and State agencies for the purchase, sale and use of water and power, and it is necessary for the general welfare of the people of the State of California that said project be constructed as soon as possible, and said project can not be constructed at this time without such Federal aid and assistance; and it is further necessary to make immediate provisions for funds to defray the necessary expense preliminary to actual construction so that in the event of favorable action by the Congress of the United States construction of said project may proceed immediately and there are at present no funds available to defray the expense of an immediate prosecution of the objects and purposes aforesaid.

With adequate funds made immediately available, the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works will be enabled to accomplish the above and foregoing objects and purposes continuously and uninterruptedly and without delay.

(c) Formulation by the joint agency of uniform conservation measures and tax laws which it shall recommend to the compacting States.

No compact made under the authority of this act shall bind this State unless and until:

(a) Said compact shall be ratified by the Legislature of this State, and Congress shall consent thereto;

Constitution Suspended.

Whereupon the President declared the provisions of section 15, Article IV of the Constitution suspended for the purpose of considering, at this time, Assembly Bill No. 94.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 10. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

During the 15 years last past hundreds of districts have been organized throughout the State of California under the provisions of the Road District Improvement Act of 1907 and the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925. Many of these districts were created during times of great economic prosperity and high land values. In many of such districts, due to the optimism of the times, or other causes, bonds for public improvements were issued in amounts in excess of the ability of the lands of such districts to bear the assessments necessary to pay the principal and interest on such bonds. Millions of dollars in assessed land valuation are located within districts created under these acts. Due to the present economic depression land values throughout the State have shrunk to the point where, in many cases, the total assessed valuation of all lands within a given district is less than the face value of the bonds outstanding in such district. Annual assessments upon individual parcels of land within these districts amount in many instances to more than the assessed value of such land.

Under present economic conditions property owners are unable to meet these high assessments and hundreds of such districts throughout the State have reached a point of hopeless delinquency.

Inasmuch as the property owners of these districts can not, under the law, pay their county or municipal taxes without at the same time paying the district assessments many cities and counties are unable to collect large sums of money badly needed for the purposes of government.

Many hundreds of properties in these districts are being deeded to the State for delinquent taxes and assessments and unless the financial aid of the counties is immediately made available to assist these overburdened districts thousands of parcels of lands will be stricken from the tax rolls this year; thousands of property owners will lose their homes, millions of dollars in governmental revenue will be uncollectible and at the same time thousands of bondholders will be unable to realize any return upon their investments.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 3.

Relative to the reduction in compensation of State officers and employees and the abolishment of certain offices, boards and commissions and the taking of such action by the Legislature as may be necessary to reduce the cost of State government to an amount not exceeding the present State income.

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the seventh day of January, 1935, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the houses of the Legislature voting therefor, hereby propose to the people of the State of California that the Constitution of said State be amended by adding to Article V, a new section to be numbered 22, to read as follows:

Sec. 22. Hereafter no officer, other than an elective officer, and no deputy, assistant or employee of any officer, board or commission shall receive, either directly or indirectly, any compensation in excess of the sum of $5,000 per year; nor shall any such deputy, assistant or employee hereafter receive, either directly or indirectly, any compensation in excess of $3,600 per year without the consent and approval of the Governor.

The Legislature may, without regard to title or to the number of subjects included, by general or special law, reduce, regulate and fix, within the limits herein provided, the compensation of any such officer, deputy, assistant or employee and may abolish any office, board or commission, however the same may have been created, and may, in the same manner, take such other action and do such things as may be necessary to reduce fixed and other charges and cost of State government to an amount not exceeding the normal income from present tax sources.

Notwithstanding this and other provisions of the Constitution, the Legislature may, by two-thirds vote of all of the members of each house, fix and regulate the compensation of any and all elective officers of this State and may by such vote increase and provide for a greater compensation than in this section provided for the officers, deputies, assistants and employees hereinbefore mentioned.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

*Hon. Joseph A. Beck, Secretary of the Senate,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.*

DEAR MR. BECK: PURSUANT to Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 13, I have the honor to transmit a statement prepared by the State Board of Equalization showing the approximate valuation of utility properties in the State of California, based upon operative roll assessments of 1934.

This statement is supplemented by tabulations showing this information in such detail as we think may prove of value to the members of the Legislature for the purposes indicated in resolution.

A similar letter and enclosure are being sent to Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Very truly yours,

DIXWELL L. PIERCE, Secretary.

Report of Board of Equalization.

Availability of Information.

In order to carry out the duties imposed upon it, pursuant to section 14 of Article XIII of the Constitution and of sections 3663a and 3663b of the Political Code, the State Board of Equalization created a division in its organization designated the Valuation Division, which division is, at present, diligently engaged in assembling the necessary information and data to enable the board to make the required assessments annually beginning in 1935.

This information and data, however, are not yet complete, nor will it be until about June 1, 1935. Accordingly, it is impossible at this date for the State Board of Equalization to furnish the Legislature with a statement of the valuation of utility property based upon its own independent studies and conclusions. Moreover, therefore, must be had to certain other information which is in the possession of the board, and the following report is based upon such information. A statement of the information used and the value of utility property based thereon follows:

Table I.

Column 1. A statement showing the actual assessment in 1934 of those classes of operative property, which beginning in 1935 are to be assessed by the board and placed upon local tax rolls. The material under these headings has been compiled from the operative assessment rolls for 1934 submitted by the respective county assessors, pursuant to the provisions of section 3670c, in the Political Code, together with the assessments made by the State Board of Equalization for farmsteads, feed beds, rails and rolling stock of intercounty railroads, pursuant to the provisions of section 3670e of the Political Code.

Column 2. A statement showing the assessment of nonoperative property as assessed by local county assessors and as equalized by local county boards of equalization as reported by county auditors, pursuant to the provisions of section 2728 of the Political Code.

Column 3. The total of Column 1 and Column 2.

Table II.

Column 1. The assessed values as reported by the local county assessors contained in Table I, Column 1, have been converted to an estimated true value by the application of the ratios of assessed value to true value, as found by the State Board of Equalization on December 3, 1934, pursuant to the provisions of section 11, Chapter 642, Statutes of 1934, as amended by Chapter 757, Statutes of 1935, to which has been added the value of that portion of intercounty railroad property assessed by the State Board of Equalization.

Column 2. Shows the estimated true value of nonoperative property obtained by applying the assessment ratios above referred to, to the total assessments of nonoperative property as set forth in Column 2 of Table I.

Column 3. Is the estimated true value of both classes of property arrived at by the addition of Column 1 and Column 2.

Column 4. Shows the proportion that the operative property (Column 1) bears to the nonoperative property (Column 2) expressed in per cent.

The total true value of operative property to be placed upon local tax rolls as developed in Column 1 of Table II amounts to $1,289,852,026, this figure being as of March 2, 1934.

The total value of operative property as found by the Tax Research Bureau in its report to the Legislature dated December 1, 1932, amounted to $1,929,945,000. This figure was as of December 31, 1931.

The difference between these two figures would appear to arise from four principal causes:

A. The inclusion of the value of franchises in the figure reported by the Tax Research Bureau, which value is excluded from the amount arrived at based on the operative roll of 1934.

Franchises were excluded from the analysis of the operative roll for the reason that the franchises are especially excluded from the property to be assessed by the State Board of Equalization.

B. The inclusion of the value of other intangibles in the figure reported by the Tax Research Bureau, which value is excluded from the amount determined on the basis of the 1934 operative roll.

Intangibles were excluded from the analysis of the operative roll, and likewise from nonoperative property values, for the reason that intangibles are subject to special low rates of taxation and are not available as a part of the general property tax base.

C. The two figures are not of the same date, and it is possible that there has been a material change in values since December 31, 1931.

D. The two totals are based upon figures which represent the judgment of different groups of individuals and, therefore, may not reflect exactly the same judgment as to value.

"SEC. 2. Until February 1, 1937, except in the case of mining property, no sale shall be made under any power of sale contained in any mortgage or deed of trust heretofore executed upon real property, nor shall any sale be made under any final decree of foreclosure rendered in any action to foreclose a mortgage heretofore executed upon real property nor shall the interest of any purchaser under a contract of purchase of real property heretofore executed, be terminated or forfeited, in any case in which the only default in the performance of the obligation for which said mortgage or deed of trust was given as security or in the performance of such contract consists solely of the failure to pay when due the principal sum of such obligation.

Nothing contained in this act shall prevent the acceleration, by reason of the nonpayment of taxes, interest or insurance, of the entire obligation secured by any such mortgage or deed of trust, nor prevent the sale thereunder by reason of such default.

Sec. 3. In all cases in which the time within which an action upon any obligation founded upon a written instrument secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property, or any guaranty thereof, may be commenced would expire by virtue of section 337 of the Code of Civil Procedure during the period extending between the date upon which this act takes effect and the first day of February, 1937, such time is hereby extended so as not to expire until April 1, 1937.

Sec. 4. Any sale of real property under a deed of trust or mortgage with power of sale made in violation of this act shall be voidable, except as against a bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer for value, at the instance of the record owner of such real property at the time of such sale, provided that any action to avoid such sale or any deed executed pursuant thereto must be brought within one year of the date of such sale.

Nothing contained in this section shall prevent the acceleration by reason of the nonpayment of taxes, interest or insurance, of the entire obligation secured by any such mortgage or deed of trust, nor prevent the sale thereunder by reason of such default.

In all cases in which the time within which an action upon any installment of the principal sum of an obligation, or any guaranty thereof, a sale for default in the payment of which is postponed by this act, would expire by virtue of section 337 of the Code of Civil Procedure prior to the time when such sale is permitted by this section, then such time in which such action may be brought is extended to and until three months after the date upon which such sale might be held under this section.

Sec. 7. No suit or action shall be commenced against the guarantor of any note secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property in any case while by virtue of any law no sale may be made under any power of sale contained in such mortgage or deed of trust, or while no sale may be made under the final decree of foreclosure rendered in an action to foreclose such mortgage.

Constitution Suspended.

Whereupon, the President declared the provisions of section 15, Article IV of the Constitution suspended for the purpose of considering, at this time, Assembly Bill No. 23.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 16. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore take effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are the dangers to the State and to the people involved in the unusually large number of foreclosures, sales, forfeitures and terminations which will result in the near future under mortgages, deeds of trust, and contracts of purchase of real property, because of defaults in payments by the owners or purchasers of such property. Such defaults are the result of exceptionally depressed economic conditions in this State, which have deprived a large proportion of the land owners and land purchasers of sufficient income to meet their obligations. The dangers in the situation are such as to threaten the maintenance of law and order, and to lead to the pauperization of many persons who have hitherto constituted an important part of the self-supporting and economically independent people of this State. This act will provide a means for ducking such sales, foreclosures, terminations, and forfeitures so as to permit land owners and land purchasers to find means of meeting their obligations; and at the same time will protect the interests of creditors. The dangers mentioned will thus be avoided.

Communication.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

SACRAMENTO, JANUARY 4, 1935.

To the Honorable Members of the State Legislature of California, Session of 1935.

Pursuant to the provisions of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49 (Chapter 88, Statutes of 1931), directing the Department of Public Works to investigate the possibilities of taking over the Muir Woods Toll Road, Marin County, California, or building a State highway into the National park, maintained by the United States government, and to report its findings to the 1935 session of the Legislature, I have the honor to transmit to you, in the accompanying report, the results of such study.

Yours very truly,

EARL LEE KELLY, Director of Public Works.

Report on Muir Woods Toll Road, Marin County, California.

At the last session of the State Legislature was passed Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49, reading as follows:

"WHEREAS, The United States government maintains the Muir Woods in Marin County as a National Park; and

"WHEREAS, Thousands of the citizens of the State of California and of other States visit said park annually; and

"WHEREAS, The only highway leading to and from said park is privately owned and is a toll road; and

"WHEREAS, The existence of a toll road is of great disadvantage to the people of the State of California and tends to deprive great numbers of people from the advantages of the park maintained by the Federal government, now, therefore, be it

"Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California the Senate thereof concurring, That the Department of Public Works be and it is hereby requested to investigate the possibilities of taking over said toll road or becoming a State highway into said park, and to report its findings to the 1935 session of the Legislature."

In accordance with the above an investigation and study were made and the following report is prepared for consideration and further action.

The Muir Woods National Monument is a beautiful spot of virgin Redwood timber of high scenic value. It comprises an area of approximately 426 acres originally included in the monument proper, to which a subsequent addition of 29.25 acres was secured by the monument to prevent encroachment of unsightly developments by commercial exploitation. It is situated at the base of and on the slope of Redwood Creek, west of a divide that runs northwesterly from Mt. Tamalpais. Its location is indicated on the attached map, marked in orange west of Mill Valley on the Marin Peninsula.

The monument lies in an area of Marin County removed from main traveled highways. Present highway access to the monument is provided by a toll road owned and operated by the Muir Woods Toll Road Company. The entrance end of the toll road joins a county road that extends southwesterly from Mill Valley. This toll road terminus is on a point of the aforesaid county road on the ridge 0.9 mile north of a road from Manzanita across the Marin Peninsula to the coast, now being maintained as State Highway Route 56. The east entrance to the toll road is accordingly approached by using the road from Manzanita to approximately the summit of the Marin Peninsula and thence by county road northerly for 0.9 mile, or by an alternative and more circuitous route by way of Mill Valley and a minor standard road ascending to the ridge terminus.

From the above mentioned east terminus of the toll road the latter descends rapidly to the southeast corner of the Muir Woods National Monument in a distance of 1.8 miles. The road has steep grades, ranging from 8 per cent to 11 per cent, with very sharp curvature. Roadway width averages 18 feet and its alignment closely follows the contour of ridges in descending to the base of Frank Valley.

Another section of toll road descends southwesterly from the monument following Frank Canyon for a distance of approximately 2.7 miles to a connection with said State Route 56 at a point where the latter approaches close to the coast from its descent from the ridge that divides the Marin Peninsula. The west leg of the toll road on the floor of Frank Valley is on rather poor alignment but on light grades. It also averages 18-foot width.

The toll road, comprising the two above sections aggregating 4.5 miles in length, came under the jurisdiction of the Muir Woods Toll Road Company in 1926 through the efforts of the William Kent interests, who still control it. It was built primarily to furnish highway facilities to the Muir Woods Monument by improving an existing road which was not traversable by automobile. The toll road company made this road improvement approximately on the location of the existing road. It is estimated that about 50,000 cubic yards of material were removed in widening and constructing the former road on the east leg thereof and approximately 25,000 cubic yards of material were removed on the west leg section in Frank Canyon. The road was earth graded and at present but a few sections have been lightly surfaced with local material. There are a few minor structures for drainage, consisting mostly of timber type, and at the present time in poor condition.

In its present location, shown on the map in yellow, the toll road is not considered a suitable location on which improvements could be made that would render it satisfactory for any considerable period of time or for that volume of traffic which would induce serious consideration for improvement of the road. Particularly on the east toll road entrance the sharp alignment, steep gradients, narrow roadway width and general low type of improvement make the location not adaptable to higher standards. It would be necessary to construct on a new location to obtain adequate standards. The east approach road to the monument constitutes the routing leading most directly from the points of origin of the majority of travel to the monument.

The west section of the toll road in Frank Canyon is susceptible to improvement because the sharp alignment could be rectified on gradients that are not excessive. This west section, however, has its terminus on the State highway near the coast and to use it traffic must negotiate the entire length of the State maintained route from Manzanita across the Marin Peninsula, a road section which in itself would require much improvement prior to and to be consistent with improvement of an approach to the Muir Woods National Monument.

The entire toll road could be made more safe for traffic by widening in the nature of minor improvements. It would be necessary to replace old timber structures and to oil surface the roadbed. Such improvements might be accomplished on the present road with an expenditure of approximately $25,000. The general character of the road would not be materially changed by this procedure.

To construct a highway on better standards to the present point of contact at the Muir Woods National Monument would require a new location. A feasible location has been indicated on the map in dotted green line. The projected location departs from Manzanita Highway on the ridge near the point of departure of the present county road approach to the east toll gate. The location would descend on maximum 6 per cent grade northerly to the floor of Frank Valley near the southeast corner of the monument. It would be 1.9 miles in length. Alignment would necessarily be on curvature requiring 200-foot minimum radius curves in the gulches. The cost of constructing such a road would be approximately $150,000, which includes grading for a 36-foot roadway and a bituminous type surfacing 22 feet in width.

From observation of the map it will be noted that the existing toll road and the suggestion for a location on modern standards serve as an entrance to one extreme corner of the Muir Woods National Monument. Before considering the expenditure of the considerable sum necessary to provide an adequate highway for the sole purpose of reaching one point on the monument, or of acquiring the existing toll road of inferior standards and inherent disadvantages for continued maintenance thereof, it would be advisable to study roadways in relation to the scenic area in the vicinity of the National monument.

North of the monument lies a considerable area of State park and north of the latter lies a wide area surrounding Mt. Tamalpais. The ultimate creation of a large recreational area or park would include much of the mountain area contiguous to Mt. Tamalpais, which has a beautiful growth of redwood, fir and other species of native trees. The wooded areas accessible from and the panoramic views that are obtained from the summit and ridges offer recreational advantages of an area close to San Francisco and the Bay cities. With the construction of the Golden Gate Bridge, the demand for developing adequate highway through this area will increase and will not be satisfied with access only to the National monument.

With the above in mind it would be possible to construct a highway approach to the monument which would provide access to both the State park and to the monument and could be eventually extended to serve a wider area. On this suggestion a routing has been indicated in heavy green line, a road starting from the Manzanita Highway as on the present county road that approaches the east toll road entrance from the south. This highway would continue northwesterly along the ridge north of the east toll road entrance to a point near the northeast corner of the State park land. Thence it is projected to descend through the State park to a site which could be used as its general terminal, central to points of interest in Muir Woods National Monument and in the State park. It is estimated that such a road, with a length of approximately 3.75 miles, could be built on a standard 36-foot graded width with 22 feet bituminous surfacing at approximately $185,000. The estimated cost is $35,000 in excess of that required to construct the previously described road direct to the floor of Frank Valley at the southerly tip of the Muir Woods National Monument.

The accompanying map shows the relation of the alternative highway to the existing county road from Mill Valley across the Marin Peninsula to Stinson Beach. There is also shown the location of the toll road known as the Ridgecrest Toll Road, which connects with the Mill Valley-Stinson Beach County Road on the south and with the Bolinas Bay-Fairfax County Road on the north. One leg of the toll road ascends to the summit of Mt. Tamalpais.

The investigation of practical roads to the Muir Woods National Monument naturally lead to considerations of a more comprehensive nature. The facts developed are:

1. The Muir Woods Toll Road has relatively small value as a permanent facility and would not be adaptable to other than minor improvements.

2. The Muir Woods Toll Road serves only as an approach to an extreme corner of the National monument. Construction of a modern highway on new location, intended for the same purpose, would cost approximately $150,000.

3. An alternative location of high scenic value and serving a greater area of State park and Muir Woods National Monument can be constructed for approximately $185,000. The alternative route would be adaptable to extension through a wider recreational area.

4. Available records show that within the last six years visitors to the National monument have decreased 50 per cent. The maximum number of visitors occurred in 1928, when 103,000 visited the monument, approximately 50 per cent being hikers, approximately 20 per cent came by the cog train then operating, and approximately 30 per cent by passenger cars and stages. At the present time approximately 50,000 visit the park annually, of which about 13,000 enter by automobile and about 37,000 are hikers.

5. At the present time approximately 4000 to 5000 vehicles utilize the toll road annually. Removal of the toll, 50 cents per car and 15 cents per passenger, would induce an increase in traffic over the available road facility but require a considerable betterment thereof and considerable second maintenance. Betterment, limited by the inherent deficiencies in the existing location, would be a temporary and not wholly adequate improvement.

6. A satisfactory approach road requires new construction in some location. To provide a new approach road to the kindergarten will cost $150,000 to $185,000. The projected new approach roads to serve in lieu of the toll road are predicated upon forming connection to State Highway Route 50 as now maintained from Manzanita across the Marine Peninsula. It would be inconsistent to plan construction of the new toll road until the State Highway route providing access thereto is brought to better standard. State Highway Route 50 may be subject to relocation or rerouting which would alter present suggestions for coordinating the movement approach road through it. Final routing and location of Route 50 is consequently deferred at least to the extent to determine upon location and construction of a new standard road.

The conclusion reached is that under the above circumstances the State would not be justified in taking over the present low standard toll road for temporary use or in adopting and constructing a permanent toll approach road before permanent routing and location of State Highway Route 50 is established and consistent improvement is made in this State route.

Amendment adopted.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out lines 1 to 26, inclusive, also all of page 2, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. As used in this act, the term "pest" includes any plant, animal, insect, fish, or other matter or material, not under human control, which is offensive to the senses or interferes with the comfortable enjoyment of life, and is not protected under any other provision of law. It is the purpose of this act to provide for the abatement of pests, and the provisions of this act shall be cumulative to any other provisions of law relating to the abatement of pests or nuisances.

SEC. 2. The organization of a pest abatement district may be initiated by a petition, describing the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, and the nature of the pest or pests to be controlled or abated. The petition may fix the maximum rate of assessment to be levied for the district.

SEC. 3. The petition shall be signed by registered voters resident in the proposed district equal in number to ten per cent of the votes cast therein at the last preceding general election. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments, which shall be duplicates, except as to the signatures and addresses of the signers. Each person who signs the petition shall also include his address.

SEC. 4. The petition shall be presented to the clerk of the county in which the land in the proposed district is situated. The clerk shall compare the signatures on the petition with the names of the registered voters for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the petition contains sufficient signatures.

SEC. 5. If the petition lacks the necessary number of signatures the clerk shall certify that fact, and at any time within sixty days thereafter additional signatures may be presented to supplement the signatures on the original petition and such signatures shall be compared by the clerk in the manner above prescribed. If sufficient additional signatures are not so presented, proceedings under such petition shall be terminated, without prejudice to the right to file a new petition.

SEC. 6. If the petition is found to contain the requisite number of signatures the clerk shall make a certificate to that effect and shall present the petition, with his certificate, to the board of supervisors.

SEC. 7. If the board of supervisors finds that the petition has been properly presented, the board shall, by resolution, fix a time for the hearing of said petition not less than two nor more than five weeks from the time of presentation thereof, and shall cause notice to be given of the time and place of and hearing by publication in some newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said county, for not less than two weeks prior to the time of such hearing.

SEC. 8. At the time of the hearing or at any time to which it may be adjourned the board shall determine whether or not the petition supports a case, has been published as required and shall hear and consider all competent and relevant testimony or evidence offered in support of or in opposition to the formation of such district. The board may make such changes in the proposed boundaries of the district as it may deem advisable, and upon the application of the owners of land within the proposed district may exclude such land, or upon the application of the owner of any land outside of the district and contiguous thereto, may include such land within the district, if the board determines that such exclusion or inclusion is proper.

SEC. 9. If, upon such hearing, the board determines that the public interest or welfare of the proposed territory and the inhabitants thereof require the formation of such district, the board, by resolution, shall declare its findings, and shall order that the territory within the boundaries determined by the board be created into a pest abatement district, under an appropriate name to be selected by the board.

SEC. 10. The clerk of the board shall immediately cause to be filed in the office of the county recorder in which the district is situated a certified copy of this order, and shall cause to be filed a certified copy thereof with the Secretary of State, and after the date of the last mentioned filing the district named therein shall be incorporated as a pest abatement district, with all of the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act, or necessarily incident thereto.

SEC. 11. Within thirty days after such incorporation the board of supervisors shall appoint a board of trustees, consisting of five trustees, to be the governing body of such district. The members of the board of trustees shall be chosen by the pleasure of the board of supervisors, and shall serve in such position without compensation, but shall be allowed their necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

SEC. 12. The board of trustees of such district shall have power to take all necessary or proper steps for the extermination of the pest or pests referred to in the petition, subject to the control of municipal or other public authorities having jurisdiction in the matter. The board of trustees may acquire, own, hold, lease and use personal property; may employ such labor as may be necessary; may acquire by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, in the name of the district, and condemn lands, rights of way, easements, real property, or other property as may be deemed necessary for any of the purposes of the district; may acquire, own, hold, lease, or compensate any owner of land or other property for any injury or damage caused by the exercise of the powers conferred by this act or incident thereto, and may sue and be sued and do all things that are necessary to carry out the powers hereby conferred and to carry out the objects of the formation of the district.

SEC. 13. The board of trustees of each district shall annually before the fourth day of July file with the board of supervisors an estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation for the purposes of the district during the ensuing fiscal year.

SEC. 14. The board of supervisors shall levy, annually, a tax sufficient to raise the amount required for the purposes of the district. The board of supervisors shall determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent from the total assessed value of the taxable property of the district as it appears from the assessment roll and then dividing the sum required for the purposes of the district by the remainder of such assessed value. If the rate has been fixed by the petition, the rate fixed by the board shall not exceed such rate.

SEC. 15. All taxes levied under the provisions of this act shall be assessed and collected at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes are collected for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the credit of the district.

SEC. 16. The funds of the district shall be withdrawn from the treasury upon the warrant of the board of trustees. The board of supervisors, from time to time, may order a temporary transfer from other funds in the treasury available for the purpose to the credit of the fund of the district. Such temporary transfer shall be made only upon resolution adopted by the board of supervisors directing the treasurer to make such transfer, and shall not exceed eighty-five per cent of the taxes accruing to the district, and shall not be made prior to the first day of the fiscal year nor after the last Monday in April of the current fiscal year. Any funds so transferred shall be replaced from the taxes accruing to such district before any other obligation of the district is met from such taxes.

SEC. 17. At any time after the incorporation of the district, upon petition of the owners of land contiguous thereto, such land may be annexed to the district, if the board of supervisors find that such annexation shall be for the benefit of the land so annexed and for the benefit of the district.

SEC. 18. Upon application of such persons as could have initiated proceedings for the formation of a district, the board of supervisors may, after notice of hearing, published in the manner herein prescribed for the notice of a hearing of a petition, dissolve such district if it appears to the board that such dissolution is proper. The dissolution of a district shall not have any effect on any assessment theretofore levied. Upon such dissolution the board of supervisors shall succeed to all the powers and jurisdiction of the board of trustees for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the district, and may continue to levy such assessments as are necessary in the winding up of the affairs of the district. No district shall be finally dissolved until all outstanding obligations of the district, including the repayment of funds transferred to the credit of the district from other funds of the county, have been fully paid and discharged.

Sec. 19. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

In certain areas within this State there exist pests, the abatement of which is necessary and desirable in order to promote the comfort and welfare of the residents of such areas. The purpose of this act is to provide a method for the abatement of such pests. Facilities of the State Emergency Relief Administration are now available to assist in the work of eradicating or controlling these pests in cooperation with local governmental units such as a district, the organization of which is herein provided for. These facilities may not long continue to be available and in order to utilize these facilities, and in order that the work of abating these pests and relieving persons from the discomforts caused by such pests may be accomplished as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, January 25, 1935

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Assembly on this day adopted the Assembly Joint Resolution No. 29—Relative to fostering and protecting grape and wine industries.

ARTHUR A. OHNIMUS, Chief Clerk.
By FRED J. DESCH, Assistant Clerk

Consideration of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 29.

Senator McGovern asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent for the consideration of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 29, without reference to committee, for purpose of adoption.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 29.

Relative to fostering and protecting grape and wine industries.

WHEREAS, The grape and wine industries provide a livelihood for upwards of 150,000 persons, comprising grape growers, winery workers and their dependents, in California, in addition to many thousands in other States and in addition to many thousands employed in various allied industries in this State and elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, These industries, after 15 years of compulsory stagnation due to the Prohibition Laws, are now again in a position to recover their losses and to contribute greatly to the public welfare, because the industries above-named already comprise the second largest agricultural pursuit in California, within excess of 500,000 acres of vineyards and 654 wineries in active operation, altogether representing an investment exceeding $420,000,000; and

WHEREAS, The increasing use of wine as an article of food in certain major consuming centers, including California, offers the most promising available means of increasing the prosperity and speeding the agricultural, industrial and business recovery of this State and also holds promise of developing the grape and wine industries to the greatest industries of California; and

WHEREAS, The principal obstacle now delaying the extensive development, and, in fact, seriously hampering the present recovery of these industries is the blocking of the wine distribution channels in many parts of the Nation by certain types of excessive taxation, excessive licensing and regulatory restrictions, which obstacle is created almost entirely by the widely prevalent misunderstanding of the true function of wine, which is in fact an integral part of the diet, entitled to be classified and treated as a food rather than as a liquor; and

WHEREAS, Such obstacles to wine distribution act to increase the cost of wine beyond the average family's food budget and also to prevent the product from being made conveniently available for use in the home, therefore working a discrimination against consumers of ordinary means by placing wine in a luxury class in which it is available only to a wealthy few; and

WHEREAS, The experience of the State of California which has during the past year received in excess of $250,000 in revenue from a reasonable tax upon wine, has demonstrated that a reasonable tax upon wine can return a larger net revenue to a taxing unit than can be obtained from an excessive tax which hampers distribution; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and Senate of the State of California, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California respectfully urges the President and Congress of the United States and California's Senators and Representatives in Congress to do all in their power to remove all unwarranted obstacles to wine distribution, so that the recovery and the Nation-wide growth of the grape and wine industry may be encouraged in this State as well as in other States and so that consumers of average means may be enabled to obtain wine conveniently and at reasonable prices within the family food budget; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to California's Senators and Representatives in Congress.

Resolution read.

Message from Department of Finance.

The following message from the Department of Finance was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

To His Excellency Frank F. Merriam, Governor of California, and to the Members of the Legislature.

Pursuant to Chapter 15, Session of California, 1931, wherein the administrative duties of the Division of Land Settlement of the Department of Agriculture were transferred to the Division of Loans of the Department of Finance, and in line with the legislation of the Division and Trust Land Settlement Program, the Department of Finance has treated the land settlement program in the light of a private receivership and has attempted to maintain the same with the aim of withdrawing from land settlement program.

We herewith submit our financial report, which covers, amongst other things, obtained both by the Division and Trust Land Settlement Commission.

At the time of the report, August 22, 1933, Charles W. Shaffner, Chief of the Division of Land Settlement of the Department of Agriculture, remained in charge of this work under the direction of the Treasurer of Finance, until he resigned on or about January 1, 1935. Mr. Shaffner has indicated to Mr. George Kunkelberg of the Division of Loans, who resigned during the year 1934, Mr. J. F. Knapp, known identical with this work in 1933, and he is in charge of this settlement under the Chief of the Division of Loans and the Division of Finance. Land settlement of the Public State Land Settlement has been opened on by Mr. O. W. Shaffner, who has been indicated in 1934 under 1935. Mr. Shaffner has just resigned from this work and has been replaced by Mr. William H. Cochran.

Durham State Land Settlement.

When the prohibition of these settlements was transferred to the Department of Finance the State of California was the beneficiary of some 25 thousand acres of land of trust, wherein the interest in the Durham State Land Settlement, was obligated to the State in the approximate sum of $300,000, and the State of California was the proprietor of approximately 1,000 acres of land in the Durham settlement.

In the year 1932 an organization of Durham settlers who used the State money through their expenditure Law Dept., requested a contribution to the Durham in Finance the same and submission of which was that the interest in Durham owed the State 40 per cent of the annual tax under the State of land with the understanding that the State would receive the annual State of land. Negotiations continued for some time and throughout the summer of Finance advised the offer of the settlers as indicated in the First Plan.

Subsequently the settlers at Durham were requested to make application to the Federal Land Bank under Land Bank Commission, under the provisions of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, for the first interest of their mortgage to the State of California, with the understanding that interest would be paid on the basis of the interest account as based upon the agreement of the Federal Land Bank and on Land Bank Commission of their respective properties. The settlers' response to this proposition was not entirely satisfactory, because after a period of time practically all settlers from Durham have been advised to attempt to extinguish their obligation to the State through the medium of advertising given mentioned with the people that all of the obligations have been extinguished with one exception. The exception is J. L. Davis, whose representatives in 1933, Mr. Davis attempted to clear his obligation through a loan secured from and having failed in that is trying to clear the liability from private sources.

For purposes of covering this account, we refer first to Exhibit "A" wherein is indicated the name of the settler, an address, mortgage, amount of the indebtedness to the State at the time of acquisition including interest amount payment by the Federal Land Bank et al, and interest received by the State after the payment of delinquent taxes and expenses of the loan.

Exhibit "A 1" discloses the same in similar form with reference to the discharge of obligations to the State from private sources.

Exhibit "B 1" indicates the size of land at the Durham State Land Settlement by showing the name of the purchaser, an address, mortgage, total valuation and amount received by the State, also the same under loan with interest by mortgage.

In the matter of the tract of Idaho land which is under loan and owing to Mr. F. L. Adams of Ohio, the mortgage being $200,000, it is a proposition to auction at this time that Mr. Adams offered to purchase the land in cash for $20,000, $4,000 cash and the balance in five years. His offer was rejected by the Department of Finance. The amount payable under the same and interest is $275,217. Mr. Adams pays an annual rental of $1,347.00 and the lease has two years to run.

The other parcel of land, which is designated as part of Adams 87A and 91, the same being good for grazing purposes only, is under loan and owing to Mr. Homer Speegle. The terms of said lease and option require the final payment of $2,140.78 on June 30, 1935. After that time, therefore, the State will actually own that area of land designated as the Adams lease above mentioned.

The settlements referred to in Exhibit "A" and Exhibit "A 1" were concentrated in the face of considerable difficulties and work people generally having. It is well to bear in mind that the department had no work to work with except to grant concessions in those cases where there were extenuating circumstances. It is also possinent to mention that the Federal Land Bank and/or Land Bank Commissioner in the matter of junior liens offered to loan money to the settlers with which the settlers were to clear up the junior liens on condition that all of the debts against the settlers, both secured and unsecured, would be paid from the proceeds of the loan.

In the negotiation of a great many of these cases the settlers had the advantage of advice of the Federal Conciliation Commissioner and the settlers were mindful of their rights under the amendments of the Federal Bankruptcy Act, which provides:

1. Every farmer unable to pay his mortgage or other obligation could be declared bankrupt, have his farm appraised, and, with the consent of creditors, pay it back over six (6) years at the new figure with 1 per cent interest.

2. If creditors refuse to compromise on this method, the farmer would continue in possession of his farm, pay a reasonable rent and at the end of six (6) years have the option of repurchasing his farm at an appraised value approved by the courts.

Delhi State Land Settlement.

With the purpose in view of disposing of the remaining assets, consisting of unsold lands and promissory notes secured by first and second deeds of trust, a detailed prospectus of all real and personal property was prepared in 1932 and forwarded to representative financial concerns and realty brokers throughout the State asking for bids. The response was negligible, however, and no results were obtained, due to doubt to adverse publicity given the Delhi Project and the deplorable economic conditions prevailing, particularly adverse to agricultural development.

In the process of the adjustment with the purchasers of Delhi properties in 1930 and prior thereto, 32 pieces of property, aggregating 915 acres, reverted to the State subject to first mortgages of the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley. It became apparent that it would be impossible to dispose of these properties for even enough to pay the obligations against them and as there was not sufficient in the land settlement fund to meet the regular semiannual payments to the bank or the irrigation taxes, and as the rental incomes were not enough to meet these obligations, arrangements were made to transfer these properties to the Federal Land Bank.

At the time of the final adjustment between the State and settlers in 1930, arrangements were made between Mr. Charles W. Chesny, then Chief of the Division of Land Settlement of the Department of Agriculture, and the directors of the Delhi National Farm Loan Association, endorser of the 32 loans affected and whose membership each had an individual liability equal to 10 per cent of such member's loan for all loans made through the said association, that upon the sale of these properties the obligations to the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley would be reduced to amounts reasonably believed to be low enough to protect the association's membership from possible loss. As there were no funds available in the land settlement fund to reduce the obligations in the amount agreed upon, arrangements were made to transfer to the Federal Land Bank promissory notes secured by trust deeds held by the State on properties in the Delhi State Land Settlement at the face value of $18,583, the amount of difference at the time of transfer. The State also transferred an additional number of such securities at the face value of $13,592, bringing the total face value of papers transferred to $32,575 for the following purposes:

(a) Reductions of loans of bank against properties-----	$18,583 00
(b) Accrued interest on loans against properties-----	2,900 00
(c) First installment, Turlock Irrigation District taxes, assessed against properties for fiscal year 1932-1933----	1,594 00
(d) Maximum liability of State by virtue of Delhi National Farm Loan Association stock issued at time loans were made on properties-----	4,375 00
(e) Abstract of titles to properties-----	2,200 00
(f) Reserve for losses on account of failure of promisors of promissory notes secured by deeds of trust on real properties to meet principal and/or interest payments--	2,965 00

The transfer was made as of January 1, 1933.

The tripartite agreement above referred to was confirmed by the Legislature, Chapter 72, Statutes of California, 1933, approved by the Governor April 11, 1933, and entitled "An act to add section 32 to the Land Settlement Act."

The abstract of title actually cost less than $400 and the Federal Land Bank transferred three deeds of trust back to the State to compensate for the difference.

Following the transfer of properties to the Federal Land Bank, in the early part of 1933 the prices on the majority of the Delhi lands were considerably reduced in an effort to create buying interest. Due to adverse agricultural conditions, however, no great interest could be created even at the reduced figures. In many instances the land was priced at less than the actual cost of the irrigation pipe lines. The terms of sale established in 1931 were 20 per cent down with the balance payable in ten years at 6 per cent interest. A 10 per cent discount was offered as an inducement to pay cash. Likewise, a 10 per cent discount on first trust deeds and 15 per cent on second trust deeds was offered as an inducement to pay off the land purchasers' obligations to the State. The selling policy was changed to a cash basis in September, 1934.

Under the Division of State Lands 21 real estate sales have been made, aggregating 249.08 acres, for $18,044.70, of which ten were cash sales for $6,005.45. (See Exhibit B-25.)

During the same period of time five parcels of land, aggregating 92 acres, were sold to the State. Three of the transactions were from purchasers of lands who did not meet their purchase obligations and who turned their property back to the State for a small consideration; one revenue was received by State and one parcel turned back a small piece of property free of encumbrance, other than to the State, for no consideration.

One purchaser who had previously traded a small acreage to the State for a larger acreage was permitted to trade back again when it became apparent that he could not locate the larger acreage.

Following the farm buying policy inaugurated by the Federal government in 1933, an effort was made to dispose of the remaining trust lands held by the State through the medium of Federal banks. Profitable opportunities were made for such loans, 18 of which were approved and 14 secured. Two applications are still pending—A. Farnsworth and M. Cunningham who have been accepted but not closed. The amount of paper disposed of through 17 loans closed was $3,075.16. The State actually received $10,418.10 of this amount in cash and bonds. (See Exhibit A-27.) In addition to the amount loaned through the bank, it was necessary in some cases to make further reduction in amount of the mortgage of the lands granted to meet delinquent taxes and the State's charges.

The results actually obtained through this medium were as good or better than could have been expected due to the fact that at the time of the purchase of some and trust deeds to the Federal Land Bank, the prices offered for the land were less than those of which left in some cases, paper of questionable worth.

Several closed trust deeds have been permitted to go by default through Federal Land Bank foreclosure and several more will probably do so in the State in the same manner. (See Exhibit C-1, 2d section.)

A great deal of thought has been given to ways and means of financing of the Delhi property and the matter has been discussed with various government and real estate, but no definite feasible plan has been evolved to get the State out of trust settlement in a short period of time. We have looked into the possibility of mortgaging off the property, but after discussing with Mr. J. R. Gage of Miami, who handled a loan matter for the Columbia-Hoffman Land Company, decided that such a plan would probably develop into giving the land away. Columbia-Hoffman was to stop their mortgage after having about several thousands of dollars in advertising. Such a sale would have a very depressing effect on local land values.

It is the opinion of persons concerned that it is going to be a hard proposition for the State to sell the land for all cash. Very few have the farming background for ranches are in a position to pay cash for a ranch and have money left with which to clear building improvements. Realists state that there is more of a demand for property now than has obtained for several years, with cash being scarce, however, and one of the opinion that the State will have to sell on terms in order to dispose of land on any great scale.

If some financial concern could be found that would be interested in taking over the paper of term purchasers at a rate of discount to be mutually agreed upon, cash purchases could be offered a like amount from the land sales price.

The State is now attempting to negotiate an exchange of some of the Delhi property for some real estate in the city of Sacramento.

The prices on some of the properties will have to be reduced, but this should not be necessary on all of them.

There are yet 280.99 acres of unsold land, half of which lies inside of the irrigation improvement district used for pasturage on the farming purposes, and of the assessed valuation for irrigation tax purposes on these properties can be reduced; we are endeavoring to have the assessed valuation reduced down to $5 per acre; and if the irrigated farms can be disposed of, these tax farm lands could be carried by the State with very little operating costs, the same as other similar State lands, until such time as agricultural values improve.

The only other solution seems to be in endeavoring to find land operators with sufficient cash and optimism to be interested in taking over large blocks of land at drastically reduced prices for resale purposes. The increased interest in farm property has changed the situation somewhat from that which prevailed at the time the sales prospectus was sent out in 1932.

The Federal Land Bank of Berkeley has met with very good success in disposing of its local improved farms during the past few months, due to intensive advertising, but practically all sales have been on a term basis.

We still have 19 first deeds of trust at Delhi where the amount due is $9,525.36 and six second deeds of trust where the amount due is $6,002.88.

It is well to remember that of these lands of trust that remain 13 of the trustees made application to the Federal Land Bank and/or Land Bank Commissioner and were rejected on the grounds that the agricultural value of the properties did not reflect security sufficient to justify a loan from the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley.

Under the jurisdiction of this department the total receipts of both land settlements, according to the Division of Budgets and Accounts, from August 14, 1931, to December 31, 1934, amounted to $175,140.13.

As to the deeds of trust which have been extinguished at both settlements where the amount due was $152,862.98, we have received the sum of $101,063.69, which represents a loss of $51,799.29, or a loss of 33.89 per cent.

Dated: January 26, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

A. E. STOCKBURGER,
Director of Finance.
CARL B. STURZENACKER,
Chief of Division of State Lands.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency: Many school districts within the State of California are without sufficient money to purchase school lots or to build school buildings or to make alterations or additions to school buildings or to repair, restore or rebuild school buildings damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity, or to supply school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus of a permanent nature. Many school districts have within the last two years voted bonds for raising money for such purposes or some of them and the proceedings in many of such bond elections were irregular, and by reason of such irregularities such bonds can not now be sold. The population of many of these districts has increased so rapidly that the present school facilities of such districts are unable to meet the needs of the great increase of pupils in such districts and it is necessary and urgent that such bonds and the proceedings thereunder be validated at an early date in order that the bonds may be sold and said school buildings, lots, equipment and facilities may be purchased or built before the opening of the next school year which in many instances would be impossible if this act did not go into effect immediately but was required to await until ninety days after adjournment of this Legislature.

Bonds have also been voted to raise money to repair, rebuild or reconstruct in whole or in part school buildings destroyed or seriously injured by earthquake or to strengthen buildings now deemed unsafe in case of earthquake, and such work is required immediately in order to protect the health and safety of school children. Because of irregularities some bonds voted for such purposes can not now be sold but can be sold and moneys therefrom be made available at once if this act goes into effect immediately.

Sec. 13. There shall be no filing fee for the filing of any document with the county clerk under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 14. If any feature or modification of any act is highly detrimental to the court, to be unconstitutional, such feature or modification shall be voidable, and all other features and modifications shall continue to be in force and effect, it being the intent of the Legislature to make this act as effective as possible, to effect change in the manner herein provided.

Sec. 15. Whenever any provision under this act is to be or is being tested by the court, the interested parties may submit to the court, in writing, a composition of the individuals involved in the proceeding, or a composition and history of the proceeding, and the court shall have jurisdiction and duty to the same extent to approve such composition of settlement.

Sec. 16. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall become law when it shall immediately.

The facts constituting the emergency are the danger to the State and to the people involved in the numerous mortgage foreclosures, sales, assignments and terminations which are made in the mortgage market, because of the sale and conversion of property and real property, because of defaults in payments by the mortgagors on purchases of such property. Such defaults are the result of financially depressed economic conditions in this State, which have placed a great proportion of the mortgage and land purchase of mortgage owners in great debt obligations. The danger to the mortgage owners is so serious the maintenance of law and order, and to lead to the preservation of order, persons who have been constituted an important part of the self-governing and democratic, independent people of this State. This act will provide a means for settling such debts, foreclosures, terminations, and collections, as are in mortgage foreclosures and such foreclosures to find means of settling such obligations and at the same time will protect the interests of creditors. The danger mentioned will thus be avoided.

Communication.

Opinion of the Legislative Counsel.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Hon. George J. Hatfield, President of the Senate, Senate Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

SIR: You asked my opinion as to the right of the Senate to recess in view of the following facts.

It appears by a copy of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9 certified by the Secretary of State after having been filed in his office at four o'clock p.m., January 24, 1935, that the Senate and Assembly adopted a concurrent resolution to adjourn at three o'clock p.m. on January 26th, to reconvene at seven o'clock a.m. on March 4, 1935.

The concurrent resolution is certified by the appropriate officers of the Senate and of the Assembly as having been adopted by the Senate January 25, 1935, and by the Assembly January 24, 1935.

In no opinion that President (this resolution certified by the officers of the respective houses and filed in the office of the Secretary of State) constitutes conclusive and unimpeachable evidence of the action taken by the respective legislatures, that it is to say that such action constituted by the Senate and the corresponding act of the House above mentioned.

That it has been held that the certified bill shall constitute, approved, enacted and deposited in the office of the Secretary of State as conclusive evidence that it was properly passed. Its validity cannot be questioned by a party of the House in the Journal of the Legislature of State of California, Vol. 100, 1935, (Printing by Johnson, 1400 Van Ness, People's Office, at Cal. App. 411).

The same rule applies when bills have been in a legislative session, a city charter. Neither the Journal of the Senate nor the Assembly is required to introduce the bill of the Legislature (House) nor are members may be required in order to show that it had not been a bill in accordance with the provisions of the form of an act (S. 18-19-20, 1935, Vol. 100, 1935).

The same principle is not certain action in a concurrent resolution for the ending of a recess or for an adjournment.

A resolution or proposed amendment by the Assembly on January 26 of the act of consent taken January 24th and the expiration of adjournment (expiring on the 26th) of the Assembly is to be taken into account in its decision. The same rule applies to the Senate. The committee of the Senate on the subject of the resolution is the subject of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10 as amended, enacted and filed.

The fact that the Assembly did, on January 24, 1935, give the consent to the recess would seem clearly to prove that Senate (for in 1935) did. The adjournment upon the passage of the Senate is made as such when it is given in the which is expressed in section 14 of Article IV of the Constitution, to the effect that—

"Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor do any other act than those in which they were so meeting."

In the instant case the certified resolution on the recess of the Secretary of State conclusively and unequivocally shows that the Assembly has given its consent to the adjournment from January 26th to March 4, 1935.

I have at hand no specific authority on this point, but I am of the opinion, that such consent once given, it was bound to the other and no authority be required by one house voting alone.

PRESIDENT of this year was the ruling made by the Speaker of the Assembly on the twenty-second day of January, 1931, when it was held in a session in a session that the time of adjournment be set at the twenty-sixth day of January, 1931, the Speaker ruled that—

"The motion was not in order as the time of adjournment have been fixed by concurrent resolution, adopted by both houses of the Legislative Assembly Journal, 1931, page 2141."

The conclusion seems inevitable that the two houses having consented and mutually consented to the adjournment, the Senate is at liberty to take such action as recess from January 26th to March 4, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED F. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 5. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows: Many parcels of land adjoining irrigation districts in this State are without means of irrigation or providing for the means of irrigation or the cost of such irrigation as may be available is so excessive that said lands will remain of little value and the residents on such lands will be unable to raise sufficient foodstuffs either for their own sustenance or the sustenance of their families or for sale in order to purchase other necessities of life for themselves and families and great distress and ill health will be caused and exist by reason thereof unless water can be immediately furnished to such lands at a reasonable cost. That it is impossible under present financial and economic conditions to obtain the necessary money through irrigation district bond issues and the only method of financing is either through loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporations or other agencies of the United States with limited time to make loans, or through private capital only available for a very short period of time, which can be obtained if such lands are immediately included in the adjoining irrigation districts and under the conditions in this act set forth. That if such lands are not so immediately included in such districts the opportunity so to do will be lost; and such lands and the owners thereof and the residents thereon will suffer great and irreparable injury as hereinabove set forth.

DEAR FRIENDS AND COMPANION HAPPYERS: The attention of the anthropological and other members of the California delegation at Washington were called, as I remember last, to the fact that no provision was made made in the California State budget for appropriations for any kind of social work in the Sacramento Division.

The State of California is now making Company B approximately $170,000,000 for the Central Valley Water Project. This bill will reduce the Federal Chemical Commission while also had charges of the law and increasing the responsibilities needed for the Committee for 2 years to 4 years and increasing income and 1 income has been considerably improved, but it will be better to the extent of the greatest of them are led to believe that California is now considering the most important to the State its share of the State's future. There is no doubt about it.

I, on the other hand, have been in the biological world of Rhizosolenia for years. Carter Stubbs and myself, sent in February 1970 to the Governor with reference to this same matter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 11, 1967

Hon. Frank F. Merriam, State Capitol, Sacramento, California

We are not, as you are, faced with the difficult question of how to meet the usual appropriations for the State of California and Federal Projects. Facing California's desire, our delegation is seeking the necessary appropriations for the Central Valley Water Project. The Board of State Lands for this purpose has now before the House Flood Control Committee which has just held an earnest four-hour hearing on the problem. The Federal Government is making a liberal contribution to Sacramento's flood control, but the agreement for water rights was nullified. Should our State fail to secure the necessary appropriation, the result would be most unfortunate on the effort to secure further cooperation in this and other projects and particularly in the effort to secure Federal support for the Central Valley Project. Would appreciate prompt attention and early action to avoid untoward reactions here.

MR. PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE. As the representative for the State of California to the conference of Governors of the primary producing States, appointed by His Excellency, Honorable Frank F. McLaughlin, Governor of the State of California, under the authority of Senate Joint Resolution No. 7 (Ch. 23, Res. 1935):

I submit to your honorable body this report of the conference which was held at Dallas, Texas, February 15 and 16, 1935.

Article I.

This agreement may become effective within any compacting State at any time as prescribed by that State, and shall become effective within those States ratifying it whenever any three of the States of Texas, Oklahoma, California, Kansas and New Mexico have ratified and Congress has given its consent. Each State bound hereby agrees that within a reasonable time it will enact laws, or if laws have been enacted, then it agrees to continue the same in force, to accomplish within reasonable limits the prevention of:

- (a) The operation of any oil well with an inefficient gas-oil ratio.
- (b) The drowning with water of any stratum capable of producing oil or gas, or both oil and gas in paying quantities.
- (c) The avoidable escape into the open air or the wasteful burning of gas from a natural gas well.
- (d) The creation of unnecessary fire hazards.

Article V.

It is not the purpose of this compact to authorize the States joining herein to limit the production of oil or gas for the purpose of stabilizing or fixing the price thereof, or create or perpetuate monopoly, or to promote regimentation, but is limited to the purpose of conserving oil and gas and preventing the avoidable waste thereof within reasonable limitations.

Article VI.

Each State joining herein shall appoint one representative to a commission hereby constituted and designated as The Interstate Oil Compact Commission, the duty of which said commission shall be to make inquiry and ascertain from time to time such methods, practices, circumstances and conditions as may be disclosed for bringing about conservation and the prevention of physical waste of oil and gas, and at such intervals as said commission deems beneficial it shall report its findings and recommendations to the several States for adoption or rejection. The commission shall have power to recommend the coordination of the exercise of the police powers of the several States within their several jurisdictions to promote the maximum ultimate recovery from the petroleum reserves of said States, and to recommend measures for the maximum ultimate recovery of oil and gas. Said commission shall organize and adopt suitable rules and regulations for the conduct of its business.

No action shall be taken by the commission except: (1) by the affirmative votes of the majority of the whole number of the compacting States, represented at any meeting, and (2) by a concurring vote of a majority in interest of the compacting States at said meeting, such interest to be determined as follows: Such vote of each State shall be in the decimal proportion fixed by the ratio of its daily average production during the preceding calendar half-year to the daily average production of the compacting States during said period.

Article VII.

No State by joining herein shall become financially obligated to any other State, nor shall the breach of the terms hereof by any State subject such State to financial responsibility to the other States joining herein.

Article VIII.

This compact shall expire September 5, 1937. But any State having therein any right after 1931 shall continue with the same.

The representatives of the signatory States upon this agreement is a single original which shall be deposited in the custody of the Department of State of the United States, and a duly certified copy shall be furnished to the Governor of each of the signatory States.

Inasmuch as the compact has already been ratified by the State of New Mexico and will probably be ratified by two of the other States of Kansas, Texas, or Oklahoma within a few days, I urgently recommend that the California Legislature enact legislation ratifying the compact in order that the representative for the State of California to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission may protect the interest of the State of California at the initial meeting of the commission.

I submit for your earnest and early consideration the following draft of an act ratifying the compact.

An act to ratify and approve an interstate compact to conserve oil and gas, signed at Dallas, Texas, February 16, 1935.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature of California hereby ratifies and approves that certain agreement or compact designated as an Interstate Compact to Conserve Oil and Gas, signed at Dallas, Texas, on the sixteenth day of February, 1935, by R. L. Patterson, as the representative for California, under authority of and in conformity with the provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 7 (Ch. 23, Res. 1935), entitled "Relative to authorizing the Governor to appoint a representative to confer with the representative of other oil producing States and the United States," which said compact is in words and figures as follows:

"An Interstate Compact to Conserve Oil and Gas.

Article I.

This agreement may become effective within any compacting State at any time as prescribed by that State, and shall become effective within those States ratifying it whenever any three of the States of Texas, Oklahoma, California, Kansas and New Mexico have ratified and Congress has given its consent. Any oil-producing State may become a party hereto as hereinafter provided.

Article II.

The purpose of this compact is to conserve oil and gas by the prevention of physical waste thereof from any cause.

Article III.

Each State bound hereby agrees that within a reasonable time it will enact laws, or if laws have been enacted, then it agrees to continue the same in force, to accomplish within reasonable limits the prevention of:

- (a) The operation of any oil well with an inefficient gas-oil ratio.
- (b) The drowning with water of any stratum capable of producing oil or gas, or both oil and gas in paying quantities.
- (c) The avoidable escape into the open air or the wasteful burning of gas from a natural gas well.
- (d) The creation of unnecessary fire hazards.
- (e) The drilling, equipping, locating, spacing or operating of a well or wells so as to bring about physical waste of oil or gas or loss in the ultimate recovery thereof.
- (f) The inefficient, excessive or improper use of the reservoir energy in producing any well.

The enumeration of the foregoing subjects shall not limit the scope of the authority of any State.

Article IV.

Each State bound hereby agrees that it will, within a reasonable time, enact statutes, or if such statutes have been enacted then that it will continue the same in force, providing in effect that oil produced in violation of its valid oil and/or gas conservation statutes or any valid rule, order or regulation promulgated thereunder, shall be denied access to commerce; and providing for stringent penalties for the waste of either oil or gas.

Article V.

It is not the purpose of this compact to authorize the States joining herein to limit the production of oil or gas for the purpose of stabilizing or fixing the price thereof, or create or perpetuate monopoly, or to promote regimentation, but is limited to the purpose of conserving oil and gas and preventing the avoidable waste thereof within reasonable limitations.

Article VI.

Each State joining herein shall appoint one representative to a commission hereby constituted and designated as The Interstate Oil Compact

Commission, the title of which will necessarily tend to be more clearly and correctly from time to time with scientific questions, investigations and conclusions as may be demanded for varying degrees of information and the production of physical results of oil and gas, and of such resources as land management, being therefore a valid report on findings and recommendations to the several States and agencies or agencies. The commission shall have power to recommend the construction of the various of the public patterns of the several States within their annual expenditures to produce the maximum efficient primary from the petroleum reserves of said States, and to recommend measures for the maximum ultimate recovery of oil and gas. Such commission shall organize and adopt suitable rules and regulations for the conduct of its business.

No notice shall be given to the commission except: (1) by the affirmative action of the majority of the whole number of the participating States, represented at each meeting and (2) by a conccurring vote of a majority in interest of the participating States of said meeting, with interest to be determined as follows: each vote of each State shall be in the decimal proportion based on the ratio of its own average production during the preceding calendar half-year to the total average production of the participating States during said period.

Article VII.

No State by joining herein shall become financially obligated to any other State, nor shall the breach of the terms hereof by any State exempt such State to financial responsibility to the other States joining herein.

Article VIII

This compact shall expire September 1, 1937. But any State joining herein may, upon state (1935) date action, withdraw therefrom.

The representatives of the signatory States have signed this agreement in a single medium which shall be deposited in the archives of the Department of State of the United States, and a duly certified copy shall be forwarded to the Governor of each of the signatory States.

This compact shall become effective when ratified and approved as provided in Article I. Any oil producing State may become a party hereto by affixing its signature to a counterpart to be similarly drawn, certified and ratified.

Communication.

The following communication was received, read, ordered printed in the Journal, and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, February 27, 1934.

Hon. George Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor of California, Sacramento, California.

DEAR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR: Attached is a copy of a memorial addressed to the California Senate and Assembly in reference to the Townsend Plan, which explains itself. It is a request forwarded by over 50,000 voters of Los Angeles County, and will no doubt interest you.

Cordially yours,

EDWARD M. DIGHTON, Chairman Legislative Committee.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, February 27, 1935.

To the Senate of the State of California, Sacramento, California.

At a joint meeting of the officers of all the Townsend Old Age Pension Clubs of Los Angeles County, representing about 50,000 members, held on February 25, 1935, in the city of Los Angeles, it was proposed and unanimously decided that they, through the undersigned committee, go on record in asking your honorable body to make certain changes in the wording of Senate Joint Resolution No. 2—Relative to memorializing the President and Congress to adopt the Townsend Plan relating to old age security.

That resolution states that Congress be memorialized to investigate and enact legislation as proposed under the principles of the Townsend Plan.

The large and influential body of citizens supporting this plan feel justified in asking your honorable body to do more than merely have this plan and its principles investigated, and ask you respectfully to have a more definite stand taken in reference to that point has been made by the Legislature of other States. We therefore propose the following wording:

That the President and Congress be authorized to suspend and extend legislation as provided by the President Pro tempore sitting in the Senate, if House Resolution No. 1011, known as the McClellan bill. This bill has previously been introduced in Congress at the time the California Senate Resolution No. 2 was enacted, which would require the Senate to suspend the president in the event of that measure.

In the case of such suspension, withdrawal and resumption of the President organization mentioned to you in substance and organization in this measure.

Respectfully yours,

EDWARD M. TIGHE,
HUBERT M. HANL,
MAJ. EDWARD HALL.

By Senator Young:

Senator Young addressed the Senate respecting the death of Fremont Older, and presented the following resolution:

Mr. President and Members of the Senate.

WHEREAS, It is with deep regret that I call the attention of the members of the Senate to the death yesterday of one who was a friend of many of us, Fremont Older, who passed away unexpectedly from a heart ailment.

His beautiful home in Santa Clara County was the gathering place of literary people and artists from all over the country. It was also the haven and sanctuary for the unfortunate, because Fremont Older practiced in private the doctrines that he preached publicly throughout his long career.

He will be missed not alone by human beings but by his four-footed friends, his beloved dogs who were his constant companions during his leisure hours.

Fremont Older was beloved by many people who did not subscribe to his views, because of his rich human qualities.

With his passing California has lost one of her most picturesque and significant personalities.

Resolved, That when we adjourn today, we do so out of respect for the memory of Fremont Older.

Senators Slater and McGovern seconded the remarks and resolution as presented by Senator Young.

Resolution carried unanimously, by a rising vote of the Senate.

WHEREAS, During his short but active career in the Legislature he has made himself to the hearts of the members of his society and his people, and

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be and he is hereby empowered to have prepared a suitable memorial resolution, properly engrossed and passed on the floor of the deceased.

Resolution read.

Remarks.

The following remarks were offered by Senator Catterden:

MR. PRESIDENT: Mr. Dana P. Rieke came to the Legislature for the first time last January. No man has more been successful in doing things in such a brief period than did Mr. Rieke. He had a natural ability to do legislative work and rapidly won the confidence and friendship of his colleagues.

Mr. Rieke was an interesting man in his better health and found many opportunities and entered into many new activities. As one from the West coast of the Pacific in Stockton and his friends of parliament of numerous new friends from others and attracted state wide attention. He acted as mayor of the city of Stockton and as such won the respect of all the people. Again, his friends of California were outstanding and different from others. He was an old friend. Being versatile in his activities, he was also a well known newspaper writer. In his activities he did in a very entertaining way express his philosophy of life through clever but not vicious humor. His writings were not only entertaining but appealed to the heart. Mr. Eicke was outstanding in that he had a splendid knowledge of public affairs, was individualistic in his thought, brave in putting his convictions into print and into action and with it all the welfare of the individual person was his chief concern.

The Legislature has lost an able member.
I move the adoption of this resolution.

Remarks.

The following remarks were offered by Senator Schottky:

MR. PRESIDENT: In rising to second the motion of Senator Crittenden, I desire to say that I knew Dana P. Eicke for a number of years. Senator Crittenden has referred to his ability and his achievements, so I shall not dwell upon them. He was a man whom it was a pleasure to meet and know—a man of high character and genial nature. I never knew a man who was more easy to approach, who was more gentle in his dealings with people, who was more charitable in his attitude toward mankind. Of him it could be truly said that he was full of the "milk of human kindness." In his death, the Legislature of California has lost a man who was, and who, in the years to come, would have continued to be, a wholesome and beneficent influence, one who was the type of man and legislator of whom we could be justly proud.

Senator Crittenden, seconded by Senator Schottky, moved the adoption of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 24.

Remarks.

The following remarks were offered by Senator Slater:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE: It is most appropriate that the Senate pause for a few moments for the purpose of officially recording its note of sympathy and respect for a truly splendid woman.

It is most fitting that the Senate come to the kindly sentiments embodied in the resolution adopted by the Assembly in a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Emma D. Jordan, much loved wife of Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

Many of us had enjoyed the privilege of being among those gathered in the very large circle of friends of the one we mourn. Mrs. Jordan was a woman of high ideals and her heart was always turned towards those who needed an appreciative smile and token of friendship. She loved her family as her greatest joy. In her daily walks in life she left shining remembrances which death does not efface. They are imperishably indited upon Memory's Book. Her life story is fragrant with the perfume of good deeds, a linking of earth and Heaven for all those she cherished.

Very sincerely does the Senate participate with the Assembly in a tribute of condolence with him, who in his lonesome hours must now

"Sigh for the touch of the vanished hand,
And the sound of the voice that is still."

In our farewell to Mrs. Jordan, and in recognition of what her life meant in the family circle and the world outside which she enriched by having lived in it, we echo the supplication of the old benedictory: "Eternal rest grant unto her, O Lord, and may perpetual light shine upon her!"

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Bills are now pending before the Legislature of the State of California that are of vital and of immediate importance to the counties, cities and cities and counties of the State of California. Many of these bills directly concern taxation, revenue, special assessment districts, publicly owned public utilities and other matters of moment to the finances of counties, cities and cities and counties, while others concern the social well-being and welfare of the citizens of the counties, cities and cities and counties. Because of the importance of these bills, it is both equitable and necessary that representatives from the counties, cities and cities and counties be permitted to attend and to appear before the Legislature of this State and before its committees to the end that counties, cities and cities and counties may have the opportunity to be heard on all measures affecting said counties, or cities or cities and counties. Unless this authority is granted immediately and the expense of sending representatives is made a proper charge against the county, or city or city and county, the counties, cities and cities and counties will be precluded from proper representation before the Legislature and its committees. Because of the direct concern of the counties, cities and cities and counties in bills now assigned to committees it is urgently necessary that this bill be acted upon immediately and go into effect immediately.

It is well the special observance of this day is continued in its observance in our standing. It symbolizes the great things of nature which have in its passing the essential elements in planting and care necessary to producing the best results. It also points to a continuing usefulness of the life of Luther Burbank, who, though dead, yet speaks to each of us and inspires us to the realization of his desire to increase and carry on the great beneficence of nature.

payable in installments becoming delinquent in December, 1935, and April, 1936. By the same reasoning there is no basis for claiming that the utilities are escaping any property taxation when they were assessed for a full year's gross receipts tax as of the first Monday in March of 1934 and will become subject to a full year's ad valorem tax as of the first Monday in March of 1935. The utilities were, in fact, required to pay a full year's property tax in 1934 (in the form of a gross receipts tax) and will be subjected to a like tax in 1935 (in the form of an ad valorem tax).

There is no possibility that they are escaping property taxation for the first six months in 1935.

We trust that the foregoing analysis of the situation will serve to meet the purposes of your inquiry.

Very truly yours,

DIXWELL L. PIERCE, Secretary.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate, State of California.

Senate Bill No. 2—An act making an appropriation for a State exhibit at the California Pacific International Exposition, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

In my opinion said Senate Bill No. 2 constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and the consideration of which should not await final enactment of the Budget Bill.

I, therefore, recommend the consideration of this bill as such an emergency measure.

Every person convicted of a public offense, for which imprisonment in any reformatory or State prison is now prescribed by law shall, unless such convicted person be placed on probation, a new trial granted, or the imposing of sentence suspended, be sentenced to be imprisoned in a State prison, but the court in imposing the sentence shall not fix the term or duration of the period of imprisonment.

It is hereby made the duty of the warden of any of the State prisons to receive such person, who shall be imprisoned until duly released as provided for in this section. The term of imprisonment shall not exceed the maximum or be less than the minimum term of imprisonment provided by law for the public offense of which such person was convicted.

The State Board of Prison Directors, or any board or commission that may be hereafter given authority so to do, shall determine after the expiration of the minimum term of imprisonment provided by law, except that in cases in which the minimum term of imprisonment is more than six months, the State Board of Prison Directors may determine after the expiration of six months from and after the actual commencement of such imprisonment, what length of time, if any, such person shall be imprisoned, unless the sentence be sooner terminated by commutation or pardon by the Governor of the State. When a prisoner has imposed upon him two or more cumulative or consecutive sentences, the State Board of Prison Directors may determine after the expiration of six months of his first sentence, what length of time he shall serve on all such cumulative or consecutive sentences.

In case any convicted person undergoing sentence in any of the State prisons commits any infraction of the rules and regulations of the prison board, or escapes while working outside such prison under the surveillance of prison guards, the Board of Prison Directors may revoke any order theretofore made determining the length of time such convicted person shall be imprisoned, and make a new order determining such length of time not exceeding the maximum penalty provided by law for the offense for which he was convicted, unless the sentence be sooner terminated by commutation or pardon by the Governor of the State. Such revocation and redetermination shall not be had except upon a hearing upon the question of such infraction or escape and an adjudication by the board that such prisoner was guilty thereof, which adjudication shall be final. At such hearing such prisoner, unless outside the walls of the prison as an escape and fugitive from justice, shall be present and entitled to be heard and may present evidence and witnesses in his behalf.

Any convicted person undergoing sentence in any of the State prisons, not sooner released under the provisions of this section shall, in accordance with the provisions of existing law, be discharged from custody on serving the maximum punishment provided by law for the offense of which such person was convicted.

(2) Certain Maximum Penalties. The following shall be the maximum term of sentence and imprisonment for certain crimes hereinafter listed, and which provisions of this code, or any provision of law constituting a crime committed:

(3) Good Credits. The State Board of Prison Directors shall receive of every able-bodied prisoner imprisoned in any State prison, the number of months below in each and every day during his term of imprisonment as shall be prescribed by the rules and regulations of the prison.

In all cases there may be allowed as good time the term of imprisonment from such credits for meritorious conduct and diligent labor as may or shall be authorized by law.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, every prisoner who has committed no infraction of the rules or regulations of the prison at the time of his arrest, and who performs in a faithful manner, industriously works and obediently obeys the work, duties and tasks assigned to him by the warden of the prison, through any in whose behalf the warden of the prison shall be a person suffering from his conduct and work have been meritorious and recommending allowance of these credits to him shall upon, but not until, the adoption of such recommendation by the State Board of Prison Directors, be allowed time and credits from the end of his term of confinement as fixed by the board of directors, to be used in the last of every year credits as were heretofore allowed on the basis of one month of credit for each of the first two years, four months in each of the next two years, and two months in each of the remaining years of said term, and credits shall be one day of the term where such term of confinement is for more than thirty days. The number of good credits recommended by the warden and approved by the Board of Prison Directors, shall be as shown by the following table:

If any convict shall assault any known guard, witness, officer, warden or other person, or threaten or endanger the person or life of any person, or disregard any prison rule or regulation, or neglect or refuse to do the work to which he is assigned, or be guilty of any misconduct, or violate any of the rules or regulations governing parole, the Board of Prison Directors may declare a forfeiture of all good credits theretofore earned by or allowed to him before the commission of such offense, and/or all time credits which he may thereafter earn, and the Board of Prison Directors may forfeit such part of such time credits as they may determine such forfeitures, however, shall be made only by the Board of Directors after the giving of the offense and notice to the offender unless such offender be outside the walls of the prison as an escape and fugitive from justice, and the board may restore time credits forfeited for good cause shown, and may allow extra credits for extra meritorious conduct and industry.

(4) Parole. The State Board of Prison Directors shall have power to establish rules and regulations under which any prisoner who is now, or who hereafter may be imprisoned in any of the State prisons, and who has served the period of time prescribed by this section, may be allowed to go upon parole outside the prison buildings and inclosures.

No prisoner may be paroled in any case until he has served the minimum term of imprisonment provided by law for the offense of which he was convicted, except that in cases of parole not otherwise specifically provided by this section, or if this section does not specifically provide such minimum sentence, then by other provisions of law, in which the minimum term of imprisonment is more than one year, he may be paroled at any time after the expiration of one-half the minimum term of imprisonment provided by law for the offense of which he was convicted, with benefit of credits, and in any case the matter of parole may be determined by the board at any time after the expiration of six months from and after the actual commencement of such imprisonment.

No prisoner who has served a previous sentence in a State prison in this or any other State or in a Federal penitentiary may be paroled until he has served at least two calendar years.

No prisoner who has had imposed upon him two or more cumulative or consecutive sentences may be paroled until he has served at least two calendar years of the aggregate time of such cumulative or consecutive sentences.

No prisoner confined in the State prison and no prisoner under sentence to the State prison who is convicted of an escape or an attempt to escape from the prison or the guards may be paroled until he has served at least two calendar years from and after the date of his return to the prison after such conviction.

No prisoner imprisoned under a life sentence may be paroled until he has served at least seven calendar years.

If neither a maximum nor a minimum term of imprisonment is imposed by law for the offense of which the prisoner was convicted, but a fixed and definite term is imposed by the court, he may be paroled after serving one calendar year of his term.

At least thirty days before the State Board of Prison Directors shall meet to consider the granting of a parole to any prisoner or to fix and determine the length of time any prisoner shall be confined, the said board shall send written notice thereof to the judge of the superior court before whom the prisoner was tried and convicted, and to the district attorney and the sheriff of the county from which the prisoner was sentenced.

Prisoners on parole shall remain under the legal custody and control of the State Board of Prison Directors and shall be subject at any time to be taken back within the inclosure of the prison. If any paroled prisoner shall leave the State without permission of the State Board of Prison Directors, he shall be held as an escaped prisoner and arrested as such.

The State Board of Prison Directors upon granting any parole to any prisoner may impose on the parole such conditions as it may deem proper, and may impose as a condition of the parole, that all or a portion of his credits earned, or to be earned, may be forfeited by order of the State Board of Prison Directors in the event that such prisoner shall break his parole or violate any law of the State, or rule or regulation of the prison, or of the State Board of Prison Directors, or any of the conditions of his parole.

Such forfeiture of credits shall not be had except upon a hearing upon the question of such violation and an adjudication by the board that such prisoner was guilty thereof, which adjudication shall be final. At such hearing such prisoner, unless outside the walls of the prison as an escape and a fugitive from justice, shall be present and entitled to be heard and may present evidence and witnesses in his behalf.

Full power to make and enforce rules and regulations relating to the parole of prisoners, to grant paroles thereunder, to suspend, cancel and or revoke paroles without notice, and to retake and imprison any prisoner so upon parole, is hereby conferred upon the State Board of Prison Directors. The written order of the board certified by the president of the board shall be a sufficient warrant for all officers named therein to authorize such officers to return to actual custody any conditionally released or paroled prisoner.

It is hereby made the duty of all chiefs of police, marshals of cities and villages, sheriffs of counties, and all police, prison and peace officers, and constables to execute any such order in like manner as ordinary criminal process.

The Governor of the State shall have like power to cancel and revoke the parole of any prisoner. The written authority of the Governor shall likewise be sufficient to authorize any of the officers named therein to retake and return said prisoner to the State prison. His written order canceling or revoking the parole shall have the same force and effect and be executed in like manner as the order of the State Board of Prison Directors.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

The net which is apportioned by these net provisions for the expenditure of money by the State highway fund derived from the Motor Vehicle Fuel License Tax Act of 1923 provides for the expenditure of part of such money to be apportioned on the basis of the last Federal Census, which was taken in 1920. Nevertheless, on the basis of the last Federal Census, which was taken in 1920, New York City is entitled to 10.2 per cent of the net, while the other cities are entitled to 1.8 per cent. The net as it now stands is not uniform as to all incorporated cities, the only question to a constitutional question which would provide all incorporated cities with participating the benefits of the net. In order to make the net operate uniformly during the ensuing fiscal year, and in order to insure equitable distribution of such apportionments, to all incorporated cities, it is necessary that this net take immediate effect.

Remarks.

St. Patrick's Day.

The following remarks, offered by Senator Schmitky, were ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

The seventeenth of March marks the anniversary of the death of St. Patrick, who was known throughout the entire Christian world as the first and only of Irishmen in the year 433 A. D., and preached the gospel of Christ to the people of that island, and whose preaching resulted in the conversion of the people of Ireland to the Christian faith. The birthplace of St. Patrick, whose British name was Sesonius, is uncertain, but most authorities agree that it was in Scotland. At the age of 16 he was carried off by Irish marauders and for six years, while in captivity, he was a herdsman. He finally escaped to the north coast of France. About the year 409, having in the meantime been employed a priest at the Catholic Church, he returned to Ireland and began the ministry which continued to the death of his death.

In Ireland itself St. Patrick's Day is a day of national observance. Protestants and Catholics alike join in honoring the memory of the Patron Saint of the Emerald Isle. Some people believe that St. Patrick's Day is purely a sectarian day, but such is not the case. For instance the great Cathedral of St. Patrick in the city of Dublin is an Episcopalian cathedral where a great religious observance is held on the seventeenth day of March of each year.

We people of the United States and particularly we people who are not of the Irish race are very happy to join with our fellow Americans, who are of Irish descent in observing the seventeenth of March of each year.

America is made up of the descendants of European immigrants. America depends for her glory and achievement on the sons and daughters of European countries living in the civilized world. Therefore, Mr. President, it is particularly fitting and fitting that in this Senate, at this time, we should pause for a few moments, to pay our respects to the memory of a great character who was not only a great religious leader, but a great educational leader as well, and whose spirit and influence have left their mark not only on the people of Ireland but also on the people of these United States.

The sons and grandsons of Irish immigrants have played a very great part in the history and development of our State of California. They have occupied many positions within the gift of our people. They have participated in civil demonstrations, in political action, in industrial advancement, in commerce, in trade and in science.

One does not have to be of Irish descent to appreciate the very positive contribution which the Celt has made to the glory of our civilization on this continent. It is a matter of record, from the days of the Revolutionary War to this present time, that Irish blood have fought and died under the American flag on countless occasions and of battle where our country has taken a stand.

The names of such distinguished Americans as General Montgomery, General Sullivan and Commodore Barry, in the Revolutionary War; General James J. Smith and General Riley in the Mexican War; General Andrew Jackson in the War of 1812; Generals Phil Sheridan, McCullough, McCallister and others of equal note in the Civil War; and during the World War, General O'Rourke of New York, and thousands of others, of the Irish race, distinguished themselves because of their ability and patriotism.

In this very Senate we can recall to mind scores of distinguished legislators. Beginning with Senator David C. Broderick, of San Francisco, to this very day men of Irish blood have served our commonwealth ably and unselfishly in the interests of the people.

The congenial characteristics, the pleasant personalities and the true friendship that all of us have made with men of the Irish race have tended to make the observance of St. Patrick's Day in the United States a day of general good fellowship and rejoicing, without regard to race or creed.

Therefore, Mr. President, I have presumed upon the attention of this Senate for a few moments while I reminded you of the happy event which recurred on March 17th when throughout the entire English-speaking world men and women have paused, as we have paused today, to pay their respects to the Patron Saint of a great race that has meant so much in the upbringing and development of our Nation and of our commonwealth.

WHEREAS, The revolving Old Age Pension Plan originated by Dr. F. E. Townsend, of California, has been presented to the United States Senate and the National House of Representatives; and

WHEREAS, The program contemplates both relief for the aged and widespread adjustments in our economic system certain to result in increased working conditions and in extensive reduction of unemployment among thousands of men and women under the age of 60 years; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly: That the Congress of the United States is respectfully urged to enact H. R. 9777, introduced in the House of Representatives, January 16, 1935, and cited as the "Townsend Old-Age Revolving Pension Act," which is as follows:

"SEC. 2. SEC. 4. Any qualified pensioner who, for any justifiable reason, has failed to legally receive and disburse said pension, may, upon proper proof, be reinstated and thereafter receive the pension.

(a) All pensioners under this act shall be permitted to expend not more than 15 per centum of each monthly pension for charity, church, and fraternal organizations.

No two members of this board may belong to the same political party. Such boards may appoint deputies within their districts. All members of the board shall serve without compensation other than their pensions. Such boards shall have supervision of the administration of this act in their respective districts and shall be governed by rules and regulations promulgated by the Secretary of the Treasury. A pension board shall be so set up for each county in the United States other than the areas of metropolitan cities wherein boards shall be created in each ward or similar political subdivision.

SEC. 9. Any and all oaths or affirmations required under the provisions of this act may be administered by any officer authorized by the law of any State to take acknowledgments for the conveyance of real property or by any member of a duly constituted pension board as herein provided.

"WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has had on its for consideration a plan proposed by F. B. Townsend, M.D., whereby the national health and retirement of the aged may become more secure during their declining years; and

WHEREAS, The problem is one of National importance with which only the Federal Government can adequately cope, for the reasons that the fundamental need of our Nation guarantees to its citizens the right freely to move from one State to another, citizens have moved and in large numbers the large family unit split to another and take up their residence in the latter and thus not their right to receive the benefits of old age pension laws of the State of their original residence has been lost; they acquire the right to participate in the benefits of pension laws of the State of their new domicile; and

WHEREAS, These conditions over which the States have no control make it uneconomical and inequitable for those States which have within their borders an undue proportion of the aged citizens of the Nation to meet and carry the enormous heavy financial burden and the Nation only, not the States, can equitably discharge and suitably discharge the obligation; and

WHEREAS, The problem is accentuated by the fact that great masses of large numbers have lost their life savings because of economic depression which is nationwide in scope, not merely state-wide in character; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California, jointly, That the President and Congress be memorialized to inaugurate all advanced financial plans and enact legislation for the security and support of the aged; and be it further,

Resolved, That copies of this legislation be respectfully transmitted to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each of the Senators and Representatives of the State of California."

Motion by Senator Deuel.

On motion of Senator Deuel, the following remarks, made by Senator Olson in opposition to Assembly Joint Resolution No. 38, were ordered printed in the Journal:

Remarks of Senator OlsonWhy I Voted Against Assembly Joint Resolution No. 39 "Townsend Plan" as Contained in McGroarty Bill Now Pending in Congress.

MR. PRESIDENT: For the humanitarian purpose behind the "Townsend Plan" of providing economic security and comfort to the aged for the thousands of 100,000 those over 60 from gainful employments to make way for the displacement of unemployed persons under that age, and for an increased production and consumption of commodities contemplated by the enforced expenditure of the $24,000,000,000 per annum required to pay the pensions, I am as deeply in sympathy as Mr. Townsend himself, or any of the millions who sincerely believe with him in this bill. Among them are thousands of my constituents, men and women who voted for me, trusting in me and are expecting and demanding that I vote for this bill. Not that I ever advocated or endorsed this plan. On the contrary, during the primary and election campaigns I stated in meetings composed of its advocates that I could not endorse it. I so informed Dr. Townsend at an interview with him at his home in Long Beach. Dr. Townsend then very correctly said that the question of its endorsement or rejection is a National and not a State issue, and the attitude on that question of any candidate for State office was of no consequence.

But I did declare during the campaign, and I still declare for adequate old age pensions. The following paragraph was written by me in our Democratic State platform: "We declare for adequate old age pensions, and we pledge ourselves that California will assume its full responsibility in maintaining society's sacred obligation to provide adequate pensions for the aged as well as for the blind, the disabled and the widowed mothers of helpless children, also for maternity care."

I shall work to the last minute in this legislative session to secure the enactment of legislation in keeping with that declaration.

It is understandable, however, that many thousands who have persecuted Congress for the Townsend Plan and are urging the adoption of this resolution understanding it as a National program confuse our vote against this resolution as being in opposition to old age pensions and to all that its advocates have for it this bill. That situation makes more poignant the pain I suffer from having been unconsciously compelled to vote against it. The impression they will have, temporarily at least, is that I am not being true to the cause of liberalism, to the struggle toward a new, a better, a saner economic order for which our true progressives are striving, and to which the Democratic Party of this State is committed.

Time will dispell this false impression, and time I firmly believe will vindicate my vote last week in opposition to this resolution, whether the bill which it sets forth in full as the "Townsend Old Age Pension Act" be adopted by Congress or not.

I have been told to study the Townsend Plan. I have studied it. I have read all the literature I have found available in its behalf. I have analyzed this bill and tried to think in terms of its purposes and workability for relieving the noble purposes here of it, but I simply cannot do so. I can not believe that we can tax ourselves into prosperity and also pay $24,000,000,000 per year to 10,000,000 of our people not engaged in production of it.

The argument is that the country starting out with the payment of $2,000,000,000 of money to 10,000,000 people, to be spent by them in a month, will create an increased demand for commodities, that there will be increased production, and the unemployed will be put to work. I agree that the distribution and spending of that money would increase demand for commodities and employment, just as the distribution of billions by the government in relief checks to the unemployed, and their employment in SERA and public works projects has increased demand for commodities and has furnished employment that would not have been available without those expenditures. But where do these billions come from? Not from taxing wealth which is idle. Not from a redistribution of wealth from centers into which surpluses have accumulated. Not from those who take property or are receiving more than their social share, but by borrowing it from them and paying interest to them on tax exempt securities, and by taxing up the purchasing requirements of the poor. At the same time from the enormous cost of this borrowed money more and more surpluses are piled by way of interest on the hands of those from whom the borrowings are made and in whom the interest is also being paid. That is what has been done with the billions of relief money paid out during this depression upon the false theory of "priming the pump" for the return of prosperity by starting the flow of capital through the channels of trade.

This bill requires that the United States treasury is to immediately distribute $2,000,000,000 for the first month to these over 90 without regard to the needs of any of them, leaving it to the taxpayer to bear what amount by increasing the National debt and then deducting a gross transactions tax of 2 or 3 per cent to pay the next month's $2,000,000,000 obligation. It would require, according to Dr. Doane, who appeared with Dr. Townsend before the House committee, nearer a 12 per cent transactions tax to raise this amount the first month, and the most that could be raised the first year by a 2 per cent transactions tax, depending upon an increase of transactions, would be about $9,000,000,000. However, this tax would be on the enormous reflected-in-increased-costs-of-consumption transactions of life. The summing of the tax from the part material purchases and costs of commodities, through to the finished product and its selling to the consumer, it has been estimated, would be added to a possible tax on increased costs of commodities of about 35 per cent, so that itself would reduce the purchasing value of the dollar paid as pension to about 65 cents, and would increase the cost of living to the poor beyond their reach. And the monthly summing of $2,000,000,000 per month would immediately create such a serious financial demand as to force some nations to seek to probably two or three times their present level so that the purchasing power of the $200 paid for some nations is less than $50 per month, and the great masses of the people would still further pay off their wages on payments on the present scale, and those remaining on relief would be on a still more starvation.

As to the Townsend Plan, the President has a plan for it, and some supporting the Townsend Plan who are coming out against the differences of it. "The more the needs of the poor would be in the hands of the government, the more the government would be in the hands of the poor," is the slogan of the Townsend Plan. "The more the needs of the poor would be in the hands of the government, the more the government would be in the hands of the poor," is the slogan of the Townsend Plan. "The more the needs of the poor would be in the hands of the government, the more the government would be in the hands of the poor," is the slogan of the Townsend Plan.

This government plan the other would get covered within such distribution possible, and the $2,000,000,000 for the pensions for the first month is provided, the poverty ing idea of returning that money to the producers by a sales tax upon themselves and other consumers can not be realized. That money did not remain in circulation, because it will be constantly drained from business profits and payments that added to the accumulations of that same fraction of the population must be done a per cent—that already owns nearly 90 per cent of the Nation's wealth. There is no reason why this privileged portion of our population should obtain it a cent. While the first $2,000,000,000.00 is thus absorbed, no part of it can longer be used for the like absorption of the next $2,000,000,000.00 next year.

This same "Townsend Plan" friend of mine, in his letter to the President says: "Provision must be made to the extent of 1935 that money can be siphoned into circulation and out of accumulations already in our money hoards. The Townsend Plan recognizes that necessity of forcing the immediate expenditure of all persons' incomes. The plan aims at furthering the expenditure that all incomes must remain motionless; that some business enterprise. For money remains automatically restless themselves into normal supplies of physical goods."

If this bill provided for taking wealth from those having accumulated who are receiving much more than their share, and distributing it to the poor who have contributed their lives and services to producing it, and for making it available to all persons from accumulating capitalists, profits and huge incomes, it would have the merit of proposing a more equitable distribution of wealth, instead of producing a redistribution of the already money and accumulated savings of the poor, who in the meaning of the form of taxation that this bill provides.

But $2,000,000,000.00 per month, or $24,000,000,000.00 per year, may be raised by a tax on incomes and inheritance. Some persons believe that it may be raised by taxes, however, and if the producers are paid only for those he used and services they receiving a legitimate income, which is the practical thing to do, and which can be done by Congress and by the State Legislatures, without the interference of an inadequate old age pension system, and if the present accumulation of this money and the Senators have who voted for this measure, would desire to accomplish it, that will be done before the adjournment of the Senate of the 1935 year.

Mr. President, this is two years and longer a promise to be broken even by any political selfishness, parties or advantages. If the Government actually believes in the franchise of the 1935 year, it will not be broken by the money of all and restoring prospects and fortunes $24,000,000,000.00 per year, and instead to be used and suffering humanity by having them to use it, and which the new general income is now at the rate of only $47,000,000,000.00 of about $10,000,000,000.00 is already being taken for taxes. I sympathize with his sentiment, but I am not agree with him.

Mr. President, I do agree with my constituents who are advanced here, that there is an unrepresentative of wealth in our country, but the accumulation and lack of subsistence money.

Our present production is about $45,000,000,000.00 per year, and the amount of the annual income received by the 1935. The total annual production in 1935 was about $85,000,000,000.00. Our present production, however, is about $45,000,000,000.00. Our present production is about $45,000,000,000.00. We all know our country and people can produce sufficient for the needs, comforts and wants of millions of all engaged in productive effort and distributive services, if all are employed and can provide for the comfortable retirement of those who have reached the age of 60 years or even less. But I do not believe that we have accomplished in paying debts and taxes for the perpetuation of debt, and the consequences of production on a subsistence basis to those employed. I do not believe it can be done by the juggling of money and credits, or through a distribution of the benefits of capitalistic exploitation. I believe it must be accomplished by first placing all employable persons to work actually production that which is to be used and by securing an equitable distribution of the total wealth produced, and by setting aside surpluses as production increases that will provide for the need of comfort and security.

I have recognized, however, that hundreds of thousands of the citizens of our State are firmly convinced that the "Townsend Plan" is a scheme to solve our problems, would solve all our economic problems, relieve distress, provide universal employment and easily provide the $24,000,000,000.00 per annum as promised in the plan. They have joined in petitions to the Congress of the United States for its adoption, signed by millions throughout the Nation. In recognition of that sentiment and of the demand of the advocates of this bill, I did on January 22, 1935, by action by the Senate Journal of that date, page 28, vote for the passage of the following resolution, known as the Stream-Wright Resolution:

"Resolved by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, That the President and the Congress of the United States be and they are fully urged to carefully consider the enactment of an old age pension law and to study the 'Townsend Plan of Old Age Revolving Pension'."

and on the same day (page 29 of the Senate Journals) I voted for the passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 2 as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California, jointly, That the President and Congress be memorialized to investigate and enact legislation as proposed under the principles of the 'Townsend Plan'."

These memorials responded to the wishes of my constituents, as expressed in written requests from hundreds of them and from Townsend Club organizations. I felt that I should vote for these resolutions in response to their demands, leaving it to Congress to find a way, if possible, to incorporate the principles of the Townsend Plan in a workable old age pension measure. Then there was brought before us this resolution which sets forth a resolution introduced in Congress by Congressman McGroarty and referred to as "Townsend Old Age Pension Act," containing provisions which I voted against as unsound and unworkable. I have made no "fight" against the purposes of the "Townsend Plan." I am for their accomplishment, if a way can be found to do so. I still believe this bill is economically unsound and unworkable, and can not accomplish what is intended.

CULBERT OLSON.

Consideration of Committee Amendment

Pursuant to the report of the Committee on Agriculture and Live Stock, the following amendment to Senate Bill No. 498 was read and adopted:

Amendment No. 1.

"The production, transportation, processing, manufacture, distribution and sale of milk and other dairy products and the transportation of persons, products and information as to the importance of milk and other dairy products to the maintenance of a high level of public health is hereby declared to be a business subject to a public interest. The provisions of this chapter are enacted in the exercise of the police power of this State for the purpose of protecting the health and welfare of the people of this State.

706 The existence of an adequate and continuous supply of milk and other dairy products at prices fair and equitable to the producers, processors, manufacturers, distributors, retailers and the consuming public is necessary and desirable. Experience has shown that this end is best accomplished through the use of regulated economic forces and that regulation by the State is necessary. The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed for the purpose of attaining the objects thereof.

707 The purpose of this chapter is to enable the dairy industry with the aid of the State to correct the existing evils, develop and maintain more satisfactory marketing conditions, and bring about a reasonable amount of stability and prosperity in the production and marketing of milk and dairy products and to provide means for carrying on essential industrial activities. It is recognized by the Legislature that milk price wars and other chaotic conditions in the marketing of milk and dairy products are caused by the inability of producers to adjust production to variations in consumptive demand, and by unwarrentable price cutting and unfair trade practices on the part of those engaged in the distribution of these products. In order to correct these evils, it is the intent of the Legislature that the powers herein conferred upon administrative authorities shall be liberally construed. Nothing in this act shall be construed as permitting or authorizing the establishment of monopolies or monopoly in the production, manufacture, or distribution of milk or other dairy products. In the establishment and from time to time in the alteration, amendment or modification of the maximum prices, terms and conditions under which milk and dairy products shall be purchased by manufacturers, distributors and retail stores from producers, and under which manufacturers, distributors and retail stores shall sell and distribute the same, such prices, terms and conditions shall be those which will, in the several localities and markets of the State and under the varying conditions of production and distribution yield reasonable returns to producers, distributors, manufacturers and retail stores and at the same time insure an adequate and continuous supply of pure, fresh and wholesome milk and dairy products to consumers thereof in the State at fair and reasonable prices.

Article 2. Control of Fluid Milk.

724. Sixty-five per cent of the producers who are producing fluid milk commercially for any marketing area, and who produce not less than sixty-five per cent of the total volume of fluid milk produced commercially for such marketing area, may make application to the commission for the appointment of a local control board for the purpose of formulating and administering a control plan for marketing fluid milk. The percentage of volume shall be determined on the basis of quantity of fluid milk produced or by the number of pounds of milkfat produced at the option of the applicants. A nonprofit cooperative marketing association may make application on behalf of the members thereof. The application shall state the boundaries of the marketing area sought to be established, and such other matters as the commission may prescribe.

No geographical boundaries shall be placed upon an area in which producers supply fluid milk for any given marketing area. Any fluid milk producer who complies with the applicable health regulations and the uniform rules, regulations or orders established by the commission or any local control board shall be permitted to supply fluid milk to any market and shall be issued an equitable quota by the local board having jurisdiction over such marketing area.

725. Upon receipt of such application, the commission shall determine whether the area sought to be established as a marketing area is such that conditions of production, distribution and sale are reasonably uniform and susceptible to the application of a control plan. If the commission determines that the boundary of the marketing area described in the application should be changed in accordance with the conditions specified in this section, said application may be amended to incorporate such changes as are deemed necessary by the commission.

726. If the commission determines that the application is properly made, and that the area involved is such that a control plan is feasible, the commission shall appoint a local control board from nominations submitted by a majority of the applicants, and in which nominations consideration must be given to minority representation in relation to its percentage to the whole.

This local control board shall consist of seven members, five of whom during their tenure of office shall be engaged in the production of fluid milk; and two of whom shall be engaged during their tenure of office in the distribution of fluid milk; provided, that in cases in which the commission is of the opinion that seven members will not give adequate representation to all factors in the industry, the local board may be increased to not more than thirteen members observing as nearly as practicable the relationship between production and distribution prescribed for committees of seven members.

The term of members of the local control board shall be two years but the term of three members of the first board shall expire at the end of the first year. Board members shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of their successors. The members at their first meeting shall determine by lot the relative order in which their terms expire. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the commission for the unexpired term. The members of the board shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be allowed their necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

The local board shall constitute a body corporate and body politic for the purpose of exercising the powers and performing all acts under this chapter and for that purpose shall have power to sue and to be sued.

727. The board shall formulate a control plan. Any such plan shall provide for production control through a system of equitable quotas to producers and licensing of distributors as provided in this chapter. No distributor shall purchase fluid milk from a producer unless the producer holds a valid quota issued by the board.

The local control board may fix minimum prices to be paid producers and to be charged by distributors and retail stores and in fixing such prices shall give due consideration to the economic relationship of butter and other dairy products with the price of fluid milk and the cost of producing such dairy products and fluid milk in the area. It may fix minimum prices to be charged by distributors and retail stores. In fixing all prices the board shall ascertain, as far as feasible, what prices for milk in the marketing area involved will best protect the milk industry and insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk in the public interest. The board shall take into consideration all conditions affecting the milk industry, including the price necessary to produce a reasonable return to the producer and to the milk distributor.

728. After making such investigation the local control board shall, by order, fix the minimum wholesale and retail price to be charged for fluid milk handled and sold within the marketing area and including the following classes:

- (a) By producers or associations of producers to milk distributors;
- (b) By milk distributors to retail stores for consumption on the premises, or for resale to consumers or to others;
- (c) By retail stores or others except for consumption on the premises where sold;
- (d) By producer distributors and distributors for deliveries to homes of consumers.

The board, upon facts found by it, based upon differences in costs of the various services may establish differentials in prices between house to house sales by distributors, house to house deliveries by stores, and sales by stores over the counter for credit or cash.

The board may provide a code of ethics and fair practices. It may provide means for educational and sales stimulation programs, provided that no such educational activities or programs are unfairly detrimental to other products; and such other provisions as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this chapter.

729. Upon its formation, the plan shall be submitted to the commission and, unless in violation of the provisions of this chapter, shall be approved by the commission and made effective, such approval to be subject to the following provisions:

730. A plan, when established, may be modified by the local control board from time to time, but no such modification shall take effect until the commission shall have modified its order to include those.

731. Upon the establishment of any control plan, the local control board shall issue an equitable apportionment to each producer of fluid milk marketing the marketing area and to each additional producer who thereafter becomes included by agreement with applicable local regulations to supply milk with any such area.

732. The local control board may do all things that are necessary for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the control plan in the area affected. The commission may receive and record such plan and regulations for the guidance of the local control board and may order the board to derive from any source of funds which is not in accordance with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. The board may supply funds for such requirements to producers and from the buying and information from dealers as may be necessary during the provisions of this chapter.

733. The local control board may employ a manager to execute its functions under its direction and may obtain and accept donations as may be necessary. The board may acquire any other property which it is deemed to be necessary for the board shall determine.

734. The local control board and persons law to be paid for services and distributions of fluid milk in the marketing area in order to provide funds for the carrying out of its functions and obligations. Such fees shall be as the board of the amount of pounds of milk for marketed in handling.

The amount of the fees shall be derived primarily from all producers and distributors participating in the control plan and shall be paid to the board of the commission, and from any persons or firms shall be paid to the marketing commission, not to exceed 1 mill per pound of milk for as may be necessary to defray the expenses incurred by the commission in carrying out the provisions of this article. The balance of such fees shall be retained by the local control board to be used by it to carry out the functions of the control plan.

735. The local control board shall keep account of all money received and expended and such accounts shall be presented for audit to the commission. At any time as the commission may require. Any person aggrieved by any order or regulation made effective by a local control board may appeal to the commission. When such appeal, the commission shall make an order granting the appeal, either in whole or in part, or denying the appeal. A failure on the part of the commission to grant the redress sought within three days shall be deemed a denial of the appeal.

Any control plan formulated under the provisions of this chapter and all orders and regulations respecting the same shall be recorded by the commission upon registration of fifty-one per cent or more of all of the persons qualified and showing into the marketing area, to sign an application for such plan.

Article 3. Control of Manufactured Dairy Products.

736. In order to carry out the policy of this chapter, the commission is empowered to enter into marketing agreements with manufacturers, producers, associations of producers or distributors of manufactured dairy products for any dairy product or manufacturing milk other than fluid milk for any marketing area.

737. SIXTY FIVE per cent of the persons engaged in, and such persons as represent sixty-five per cent of the volume of, production, manufacture or distribution of a dairy product, other than fluid milk, in any marketing area, may make application to formulate a marketing agreement.

If the commission determines that the application is properly made and that the area involved is such that a control plan is feasible, the commission shall authorize such applicants to formulate a marketing agreement.

738. Such marketing agreement shall contain such provisions as may be necessary to carry out the policy of this chapter, and may include provisions:

1. For the appointment of local control boards with such powers as are specified in the agreement.

2. For the raising of funds, derived available from all producers, distributors and manufacturers participating in any marketing agreement, and for the contribution of employees to the extent specified in the marketing agreement, not to exceed shall any assessment levied against any person exceed 5 mills per dollar of value of manufacturing milk or manufactured dairy products handled by him. From such assessments, there shall be paid to the commission such sum, not to exceed 1 mill per dollar value of sales, as may be necessary to defray the expenses incurred by the commission in carrying out the provisions of this article. The balance of such fees shall be retained by the local control board or as otherwise provided in such marketing agreement to be used by it to carry out the marketing agreement.

3. For the establishment of price levels and margins, and the fixing of prices to be paid producers, and the fixing of resale prices, in such manner as the agreement may provide.

4. For the establishment of a code of fair practices.

5. For sales stimulation and educational activities, provided that no such activities unfairly detrimental to other products shall be allowed.

6. Method by which agreement may be annulled.

739. Upon the signing of such marketing agreement by such persons as is provided for in section 737, the agreement shall be forwarded to the commission. Upon receipt of such agreement, the commission shall determine if the agreement has been signed by the proper number of persons and is in accordance with the provisions and purposes of this act. If determined that it is in such accordance, the commission shall make an order establishing a marketing agreement in the area affected, whereupon such an agreement shall become effective. If the commission determines that the agreement is not in such accordance, it shall reject it without prejudice to the formulation of a new agreement. Such agreement, when effective, may be modified in such manner as may be provided in such marketing agreement. After taking effect, the provisions of such agreement shall establish the standard of conduct for all persons engaged in any occupation or business regulated by such agreement.

Article 4. Licenses to Dealers in Fluid Milk and Manufactured Dairy Products.

740. After thirty days after the effective date of such marketing agreement, no person shall act as a dealer without first having obtained a license from the commission as provided in this article. The application shall state the name and address of the applicant and such details as to the nature of the applicant's business as the commission may require.

741. The "producer" who supplies milk only to distributors or manufacturers for processing, manufacture or distribution, and a "retail store" as defined in this chapter, shall not be classed as a "dealer" and shall be exempt from the provisions of this article. Such exemption shall in no wise exempt such person or persons from compliance with any other provisions of this act or any of the rules, regulations or orders established by the commission or any local control board under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. There is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of twenty thousand dollars to be expended by the commission when, as and if necessary in the performance of the duties herein imposed upon it. Said sum shall constitute a loan to said commission and shall be repaid in ten equal installments without interest.

SEC. 3. If any provision of this act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of this act, or the application of such provision to any other person or circumstance, shall not be affected.

act, or to transport an occupant who unlawfully possesses said drugs, and shall hold the same as evidence until a forfeiture has been declared or a release ordered as in this section further provided.

(b) Notice of seizure and intended forfeiture proceeding shall be filed with the county clerk and shall be served on all persons, firms or corporations having any right, title or interest in the automobile or other vehicle seized, hereinafter referred to as the "owners", in the following manner:

Upon each owner whose right, title or interest is of record in the Department of Motor Vehicles and upon each owner whose name and address is known, by mailing a copy of such notice by registered mail to the address as given upon the records of the Department of Motor Vehicles or to any other last known address of such owner; and upon all other owners, whose addresses are unknown, but who are believed to have an interest in said automobile or other vehicle, by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where such seizure was made;

(g) Whenever an automobile or other vehicle has been ordered forfeited to the State of California, it shall be turned over to the State Department of Finance, which shall deliver to the State Division of Narcotic Enforcement such automobiles or other vehicles as may be needed by the said Narcotic Division to enforce the provisions of this act.
